THE TWO HOUSES MEET, BUT NO QUORUM PRESENT.

The Supreme Court Meets Today and Adopts the Rules of the Territorial Court.

HELENA, Jan. 3.—[Special to the TRIBUNE.]—The houses met at noon in joint session. One ballot was taken which resulted as follows: Clark, 29; Maginnis, 27. The speaker announced that no quorum had voted and no choice resulted. Adjourned until 12 tomorrow. The supreme court met today at noon and adopted the rules in force by the territorial supreme court.

DEATH OF GENERAL GREENE.

The ex-Surveyor General Joins the "Immortal Throng"—A Notable and Honorable Career.

HELENA, Jan. 3.—At 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon occurred the death of ex-Surveyor General Greene, at his residence in Helena. This had been expected for several days, but was, nevertheless, a sad and severe blow to the family and very large circle of friends of the deceased. The malady which took the general gentleman away was Bright's disease of the kidneys, and the general was unaware of the presence of it until a very short time ago and too late to fight it.

BIOGRAPHICAL.

The deceased was born in the Georgetown district, South Carolina, on his father's plantation, Sept. 17, 1830. He graduated as a civil engineer from the College of Columbia that state, and followed that profession from 1853 until the war broke out. During the war he served as chief of engineers on Stonewall Jackson's staff. After the war he resumed his profession and was in charge of important work on the Mississippi levees. Later he was chief engineer of the New Orleans & Pacific road and held many positions of trust and responsibility in his chosen profession. In October, 1885, he was appointed by President Cleveland surveyor general of Montana, a position he filled acceptably to all. A few months ago he was succeeded by Major Eaton.

Gen. Greene was married in 1859 to Emeline, daughter of Col. Thos. Dabney, a noted cotton planter of Mississippi. He leaves a wife, two daughters and a son to mourn his loss. Gen. Greene was well known in Great Falls and the family have the sincere sympathy of many friends of the deceased here.

Jackson Will Fight the Champions.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Peter Jackson, the colored Australian pugilist, has sent a cable dispatch to the United States announcing his acceptance of the challenge of John L. Sullivan to fight for $1,000,000. He will sail for New York on January 18, on the steamer Adriatic.

Annexation in Favor.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 4.—There is great rejoicing in the camp of those who are advocating closer trade and political relations with the United States. Sol White, ex-out and out annexationist, has been elected on that ticket mayor of the old conservative town of Windsor, Ont. This is the first signal of victory, and by many is believed to be the beginning of the end as regards the ultimate political destination of Canada. Sol White is ranked among the ablest leaders in the dominion.

The Lea Trust Progressing.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The movement in the lead trust is attracting attention. Harvey Durant bought 3,000 shares today. J. W. Davis bought 4,000 shares. The lead trust company is preparing to make public its true condition. The general impression has been that its capital was $84,000,000, but officials say it is only $89,000,000.

Wardner Destroyed by Fire.

SPOKANE FALLS, Jan. 5.—The town of Wardner, the principal camp of the Cour d'Alenes, was almost wholly destroyed by fire on Saturday. The loss is placed at $100,000. When the flames broke out in a laundry it was found that the reservoir was dry and the creek frozen over, so no water could be obtained, and the fire had to be fought with snow.

Prohibition Not Prohibiting.

SPOKANE FALLS, Jan. 4.—A. J. Edgerton, United States district judge, is in the city. In regard to the action of the saloon men in keeping open, the judge said he didn't know of any course which could be pursued to close them. The legislature attached a penalty to the prohibition law. The above admission, coming as it does, from such a well known prohibitionist as the judge, is of considerable importance.

Wholesale Embezzlement.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The hearing of Ouzo Y. Cortez, the Cuban official who was arrested charged with embezzlement, went over in consequence of the accused not having had sufficient time to see or employ counsel. Cortez for a number of years was, it appears, secretary of the bureau of public debt of Cuba. The charge against Cortez is that he left Cuba carrying with him $200,000 belonging to the company and coupons taken from the bonds valued at $300,000.

THE UPPER BELT COUNTRY.

Thoughts of the Old and the New Year—Farming Notes.

The Upper Belt country is now robed in a mantle of snow. Every mountain is a snow palace. Every gorge and coulee a bed of crystals. The cliffs are dazzling gateways to the palaces beautiful, and it seems as if all nature was enshrouded in these pure white vestments, ready to be laid upon the bier, another dying year! Another dying year, almost gone, with its myriads of promises unfulfilled, of hopes deferred until hearts were sick therewith, of care and struggle and strife, with which the year has been rife with political turmoil and blasphemous broil, leaving duty undone and justice forgotten; with duty greed dominant and principles rotten. Yet from the grave of the life, and from the throes of this unnatural birth, the new year will come forth the stronger for its wrestling, the better for its hallelujah.

A more pleasing picture would be suggested were we to fancy these white draperies, which encompass us round, as bridal robes in which to meet the coming year, wedding the past to the future, building anew the glorious hopes which hallow all such unions, and finding a horoscope more dazzling than the most heart dark foreboding. We see the new year fraught with blessings showered lovingly, unparaphrasing and ungrudgingly upon the new born child of the mountains. See her wealth of gold and silver shadowed forth in a charmed garden for the final supremacy, an aureole of splendor crowning her fair head. Her agricultural possibilities pouring forth from a full cornucopia and earth and sky and sea yielding homage to the fruits of this mighty bridal, the old and the new, the past and the present, the good, the brave and the true.

SOCIAL FESTIVITIES.

The upper Belt region has had its social successes during the merry Christmas time. The party given by Lamb brothers at Mardin's was a very pleasant affair; well managed and well attended. The Christmas dance at Kibbey, was a roaring success. Barker treated her guests to light rye and whiskey, pouring forth from a full cornucopia and earth and sky and sea yielding homage to the fruits of this mighty bridal, the old and the new, the past and the present, the good, the brave and the true.

A GENTLE REMINDER.

Now, if I were to follow the policy lined out by the Leader correspondent, I would proceed to puff all the subscribers to the TRIBUNE. Truly, are there no intelligent men in your midst, that are not wretched for that last evening's performance? Look the ground over carefully and you may find in some of those same coulees you mention, some "mute, inglorious Milton," who neither swears by the Bible, nor the Hump. KRAMER, Dec. 29, 1889.

DEATH OF F. M. TOLLIVER.

He Dies From the Effect of a Shock, Caused by the Bursting of a Pully. On December 28, while standing near his saw mill, on Tillinghast creek, a pulley burst and struck near Mr. F. M. Tolliver (without striking him), causing him a severe shock. He soon afterwards complained of being sick at his stomach, but said he had not been hurt and would soon be all right. About 3 p. m. he went to bed, still very sick. He went to sleep during the night and did not awake next morning. At 8 p. m. Sunday attempts were made to awaken him, but without success. Doctors from Nelhart and Witte Sulphur springs were brought, but all their efforts were useless. He remained in a comatose condition until 7 p. m. Jan. 1, when he quietly passed away. The doctors decided that a blood vessel had been ruptured at the base of the brain, caused by the shock from the bursting of the pulley.

The remains were brought to this city and the funeral took place at 2 p. m. today, Rev. J. Anderson officiating. Mr. Tolliver leaves a wife and two children, who are in Arkansas and are not yet apprised of the husband and father's death.

GREAT FALLS WEATHER.

The Record of December, 1889—Only Three Days of Below-Zero Weather.

The following shows the record of the thermometer for every day of December, at the hours of 6 a. m. and 12 m., as kept by Mr. E. W. King, superintendent of the water works:

During the month there were but three days that the mercury went below zero, and then only to five degrees below. Light snow fell on five days. The wind was in the southwest (the chinook quarter) 25 days. The sun was seen every day of the month, but it was partly cloudy 11 days. What other section of our country can surpass this for weather?

APPROVES THE PLAN.

THE PRESIDENT ENDORSES WINDOM'S SILVER SCHEME.

Death of Gen. Greene of Helena—Jackson Will Fight Sullivan—Wardner Destroyed by Fire.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—A Washington special to the Sun says that the president has made up his mind about Secretary Windom's silver policy, outlined in the secretary's annual report. The president has adopted Secretary Windom's view of the subject and goes even further than Mr. Windom in his approval of the project. The president was not chary in the expression of his approval of the measure to a prominent politician, from whom the information was obtained. A bill embodying the recommendation of the secretary will be submitted to congress very soon. It is likely to be offered simultaneously in both houses. Its fate in the house is problematic. There is little doubt that a majority of the republican senators and some of the democratic members of the senate favor the bill, and it is likely first to pass that body.

All Endorsed.

BUTTE, Jan. 3.—Shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon private telegrams from Helena announced the choice of T. C. Power for the second United States senator on the second ballot. The news spread like wild fire and was soon the sole topic of conversation in the city. The report was not given credence by republicans for some time, as it was considered an absolute certainty that a western man would be elected from among the many names. When doubt was no longer possible, the republicans began to use expressions which would not look nicely in cold type.

Said one: "Charley Warren once called Montana the territory of Helena. I guess he called the turn, only it seems now to have become the state of Helena."

Another one said, "I think it is an outrage, and I don't see how it can be made right. West Side republicans may as well take notice and move to No. 700 Main street."

A third remarked, "Let us get the pan handle of Idaho and organize a separate state. It is our only show to any representation."

Still another said, "The representatives in the legislature will have a hard time getting square with the people on this matter. Men who twelve months ago, and never been heard of in politics, men concerning whom the majority of the people of Butte will today ask the question whether they are democrats or republicans, have been allowed to dictate what the republican party of the state should do."

And so the comment passed from one republican to another. The democrats are jubilant, and claim that the result is the result of the West Side having a blow from which it will never recover, and the republicans are still too mad to contradict them. There is no telling what will be the opinion of republicans on second thought, but the above is a truthful representation of their present feeling.

WHAT WEST SIDE MEN SAID.

HELENA, Jan. 3.—In the republican joint assembly yesterday Witter made a powerful speech for the West side and said that the republican party had aimed a blow at the cause of labor by defeating one of its champions.

Other members spoke in a similar strain. Roberts and Hoffman said that the West side had been ignored without cause. Monteah regretted the action of the majority, but all the west side agreed to abide by the voice of the majority. Had Richards but said the word "no," the majority would have been elected, but the lieutenant governor expected the lightning to strike him and refused to support Mr. Austin.

Bray and Dolman were for everybody to be made and cared nothing for the west side interests. Eastern and Northern Montana were sold for Mantle. If Dolman and Bray had stood in a west side man would then have been elected, but they did not. Hoffman, Roberts, Thompson and Monteah were loyal, but Bray and Dolman went back to the west side, and so Helena gets two senators.

Parnell to Retire.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Edmund Yates' cable says that the statement about the arrangement between Gladstone and Parnell for concerted action at the next session is all moonshine. Parnell is so unwell that his appearances will be few and far between. His health for some time has been very unsatisfactory, and of late it has been growing worse. He is suffering from a malady which is attended with fits of severe mental depression. He is wholly unequal to the work which his subordinates are ignorantly trying out for him. The charge against Mr. Parnell in the divorce case will necessitate his temporary retirement from the leadership of the party, which for a time, will pass into the hands of Mr. Parnell's friend, Justice McCarthy, but the policy will be directed by Dillon. There are those who think that if Mr. Parnell gives up the leadership he will never be permitted to resume it as several of his lieutenants have shown active signs of revolt.

Going it Alone.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The New York merchants have taken the law into their own hands. They have dispatched the schooner George W. Miller for San Bias with some explicit instructions.

A Salt Trust Formed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The proposed international salt trust has been organized with a capital of $20,000,000, and was yesterday incorporated under the laws of this state. Prices of salt will be advanced ten cents a barrel immediately. Another increase in price will shortly follow.

BELT CREEK METROPOLIS.

(Special Correspondence of the TRIBUNE.)

HELENA, Dec. 31st, 1889. A new town has just been staked out by H. I. McIntyre in this vicinity, which bids fair to become a place of considerable magnitude at no distant day. The name of the town has not been decided upon, but it is presumed it will be named Arrington, after one of the founders. It is situated 22 miles east of Great Falls on the Nelhart branch of the Manitoba R. R., near the junction of Otter and Belt creeks, on the main wagon road to the Judith Basin country, and will be the shipping point for that rich vast section of country. There is no point more adapted to the shipping of stock than this, as there is an abundance of range and water conveniently close.

There are seven or eight fine coal prospects near the town. The coal is of splendid quality and the more they are developed, the better the quality. The Manitoba company have put in two switches at this place for the purpose of handling this coal and will put up a depot for receiving and delivering freight for the Judith Basin. Otter creek and the Wolf creek mining region.

J. T. Arrington has put up a coke oven of fine brick with a view of testing the coal for cooking purposes. The best experts from abroad and at home assert that it will be a success. Some of Arrington, the founders of the town, are men of means and abundance of energy and are not afraid to spend both in making the town a success.

There is now a big inquiry for business and residence lots. As soon as the plot is filed and accepted by the board of commissioners, the property will be put upon the market.

Montana's Greatest Mine.

The greatest copper mine, the greatest silver mine and the greatest gold mine in the world are located in Montana, being respectively the Anaconda, Granite Mountain and Drum Lumber. The first is located in Silver Bow county within half a mile of Butte; the second in Deer Lodge county near Phillipsburg; the third in Lewis and Clarke county at Silverville. The Anaconda is described elsewhere. The Granite Mountain is the best dividend paying mine on the continent. It pays $200,000 per month to the stockholders. The Drum Lumber produces from $20,000 to $100,000 per month and pays quarterly dividends of about $100,000.—Butte Inter-Mountain.

Bound to Kill Him.

PARIS, Jan. 3.—A St. Petersburg paper gives the details of the recent discovery of another rihlist plot for the czar's assassination. The crime was so he have committed at the imperial palace and a number of people connected with the palace were in the plot and were arrested in the corridor. One conspirator resisted and was shot dead by an officer of the imperial guard.

Girls as Press-Feeders.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—The strike of the press-feeders in the city printing offices is now in full blast. All the big offices have stopped their machinery and are advertising for press-feeders. Boys and girls are offered good wages to take the places of the strikers.

A Milk Pipe Line.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The latest pipe scheme, started in Middletown, Orange county, N. Y., proposes to send milk to the oil pipe-line of the Standard and other companies. The projectors talk of raising $600,000 and of collecting all the milk within 100 miles of New York so as to keep up a perpetual stream of fresh milk delivered in the city, avoiding the delays of railroad transportation and cheapening the cost.

May Defeat Brice.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 4.—The opposition candidates are joining forces against Brice. There are lively times here.

SEATE SIFTINGS.

General Manager Ives of the M. C. R. R., is in St. Paul. Prince Russell has returned to Helena, but will return to Washington in a few days.

To Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCabe of Helena, a nine-month daughter. "I like that!"

Northern Pacific trains from the west are delayed as much as 24 hours on account of snow blockades in the Idaho division, where the snow is badly blockaded.

Judge McHattan opens court in Silver Bow county today. The contest for the Sheriff's office will be the sensation of the hour. Sullivan will doubtless be recognized by the court. The matter is likely to go to the supreme court for final decision.

The Hotel Broadwater will be closed this week until spring. The motor line gave unsatisfactory service and to remedy this Col. Broadwater and other capitalists will construct an electric line between Helena and the Hotel, and thus afford quick and prompt communication between the two places.

David Marks, the ever popular manager of the Independent, took his departure yesterday for San Francisco, where, within the next few weeks, he will make his annual and accomplished young lady. His newspaper and many other friends will all join in wishing him unlimited happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Marks will return to Helena in February.

Mr. W. D. Wheeler of the Dearborn has been appointed the member from this state of the U. S. assay commission, which assembles in Philadelphia in February. Mr. W. was for several years connected with the assay office at Helena. The members of the commission have their actual expenses paid, but receive no salary.

The business done at the Helena land office in December includes 45 cash entries, 18 desert land entries, nine final declaratory, 41 mineral entries, 24 homestead entries, 29 timber culture entries, 58 pre-emption filings, seven coal land filings, one soldiers and sailors claim, 18 mineral applications and seven adverse claims.
