WILL NOT GET THEIR MEDALS

Members of the First Montana Who Served in the War in the Philippines Will Not Be Honored by a Tiny Remembrance From Uncle Sam Just Yet.

The members of the First Montana regiment who served in the Philippines will hear with regret that the present session of congress will not be able to reach the bill that has been introduced for the purchase and distribution of medals that were promised by the late President McKinley to all who served their country in the Spanish-American war. The bill appropriating money for the medals is now in the hands of the house committee on military affairs, and on account of the short time intervening between now and the adjournment of the session, March 4, the committee will not be able to report upon the measure at this session.

Senator Paris Gibson, who has taken an active interest in the matter, in the hope that the Montana boys will receive their medals as soon as possible, recently laid the matter before Secretary of War Root, and has received from that official the following letter:

"I have the honor to transmit herewith a bill, in the form of a joint resolution, authorizing the distribution of medals for service in the Spanish-American war and other campaigns.

Separate Medals.
The object of this joint resolution is to give to the army a similar medal to that granted to the navy by joint resolution of congress, No. 17, approved March 13, 1901, for services on the shores of Cuba and in the battle of Santiago.

"In framing the joint resolution there is contemplated separate medals for the Spanish war, the Philippine insurrection, and the China relief expedition; that there shall be a bar for each of the campaigns of Santiago, Porto Rico and Manila, properly inscribed, and worn attached to the ribbon of the medal.

"These medals are intended not only for the officers and soldiers, but for any persons who have been attached to the army and performed faithful service therewith.

All Entitled to Medals.

"All officers and soldiers in the service of the United States during the period of a war would be entitled to the medal of that war. Those serving in the separate campaigns of a war would be entitled to distinctive bars of that campaign in addition to the medal.

"The bill provides also a medal to reward those volunteers and regular soldiers who performed willing service in the Philippines after the war with Spain had ended, in spite of the fact that they were enlisted only for the term of the Spanish war. President McKinley, in his dispatch to General Otis, July 1, 1899, promised them a special medal.

"The details as to who shall receive these medals, what shall be their form, their material, their cost, is left to the president under the proviso that they be struck and distributed 'under regulations to be made by the secretary of war.

"The object of the provision for a distinguished service medal is to reward distinguished services which can not be rewarded with the 'medal of honor' authorized by act of March 3, 1863, for those 'who most distinguished themselves in action.'

Worth the Trouble.
"The campaign service medal is found in other armies to be a great aid to discipline and efficiency. The possessor is proud of it and dreads to disgrace it. It distinguishes veterans from recruits. It costs the government little, and is valued greatly by the soldier. It is compensation for the hardships of war. It adds to the reward of the soldier and thus facilitates recruiting.

"As a proof of faithful, patriotic services, it will be highly prized by all of our citizen soldiers who underwent the hardships of the Spanish-American war.

"It is estimated that 446,882 medals will be required to commemorate the services of the regulars and volunteers who served during the Spanish-American war, the Philippine insurrection, and the campaign for the relief of China. An appropriation of $100,000, therefore, will allow an average expenditure per medal of about 22 cents.

"The question has been considered at length by a board of officers, whose conclusions as to the necessity and propriety of such a medal in our service I have approved."

POOR OLD J. BULL; HE'S IN VERY BAD

LOST POSSIBLE ALLIANCE WITH UNCLE SAM AND GETS CHEATED BY THE GERMANS.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
London, Feb. 13.--The newspapers here are much dissatisfied because Germany is to receive $340,000 from Venezuela and England only $27,500. Germany, it is admitted, has every reason to chuckle.

The Daily Mail says the net result of the alliance is that the relations between England and the United States have been seriously embarrassed at a time when mutual sentiment is unusually friendly and when American opinion was beginning to favor the idea of a British alliance; and added to that incident, this country has been exhibited as still in German leading strings, to the injury of England.

The scratch of a pin may cause the loss of a limb or even death when blood poisoning results from the injury. All danger of this may be avoided, however, by promptly applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It is an antiseptic and unequalled as a quick healing liniment for cuts, bruises and burns. For sale by Paxson & Rockefeller, Newbro Drug Co., Christie & Lays, Newton Bros.

May Cause Coal Shortage.
Red Lodge, Feb. 13.--As a result of the breakdown in the electrical machinery department the Rocky Fork Coal company may be forced to close down for 30 days and a coal shortage may be the result. The scarcity will affect this section alone.

WANT RECIPROCITY

Italians Say Their Trade With This Country Warrants It.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
New York, Feb. 13.--Reciprocity with Italy and no restriction of immigration to this country were the keynotes struck by the speakers at the third annual banquet of the Italian chamber of commerce of this city.

Despite the Dingley high tariff law, President Antonio Zucca declared that Italy's exports to the United States had increased $6,000,000. He strongly urged the enactment of a broad treaty of reciprocity between this country and Italy, and said the measure before a committee of the senate calculated to check Italian immigration would work a serious injury to this country where Italians were the largest factor in railway and other construction work.

The Italian consul, Gen. M. Branchi, pleaded with his countrymen to strive to uphold the institutions of their adopted country and thereby reflect credit upon the land of their birth.

For Worthy Cause.

Bozeman, Feb. 13.--Petitions were circulated in this vicinity and $100 was raised and turned over to A. Sanquist of Springfield, whose home was burned on Wednesday. At the time that the fire destroyed the house Mrs. Sanquist was dead in one of the rooms and it was with a great deal of difficulty that the remains were gotten out.

SENATE ON THE INDIAN CLAIMS

Will Recompense the Loyal Creeks Whose Homes Were Destroyed in the Civil War--Open Fort Hall Lands for Settlement--Other Items.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Washington, Feb. 13.--The senate committee on Indian affairs yesterday concluded consideration of the Indian appropriation. The committee recommends a number of changes and its amendments add $1,488,185 to the agreement of the 1901 act passed by the house, making a grand total of $16,344,313. The most important item of increase is $1,200,000 to give awards to loyal Creeks, whose property was destroyed during the civil war.

The house appropriations for the pay of Indian agents at the following agencies were stricken out: Cheyenne and Arapahoe agency, Oklahoma; Kiowa agency, Oklahoma; Klamath agency, Oregon; Ponce and Pawnee and Oakland agency, Oklahoma and Umatilla, Ore.

The unsold lands of the Indian reservation at Fort Hall, in Idaho, which is within five miles of the town of Pocatello, are made subject to settlement and sale under the terms provided for the sale of the lands outside of the five mile limit.

Provision is made for the arbitrary allotment of the lands of the Uintah and White River Utes in Utah if they do not agree upon an allotment prior to June 1 next.

The time for opening the unallotted lands of this reservation is extended to October 1, 1904.
Crazing lands for those Indians is increased to 250,000 acres all south of Strawberry river. The act withholding from entry the Gilsonite and Asphalt lands of the Uncompagnie reservation in Utah is repealed and the entry of these lands under the mineral land laws is allowed. Authority is given to institute negotiations with the Utes of Colorado for the Mesa Verde lands containing the Cliff dweller ruins. The total government of the Seminoles is limited to March 4, 1906.

The court of claims is given jurisdiction over the claims of the Delaware Indian confederated bands of Utes of Colorado and Utah.

SHARP FUSILADE IN CROWDED STREET OF NEW YORK

Saloonkeeper and Pool-room Man Exchange a Few Shots.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
New York, Feb. 13.--There was a battle between two men with pistols in the Broadway theater district last night. The affair took place in front of the Sturtevant house. Nine shots were fired and one of the principals and a bystander were wounded. Neither wound is serious.

The battle which caused intense excitement along Broadway was started by Philip Black, a Harlem poolroom proprietor, who opened fire on Joseph Formel, a retired saloonkeeper, as the latter walked out of the Sturtevant house. There had been trouble between the men and apparently Black was looking for a victim.

Formel stood his ground, drawing a pistol and returning the fire. During the exchange a couple of spectators were seen to drop, but it was found later that only one of them had been hit. Then a Central office detective took a hand in the encounter and with the aid of other officers dragged the combatants to the police station.

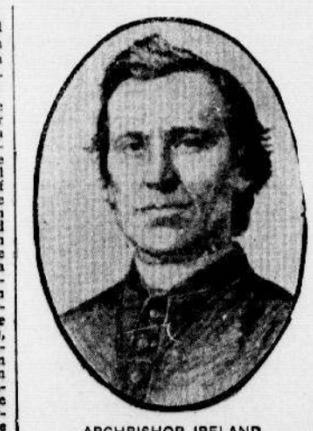

Black was shot in the left arm and his injuries were dressed by a hospital director. The spectator who was hit was Wright Kershaw, a postal clerk. He was shot in the foot.
Both Formel and Black were held for further examination.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND ON IDEALS THE AMERICANS SHOULD FOLLOW

Distinguished Catholic Prelate Says We Must Not Forget Lincoln and His Precepts.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Chicago, Feb. 13.--Archbishop Ireland was the guest of honor at a banquet given at the Auditorium hotel by the Lincoln club. In an address on Lincoln, Archbishop Ireland said in part:

"The republic is what she is because she has vitally remained what was intended her to be, what Lincoln made her to be, 'a government of the people, for the people, by the people.' All the men under the flag must be equal under the law, the civil rights, it matters not what his place of birth, what his religious creed, what the color of his face, if he is an American citizen, the laws of the land must shield him; the favors of the land must flow upon him. To announce, for instance, that the citizen who is black must not aspire to a political office, must not approach the ballot box, is to war against the American constitutions; to hold populations in perpetual tutelage, whether on our immediate continent or on islands beyond the seas, is to set aside Lincoln's principles. Delays may be counselled, for the question always calls for an answer. Are children to be made to walk as adults? Are populations incapable of self-government to be allowed, for their destruction, its privileges? But when the time comes these populations have ripened into self-governing manhood, the rights of the manhood must be theirs and meanwhile the mission of the flag is to hasten them toward such manhood. The day must be expected when our territories will be states; when our island possessions will be states. Abiding dependencies cannot be the appanage of a republic. The flag has been carried far beyond the America of Lincoln's day. This is as it should be; a great nation cannot but grow; occurrences will come to it, beyond its control, that will compel it to grow; it is for humanity that freedom-loving republics grow. I rejoice in the fullest political equality with myself and my fellow Americans shall be the reward of their loyalty and citizenship.

"The United States is by force of events an international power. She cannot isolate herself, her interests are amid all peoples and their interests are amid her people.
"And while we proclaim that no harm, no dishonor shall come to the republic from outside, let us guard well from enemies within her own bosom and see to it that we ourselves be not among such enemies, weakening by fatuous doctrines or perilous practice, the current of her life blood, rendering her less strong, less holy, less American."
Among the speakers of the evening were Senator-elect Hopkins and Congressman George E. Foss.
