Ernest Truex in "OH, YOU WOMEN!"

WAT WILL HAPPEN WHEN THE BOYS COME HOME? SEE "OH, YOU WOMEN!"

One of the first thoughts that occurred to the citizens of every community when the great world war came to a close was, what will happen to the boys when they come home? Just as gigantic a task as it was to prepare the men to go overseas to fight for democracy, so, was it a gigantic task to take care of the thousands when they came back to their homes, where they had necessarily to be taken care of.

This idea not only has been the subject of the thesis for many great writers, but it has been the background idea of one of the best motion pictures that has ever been produced and which has been placed on the market by the Famous Players-Lasky corporation as an Emerson-Loos Paramount special.

Mr. Emerson and Miss Loos have written and produced the best "after the war" material that this country has seen in motion pictures, but their latest production "Oh, You Women!" which has its basic idea, "when the boys come home," is conceded to be the best satirical-comedy that has ever been made for the screen.

They have taken cold facts and made merry with them. In every community we have heard of the farmerette, the girl who became motorman and conductor, some who were postwomen and the like, but the rub of it all was, "what will happen when the boys come home?" Mr. Emerson and Miss Loos foresaw it all, and made it into a picture that has a comedy appeal of exceptional value, and which will be shown at the Ophpeum theatre next Wednesday, August 20.

These artists have produced some of the best comedy satires that have been made for the screen and their latest efforts have been accepted by the motion picture public as the most exceptional ever presented to the public.
