

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

SPRAY OF THE FALLS.

Burghardt & Frary sold yesterday lots 6 and 7 in block 482 and lot 4 in block 408.

The central committees of the two parties were around yesterday among the faithful soliciting financial aid.

Word arrived late last night from Neihart that Sidney Culvert of this city was dying in that town, of pneumonia.

Walter Dunn yesterday filed final receipt for the northeast quarter of section 11 in township 18, north of range 8 east.

The clerk of the district court yesterday issued a marriage license to Richard S. Blain of Belt and Maggie Hutchinson of the same place.

Mary Knowles of Grafton yesterday filed a water right location for 600 inches of Lone Tree creek in section 28, township 18, north of range 10 east.

Again last night after midnight the city lights were all out and Egyptian darkness prevailed. Something must be wrong when this happens twice in succession.

There was one arrival at the Park hotel yesterday not noted in the list published elsewhere. It is a girl, and mother and daughter are doing well. Julius is the happiest man in the city.

C. W. Caverly, of the late firm of Harding, Martin & Caverly of Boston, is in the city. This is the firm of which Mr. H. M. Martin, whose sad death was recently chronicled in these columns, was for many years a member.

Robert Smith, at one time United States district attorney for the territory of Montana, and at present a leading democratic politician and prominent attorney of Helena, came down from the temporary capital yesterday.

George Drow, accused of stealing some tools from the Commercial hotel, was brought before his honor, Judge Hay, and bound over by that official to await the action of the district court. Meanwhile he will board with Joe Hamilton.

Edward Riley, accused of helping himself to some of Lloyd's meat, was arraigned before Judge Hay yesterday on the charge of grand larceny and bound over to the district court. As he could not furnish bonds, he was sent over to the county jail.

William Loftus, who was accused of looking on the wine while it was red, to such an extent that he couldn't preserve his equilibrium, was brought before the police magistrate yesterday and fined $10 and costs. Being unable to pay the same he was sent to jail.

It was reported yesterday that work would be pushed on the Paragon proper and Top Hand mines about the list of May. These properties are very promising and will attract considerable attention during the coming season among mining men and speculators.

The papers in the following new suits were filed with clerk Cockrell yesterday: Jozina Jagger vs. Henry Jagger, divorce; Thomas Ashton vs. Great Falls Street Railway company, damages $5,000; Rodrick McLeod vs. Geo. N. Dickinson, appeal from Justice Rice's court.

The colored sergeant from Fort Shaw, who was around town a few days ago looking for two deserters in this city and received orders to go to Grand Forks after the delinquents, returned yesterday with them. He had them armed together and escorted them to the post in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Clark gave a pleasant entertainment to a large number of friends at their residence on Fourth avenue north last evening. "Cards and music" was the order of the evening, and all enjoyed the same to the fullest extent. It was in a measure, a christening party in honor of the very youthful Miss Clark.

Milwaukee house arrivals: William Worth, Dennis Mullane, St. Paul; Mrs. E. W. Allen, Mrs. J. E. Deminger, Barker; G. C. Hopkins, Benton; Oscar J. Ohmger, S. H. Dennis, Benton; Henry Duranzen, John Robinson, Helena; A. H. Ross, H. J. L. Roy, Barker; M. Flood, Box Elder; B. O. Farrar, Maiden; S. M. Eiders, Lake City, Minn.

President Hill of the Great Northern, accompanied by other prominent railroad officials, reached Havre yesterday morning and went out on the extension. After examining the big trestle at Cutbank and other recent improvements they returned to the main line and started for Great Falls. It was expected they would reach this city late last night or early this morning. They will spend the day looking around here.

Charles Tongway, a carpenter, well-known in Great Falls, having lived here three or four years, died last evening of congestion of the lungs brought on by a severe attack of pneumonia. His death was very sudden. He was taken sick at the home of John Talbott last Monday, where everything possible was done to minister to the comfort and care of the sufferer. He was about 30 years of age and unmarried. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

John Doyle yesterday filed his official bond for the office of city scavenger. James Ennis is also associated with Mr. Doyle under the firm name of Doyle & Ennis. By a perusal of the ordinance creating this office, which we publish today, it is necessary that the occupants of stores, dwellings, etc., shall remove, or cause to be removed, all garbage or refuse to a pile of not less than $5 or more than $20 for every offense. It is unlawful for any other person than the above to engage in the business of collecting or hauling garbage.

Joseph C. Taylor of Goodman Coulee brought seven coyotes and one bob cat pelts in to the district clerk's office yesterday and received the usual bounty certificate for the same.

The will of James Stone, deceased, was admitted to probate yesterday and Thomas E. Brady was appointed executor. A. F. Longway, William Kirby and E. W. King were appointed appraisers.

Rev. Frank M. Clendenin, a brother of Richard Clendenin of Martinsdale, is announced, is soon to wed Miss Gabriel Greeley, daughter of the late Horace Greeley, founder of the New York Tribune.

The members of the H. O. O. club in a body accepted the hospitality of Superintendent Dickinson of the street railway and took a trip over the line to the power house and returned yesterday afternoon.

According to the Chicago Tribune of the 6th inst., quite a number of Montana people were stopping there at the big hotels of that city, including J. H. McKnight of this city, who was registered at the Grand Pacific.

The last carload of ore shipped from the Florence mine at Neihart brought $1,212. There was less ore in this shipment and silver lower than at any time yet the carload brought more, which speaks well indeed for the property.—Husbandman.

Mr. J. M. Boardman, of this county, is now taking the invigorating ozone of Deer Lodge, which he finds is peculiarly adapted to his constitution. We are informed that a long anticipated happy event in Mr. Boardman's life is soon to be realized.—River Press.

Mrs. Louis Heitman left Friday last accompanied by her three daughters, Lela, Helen and Grace, for Helena, from whence they go to Baltimore for a three months' visit. The object of the trip is to take one of the children to a hospital to be treated for throat trouble.—Husbandman.

The poll tax required to be collected by the assessor is the tax heretofore denominated as a poor tax, and every man between the ages of 21 and 60 is liable for the same, and the assessor is required to seize anything, even a man's blankets, and sell same in three hours if the amount is not paid on demand.

The Silver Bow club of Butte was formerly opened in their new quarters Friday evening, and the reception was a grand affair, although we doubt whether or not it came up to the Rainbow club reception. If the Silver Bow people want to see something fine in the way of a club we would advise them to come to Great Falls.

Charles Tongway, the young carpenter who died at the Milwaukee house Friday night, was buried yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. He had been in Great Falls for the last three or four years, and so far as could be learned, had no relatives in this part of the country. Several years ago he worked at his trade in Jefferson county in the vicinity of Wickes and Gregory. The funeral was well attended.

Con Wright of the firm of Wright, Park & Co., proprietors of the Great Falls Livery company, has sold his interest in the stable and will go out to Utah Wednesday to engage in the sheep business. Con was recently married, though he kept the affair so quiet that none of the papers learned of it till several days had elapsed. We mention the fact at this late day to inform the fair ones of the Judith basin that he is no longer a Benedict.

Superintendent Harris of the Butte Commercial company received telegraphic notification yesterday afternoon to the effect that George Sewell who has charge of the company's logging camp at Sheep creek, was dangerously shot by one of the men on Friday. The wounded man was taken to White Sulphur Springs where he is receiving the best of medical assistance. The dispatch also stated that the wound might prove fatal, though at that time the physician was unable to give a careful diagnosis of the case. Sewell is well known in this city and his possible fatal illness is sadly deplored by all. We were unable to learn the origin of the shooting, as the telegram did not go into details.

Mary Ann Flood took out her first papers yesterday.

Johnny Murphy came in from Neihart on last Sunday's train.

Phil Walsh and Steve Pierce of Neihart are guests at the Bristol.

Deputy United States Marshal Terhune returned Sunday from a business trip to Neihart.

There was a new arrival at the home of T. A. Jones, the jeweler, Sunday morning. It is a fine twelve-pound boy.

Mr. Lawler made some heavy sales in his mining shares. He has good stock for sale. See him before you buy.

Do not forget to call at the Palace Lunch Counter for your regular dinner. The best dinner in town for 35 cents.

J. H. McKnight returned yesterday from an extended eastern trip. He looks hale and hearty and much improved in health.

Carpenters, paper-hangers and painters have transformed the Bristol into one of the best appointed and neatest hotels in the city. Its table is first-class and supplied with every delicacy in the market.

Neihart Herald: In '82, J. L. Neihart traded a half interest in the Fairplay mine for ten days' work. The property is now worth $500,000 and is not for sale at any figure. And still the development amounts to very little. Who says it does not pay to mine?

Baum & Bishop, as attorneys for Henry P. Berg, filed suit yesterday against the Boston & Montana company for $10,000 damages. Berg was employed as a common laborer in the Boston & Montana stone quarry and was badly injured by a blast.

Quite a contingent from Waukesha, Wis., arrived in the city today, headed by the invincible Great Falls boomer, Mr. R. E. Labor, who is largely interested at this place. With him came E. C. Park, Clarence Waite, Walter Catlin and John Harland, and all expect to become citizens of Great Falls. Mr. Park has already made arrangements to locate in Great Falls and will become in proper time one of our leading attorneys.

George H. Sewell, the superintendent of the Sheep Creek camp of the Butte & Montana Commercial company, who was shot by a workman and taken to White Sulphur Springs for medical treatment, an account of which appeared in last Sunday's TRIBUNE, was resting easier yesterday. It was found that he was shot three times—once in the arm, making an ugly flesh wound, once in the breast, the bullet striking a rib and glancing off, and once in the side, the bullet going clean through the man. How it missed striking a vital point is a miracle. His ultimate recovery is yet a matter of serious doubt.

ABOUT AN EVEN THING.

Democrats Elect Two and the Republicans Two of the City Officers.

Jere Leslie and C. H. Clark, Democrats, Elected Attorney and Treasurer, Respectively.

J. M. Gaunt, Democrat, Comes in With a Handsome Majority in the Third Ward.

The city election passed off quietly and pleasantly yesterday. From the beginning of the campaign to the end it was conducted fairly and without personalities, which is something unusual, considering that the esteemed Leader might have done otherwise.

The democratic candidates for mayor and police magistrate were defeated, but we elected our candidates for city attorney and city treasurer by handsome majorities, which may be considered a fair stand off. While the republicans elected a majority of the aldermen, the democrats may take a good deal of satisfaction in the fact that the Third ward, the stronghold of republicanism, elected a staunch democrat in the person of J. M. Gaunt.

As to the contest for the mayoralty, it may be said that Capt. Jensen made a clean and honorable fight. From the beginning to the close he had not a word to say against his opponent, and, although defeated, he can take to himself the satisfaction that he is beaten by a good citizen and a gentleman who will undoubtedly make a good mayor, as would Capt. Jensen, had he been successful.

The following is the official result of yesterday's balloting:

Table with columns for Ward (First, Second, Third, Fourth), Position (Mayor, Police Magistrate, City Attorney, City Treasurer, Alderman), and Candidates (Jensen, Hotchkiss, Leslie, Pomeroy, Murphy, Moorhouse, Clark, Heldt, Burgett, Carrier, Gaunt, Johnson, Nalbach, etc.) with corresponding vote counts.

DR. FAIRFIELD INTERVIEWED.

He Says the Stories of Unusual Sickness on the Line of the Great Northern Extension Are Untrue.

Dr. J. H. Fairfield, contract surgeon on the Pacific extension, who returned to the city yesterday, after an absence of several months, informs us that the rumor started about the prevalence of sickness along the line of the new road are totally false. He says that since the company began construction last September only twelve deaths have been recorded, which is a remarkably good showing, considering the great number of men constantly employed. No deaths can be attributed to the lack of proper medical aid, as one and sometimes two physicians have been in the field, ready to attend to any who were unwell. The doctor further states that a majority of the deaths were from pneumonia or prevailing grip—a disease which, during the past two months, has puzzled the best doctors of America. In short, the stories set afloat concerning the amount of suffering on the extension are wholly unfounded and deserving of no credence.

The Hook and Ladder Company Meet.

There was a meeting of the Pioneer Hook and Ladder company in the council chamber last evening. Ernest Ringwald presided and the following members were present: H. Ringwald, C. N. Dickinson, F. J. Pieper, James Burns, Joseph Herring and Charlie Cole.

A motion was made and carried to the effect that the city council allow the fire department for the hook and ladder truck and all the apparatus, and that the money so raised be set aside for all sick and disabled firemen belonging to the Pioneer Hook and Ladder company.

The following resolution was passed: Resolved, that this company hereby adopt the fire ordinance as passed by the council, and to that end renounce its independent character and resolved further that this company, with its present membership and officers, thereby reorganize under the same name, but under the control and government of the city of Great Falls, provided the preceding motion relative to the disposal of the truck and apparatus be acceded to.

A motion was put and carried to the effect that the chief and his assistant and the secretary be empowered to confer with the city council in appraising the truck and apparatus with full authority to act on the same.

Mineral Hill Matters.

D. W. Rice is down from Mineral Hill, where he passed the winter. The snow was so deep that he could not come out on the direct trail from there, but was obliged to take the circuitous route by way of Shoup, Salmon City and Red Rock, where he took the cars for home.

E. E. Byers, a Mineral Hill miner, was in town Monday, and is enthusiastic about the prospects of that district this year. He says a Baltimore company are going to take hold and work on the Buckeye, Solid Rock and Venus lode, in which he is interested.

The wagon road which will be constructed to Mineral Hill this year will greatly facilitate the development of the quartz bearing country. It is said the Idaho people at Shoup and vicinity are ready to contribute money and work to shove the enterprise through.—Bitter Root Bugle.

The Benton Group Again.

We understand that the difficulty over the Benton group of mines owned by the Gold, Silver, Platinum and Tellurium Mining company, has been settled. It will be remembered that T. E. Collins and Jerry Collins have long claimed an interest in these mines and have put up money regularly to pay for representation. But in the formation of the company they were, owing to some defect in the record, left out, whereupon T. E. Collins re-located the whole group. The members of the company, seeking to retaliate, re-located numerous other mines on the same grounds and placed an armed guard over their own claims.

The shooting scrape that occurred in consequence of this and the arrest of the parties has led to the compromise of the original difficulty.—Husbandman.

Montana Dividends.

Below is given the dividends paid by Montana mining companies during the month of March, and the total Montana dividends for the first quarter of the year:

Table listing mining companies and their dividends: Bald Butte, Bannister, Granite Mountain, Helena and Frisco, Helena and Victor, Iron Mountain, Drum Lammon, etc.

The Lion to Resume.

Capt. John Plummer recently inspected the Lion mine, Oro Fino district, at the instance of the directors, and upon the strength of that gentleman's report it has been decided to levy another assessment of 1 cent per share and resume the work of development. The necessary arrangements will be perfected and the work resumed not later than Wednesday, April 15.—Minor.

Fine Samples from the Bear Paws.

Hiram Umstott brought in some fine specimens of mineral bearing quartz from the Bear Paws. He claims to have discovered an extensive lode in the Eagle Bear district. Chinook Opinion.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

President J. J. Hill and Party Stop to Examine the Minneapolis of the Northwest.

THEY TAKE IN ALL THE SIGHTS.

The Giant Spring Proves a Wonderful Attraction to the Foreign Visitors.

They Examine the Great Enterprises Under Way at the Black Eagle Falls.

J. J. Hill, D. C. Shepard of St. Paul, J. Kennedy Tod of New York and three foreign capitalists arrived in town by special train early yesterday morning.

During the forenoon the distinguished party drove about the city. Those who have been here before were naturally astonished at the great improvements that have been made recently, and so expressed themselves. Afterwards the party went by train to Sand Coulee and made a thorough examination of the coal mines at that place.

Returning to Great Falls their train took them to the Montana silver smelter, which was examined as thoroughly as time would permit. The Giant spring was next visited, and those who were familiar with this wonder were much amused at the evident astonishment of the German strangers, whose very abundant stock of adjectives was completely exhausted long before they left the grounds.

Taking carriage, the party next drove to the Black Eagle falls where they inspected the immense dam and the vast improvements going on. Crossing the river on the suspension bridge, they had an opportunity to see the great flume and the enormous foundations of the stack on the butte, and the work that has been done on the Boston & Montana smelter.

At 4 o'clock p. m. the party left for Butte, where they will probably return to the east. They left Great Falls with the expressed belief in the future greatness of our young city, several times making the remark that here was to be the Minneapolis of the northwest. Mr. Shepard, who has not visited the city since last summer, was especially surprised at the marked improvement and growth of the town, as well he might be.

Mineral Hill Matters.

D. W. Rice is down from Mineral Hill, where he passed the winter. The snow was so deep that he could not come out on the direct trail from there, but was obliged to take the circuitous route by way of Shoup, Salmon City and Red Rock, where he took the cars for home.

The Great Delamar.

The sale of the great Delamar mine Owyhee county, Idaho, to a syndicate of English capitalists has been completed by the deposit at the Boise City National bank of $475,000 to the credit of Delamar. Besides the $475,000 Delamar he also holds 25,000 shares of stock which, at the present low quotation, are worth $1,030,000. Delamar is World's fair commissioner for Idaho. Two or three citizens of Great Falls are fortunate stockholders in the Delamar and will be interested in this bit of information.

A Promising Prospect.

The Martha, one of last season's notable discoveries at Wolf Butte, in the mountain region, owned by William Skelton and George Altor, is destined to create something of a sensation if the reports concerning it are to be relied upon. It is said to show three feet of solid, running high in silver. An extensive also makes a splendid showing at a depth of only six feet, where a four or five body is exposed. The vein is a fissure and is easily traceable the length of several locations.—Miner.

Progress of the Great Northern.

The Coulee City News says: Great Northern surveyors, under the direction of Mr. J. J. Hill, near Baldwin, came in last Monday to the summit and went into camp about eight miles east of here, near Harth. They will fill the gap between this place and the other preliminary near Great Coulee postoffice. When this is completed a true comparison can be made of each particular route, and the suspect that now hangs over so many will be moved and all doubts of the future settled.

The Florence Mine.

The shaft on the Florence at Neihart was down twenty-six feet at last accounts, and water was coming in at a rate of about fifty gallons per hour. It will require the working of three shafts in order to keep the water from accumulating, which will send the shaft down rapidly.—Husbandman.

Miss Helen Clark Commented.

Miss Helen P. Clark, who has been appointed special agent to superintend the allotment of lands among the Indians left Washington last evening to set upon the duties of her office. Miss Clark will take up her new work after experience that can not but make her valuable as a public servant in this new west. Many friends in Montana and the north west will take pride in the appointment of one so capable. Meagher County News.
