A Public-Spirited Offer.
A bid for a Big Building—A Quarter Million Dollars Offered in Insurance.
Mr. James Haven left for New York this afternoon after a visit during which he did considerable business and prepared plans for large transactions.
Mr. Haven is convinced that the Equitable Insurance Company, one of the greatest corporations in the world, may erect a large building here on receiving due encouragement. Accordingly he has consulted leading citizens and goes to New York with $200,000 pledged. That is the citizens of Great Falls agree to take insurance to the amount of $200,000 provided the company undertakes to erect a building here like those which it has constructed elsewhere.
Twelve citizens promise to take policies for $15,000 each. Thirteen will take policies for $5,000 each.
Mr. Haven, very liberally, agrees that any commission accruing from the transaction shall be devoted to the public good in Great Falls.

NEW REVENUE RULES.
Some Changes in the Law Relating to Assessments.
As the assessor has commenced his annual round among the people, the changes in the revenue law, under the constitution, will be of general interest.
A STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.
One of the important innovations, and an excellent one, is the creation of the state board of equalization. The governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor and attorney general constitute the board. They have organized as a board and published their rules and regulations for the information of the officers and people of the state.
The duty of the state board of equalization, according to the constitution, is to adjust and equalize the valuation of taxable property within their respective counties. For example, it will be the duty of the state board to see that a like kind of stock is not assessed at a higher rate in Cascade than it is in Chouteau county. Railroad assessment is wholly under the control of the state board. A county board of equalization has no authority to change any assessment made by the state board.
IMPORTANT CHANGES.
The revenue law as amended March 16th, 1890, providing that "the property owned by each individual on the 1st day of April of each year shall be listed and assessed" is repealed by the constitution. The assessor may now list and assess property found at any time up to the close of the assessment year.
The exemption in section 11 of the revenue law of the Fifteenth Extraordinary Session, provides that "in making up the amount of credits which any person is required to list, he will be entitled to deduct from the gross amount, the amount of all bona fide debts owing by him," has been repealed by the constitution.
Important changes have been made in the law relating to the assessment of property belonging to railroad corporations. Assessors will assess all property of any character, including the franchise, belonging to any railroad corporation operated exclusively within their county, except franchises granted by congress, which are exempt from taxation. Assessors will also assess all the depot, station grounds, shops, buildings, gravel beds, and other taxable property situated within their counties, of railroad operated in part within the county, and not included in the franchise, roadway, roadbed, rails, or rolling stock thereof. The State Board of Equalization will assess the franchise, roadway, roadbed, rails, and rolling stock of all railroads operated in more than one county in the state.

After sowing the mixture he puts some of it at the prairie dog holes. The dogs eat the stuff readily because of the sugar in it and die.
Messrs. White & Matthes, owners of the Sleeper beds in the vicinity of Neilhart, received a handsome offer for their property yesterday. This claim claims some of the best developed mines in Neilhart, including the Moulton, Flag Staff and Dakota. Besides showing rich mineral, this claim is valuable for building purposes.
The stockholders of the Great Falls & Canada railroad met at the Park hotel today. They elected the following directors: Donald Grant, W. A. Barr, D. W. Grant, A. F. Kinsman and Sam Grant. The directors organized and elected Donald Grant president; W. A. Barr, secretary, and Sam Grant, treasurer. Mr. Grant says the work is going on satisfactorily.
Mr. R. H. McLean, superintendent for A. X. Rye & Co., bridge builders of Minneapolis, is a guest at the Milwaukee house. The plans for the foundations of the lower Sun river bridge is about all done and the foundations of the bridge will be completed next week. Two cars of iron are expected next week. The bridge will be ready for travel about May 10th.
The miners of Snow creek have been at work all winter and have uncovered some valuable properties. The Seid brothers have run a 200 foot tunnel in the Jennie Whipple and have a large amount of high grade ore on the dump. They have been working six men all winter. Mr. Briggs has over 100 tons of ore on the dump at the Ripple. Messrs. Paul, Roehl and Kleznie had four men at work in their mine during the winter and have made a splendid showing. The ore found in this creek is in combination with crystal quartz and is free smelting and a portion of it free milling.

There are about a dozen slacks and tents at Black Eagle falls as well as a frame house. The grading has been completed at the site of the dam but there are some small trees to be built and some grading to be done. Timber "horsets" have been placed alongside the river and will be used in building the dam. The river is not flooded and seems well adapted for carrying on the work with vigor.
Mr. I. H. Hatfield, who will open a harness and saddlery establishment on Third street, next door to the Montana Central Meat Market, is in the city preparing for business. He has been located at Dillon for several years and succeeded in building up a fine business at that place. His goods will arrive here in a day or two and immediately thereafter he will put them in place and open his doors to the purchasing public. Mr. Hatfield is a practical saddler and knows just what the Montana cow-boy and rancher wants in his line.

THE STORY OF A YEAR.

Yesterday afternoon Charles McGeedy was driving in a buggy across the wagon bridge when about half way across one of the horses became restless. Mr. McGeedy made a strong effort to control him and hurt his hands severely in doing so. In a few moments both horses became unmanageable and broke away from the buggy which fell to pieces throwing out Mr. McGeedy and Mrs. Tillie Sheridan. People came promptly to their assistance and found that Mr. McGeedy had received severe injuries on the head. Mrs. Sheridan's arm was broken below the elbow. Dr. Newman rendered surgical aid to both and they are making fair progress. The horses kept running as far as Black Eagle falls where they were stopped. There was a wagon on the west side of the bridge at the time of the accident, but the horses kept clear of it in their flight. It is supposed that the stranger in the bridge started the first horse that became unruly, but there is no reason why it should not be the case as well as in the middle of the bridge. As in most run-a-way accidents, the cause will always be in doubt. The buggy and team were from the Eclipse stable.
