LATEST WAR NEWS.

BACKING DOWN.

Madrid, March 8.—The semi-official news agency of this city issued today the following announcement. "After a brief uneasiness there is a general belief that the peace will not be broken and the relations between Spain and the United States will continue amicable. Political personages assert the late sensational dispatches are completely wrong in attributing an aggressive tone to the diplomatic relations between the two governments which have not for a moment lost their friendly character."

AMERICAN VESSEL SEIZED.

Havana, March 8.—The Spanish gun boat Ardillabas captured in an inlet on the south coast of Cuba the American schooner Esther of Edenton, N. C., bound from Pensacola to Jamaica. The captain of the schooner was asked to give a reason for the presence of his vessel in the inlet and claimed his rudder was broken. No further details of the affair have been received but if the statement of the captain of the Esther turns out to be correct the schooner will be liberated. The captain has protested against the seizure of his vessel.

BIG RUSH TO ENLIST.

New York, March 8.—The Evening World says: It was learned today at the navy yard from Washington to prepare two detachments of marines, one for the cruiser Columbia and one for the Minneapolis. There was a big rush of men eager to enlist at the navy yard today. Before the gates were thrown open a crowd of men had gathered around eager to be the first to reach the recruiting office on the receiving ship Vermont.

ON BIG GUNS.

Washington, March 8.—The Washington navy yard where a large establishment is maintained by the government for manufacturing of guns and ordnance material, has started work in three shifts and the men are now working day and night on big guns.

MONTGOMERY LEAVES

Key West, March 8.—Orders have been issued to the Montgomery, which has finished coaling, to sail at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Commander Converse was on shore during the day and had a long consultation with Sicard.

WITH FLAGS FLYING.

A copyrighted cable to the Evening World from Havana says, "General Lee said last night: 'If Spain wishes to declare any or all of us persons non grata it is her privilege to do so but if we must leave town we will leave with the American flag flying and a brass band at the head of the procession.'"

The Blackfeet Reserve.

A Washington dispatch reaffirms the statement that thirty days' notice will be given prior to the opening of the mineral strip of the Blackfeet reserve. It is also stated that all intruders entering the reserve before the appointed time will be unceremoniously bounced by the authorities.

The Hersey Washington correspondence refers to the probable date of the opening as follows:

The Blackfeet reservation matter seems now to be settled and the decision of the commissioner not to open the reserve before April will meet with general approval. Senators Carter and Mantle have all the time favored delaying the opening until spring and the giving of sufficient notice in advance.

Less familiar with the customs of a mining country, perhaps, the commissioner without due thought decided upon the plan of making the opening coincident with the filing of the plats at Kalispell after approval here, which with ordinary promptitude would have meant the taking effect of the orders in winter weather and might have caused much suffering and loss of life.

In Loving Remembrance of Isabel May Messecar.

Lips we have kissed, they are faded and cold,
Hands we have clasped, will be covered with mould;
The form we have pressed, will wither away,
Gone to Heaven, is our dear little May.

Fair was the flower that bloomed in our home,
Bright was her presence, sweet as a rose's bloom;
Up to the gardens of beautiful day,
Softly the Death Angel bore her away.

Down where the waves of the river rolled high,
Sadly and softly we whispered good-bye,
Over the stream that seemed darker than night,
Sadly we saw her spirit take flight:

Over the stream came the boat-man so pale,
Came in a boat with a snowy white sail,
Quickly he bore her over the foam,
Gone is our dear one to her Heavenly home.

Soon will the shadows of earth life be past,
Sorrow and partings be over at last,
Soon we shall meet in the mansions of day,
Meet with our dear one, dear little May.

Queen of the Hills.

The following is taken from the Anaconda Standard of the 3rd:

"This afternoon a delegation composed of W. J. Smith, A. D. Edward, George S. Bailey, Charles Warmbrod, John Ritchie and R. Woodmansie came down from Nehart for the purpose of taking the encampment degree, I. O. O. F. One of the delegation, Mr. Bailey, has recently bought a lease on the Queen of the Hills, the firm name being Gans & Bailey. Mr. Bailey said this afternoon to the Standard man that the strike on the Queen was improving daily and was running in 300-ounce ore. The portion of the mine on which he and his partner are working is to the east of the strike already reported, but they are in the same ore and expect to make a good thing from their lease.

"Today a huge specimen of the ore weighing 520 pounds and valued at $4 was set up in the window of the office of W. G. Conrad and today has called out much admiration from passers and visitors. Brittle silver and pyrites of copper, rich in silver, crop out all over it, and the big lump is a most excellent advertisement of the silver mines of Cascade county. The rock is a spar formation, and crystals of spar and silver compounds alternate in the lump. It has been suggested that it be sent to the Omaha exposition to be placed with the Montana exhibit. The citizens of Great Falls generally rejoice at the good fortune of Mr. Conrad almost as he himself does. They naturally feel that a man who has acted as squarely as he has in the matter of the Northwestern bank failure is entitled to all that fortune brings him.

Speaking of clothing, if you get them from Geo. A. Fry and Co they will be all right.
