

Butte Department. VICTORY FOR BUTTE The All Nebraska Team Goes Down By a Score of 22 to 0.

FIRST GAME OF THE SEASON It Was Particularly Noticeable That the Home Team Has Improved - Better Playing All Around - A Few Accidents.

Twenty-five hundred people witnessed the inauguration of the football season of 1896 yesterday afternoon and saw the All Nebraska team go down before the victorious Buttes by a score of 22 to 0. While all the conditions which surrounded the game were not as auspicious as could have been wished for, the enthusiasts derived a sufficient measure of happiness from the fact that their idols won the opening game of the season and, too, with a shut-out for their opponents. To begin with, the threatening weather served to keep a great many people away from the grounds, and at about the hour at which the game was announced to commence, by which time the clouds had cleared away to a great extent, several hundred people who were anxiously waiting up town for street cars to the battle ground were compelled to either walk down or go back home. For some reason or other the street car service was very poor, but for which fact the attendance would have been much larger. And finally the Nebraskas were so easy that the Buttes did not really have an opportunity to show their full capabilities. It was easily apparent, however, that the present Butte team is a great improvement over that of last season, both in its individual makeup and in team work, which is always the strongest point in football. The hard work of Captain Hooper and Manager McMillan has not been without good results was abundantly proved by the fact that the team work of the smoke eaters was very nearly perfect when all of the players went into it; and that they did not all get into it on every play is doubtless due to the fact that they had such an easy game. The same may be said of their interference, and for the same reasons it was brilliant and effectual at times, while at other times it was weak and ragged. There is a marked and gratifying improvement over last year however, in both the team work and interference and this improvement will continue until there is nothing left to be desired. In offensive play the Buttes were very strong and the weakness which showed itself at times when they were on the defensive is due to the fact that they have not as yet had a full second eleven to line up against. This difficulty will be remedied at once and the team's defensive play will soon be up to the high standard of its offensive play. When the Buttes had the ball they showed a confidence that knew no discouragement and they played a quick, snappy game. Great interest was also centered in the individual playing and all of the new players were closely watched. This was particularly true of Dygert, at left halfback and Benson at quarter, and their clever play in the field elevated them to the top notch in the approval of the public. Dygert bucked the line hard and with unflinching success, and his playing all around was of the brilliant order. Benson strengthened the team at a most vital point and one at which it has always been weak. He snaps the ball quickly and surely, and notwithstanding his small stature, he goes into every play and makes his presence felt. It took the crowd only a few minutes to realize that both Dygert and Benson are very valuable men and both were loudly cheered. McPherson, who for some reason was not given a chance last year to show what he could do, put up a great game at right end. He was all over the field and in every play and besides tackling hard and low he made good gains. Bob Ellis put up a strong game at the other end. Brahm, the new man at center, created a very favorable impression and successfully stood off an experienced and tricky opponent. Hooper, McMillan, Slater, Perham, Laswell and Gillis, the old men, played with the vigor and old-time vim and brilliancy and they all contributed largely to the success of the team. There was in fact not a weak spot in the team. Towards the close of the game several of the substitutes were given a chance to show their mettle. Among them Bartlett showed up particularly well. All of the Buttes showed a great improvement in their tackling and they seldom missed a pair of legs. The Nebraskas were clearly outclassed, and there was no time when they were in danger of scoring and breaking the goose egg. Several of Captain Thomas' best men disappointed him at the last minutes and their places had to be filled with men who were hurriedly picked up. There was a noticeable lack of team work and their individual playing was not of a startling order. Shedd and Hayward carried off the lion's share of the honors which fell to the losers. The visitors played for time almost from the start and the Buttes hit at the ball and did a great deal of talking with them. Hayward, the Nebraskas right tackle, sustained a broken collar bone in the first half. Lehmer had his nose broken in the second half and in the last play, D. Gay Stivers, who was at quarter, received a bad cut over the left eye. W. H. Armstrong was referee, Thomas Bowie umpire and A. J. Weaver of Omaha and Chet Smith of Butte, linesmen. The team lined up as follows:

Buttes the advantage of a strong wind on their backs. Fair kicked off for Gillis caught the pigskin on Butte's 15-yard line and with a great deal of artful dodging carried it back 25 yards. The smoke-eaters were desirous of sizing up the offensive work of their opponents, and the ball was passed to Lasswell, who punted it 72 yards down the field and when Fair finally fell on it, it was only two yards from the posts which were ornamented with the visitors' colors. The Buttes followed up the long kick in beautiful style and two or three of them dropped on Fair as he fell on the ball. The Nebraskas started in to buck the Butte line, but as they made no impression on it at the first attempt they changed their tactics. Heyron was sent around the left end and was carried down by Perham after a five-yard run. Shedd galloped off in the same direction, but before he got his legs well in motion Gillis nailed him. He gained eight yards, however, in the few jumps that he took. Fair hit Butte's center for two yards and repeated the play for three yards. Shedd essayed a sprint around the left end, but made no gain, but immediately afterwards gained a yard through the center. By a great streak of luck Fair dodged between Perham and McPherson and tore off 10 yards. McKell was given the ball for a right end run, but the mighty Bill Slater broke through the Nebraska line and carried the runner back three yards. Hayward started around left end, but had only taken two steps when McMillan had him down. Fair advanced the pigskin two yards around left end, but the gain was not large enough and Butte was given the ball on downs. The first play was a pretty one and one that gave Donald Gillis' admirers an opportunity to test their lung powers. Benson tossed the ball a little wild to Perham and it rolled along the ground in a promiscuous style that sent a shiver through the crowd. The Nebraskas made a concerted rush for it, but Gillis snapped it up. With Captain Thomas' warriors all around him his first impulse was to down the sphere, but after a hurried glance which took in the whole situation he changed his mind. Taking a step or two backwards he slipped out of the scrum and swung his arm, and tucking the ball under his arm, he darted off around the left end like a flash, while the spectators yelled themselves hoarse. The Buttes recovered from their surprise almost instantly and gave him as good support as possible, but he was off so quick and was moving so fast that there were only two or three yards of the Butte who could keep anywhere near him. He shook off six or eight of his opponents as easily as though they had been so many flies, and he made a clear gain of 25 yards and went down with the ball on Nebraska's 12-yard line. Dygert shot through the center for five yards and touched down the left end to a touchdown. This was the first opportunity Dygert had had to show the stuff he is made of and his brilliant playing was cheered to the echo. The touchdown was scored in just 14 minutes of play. Laswell kicked the ball over the bar and the cheering was renewed and long continued. Fair kicked off again for Nebraska and Laswell caught the ball and carried it back 25 yards, to 15 yards from the center. Laswell punted 60 yards and Fair kicked the ball back to center. Laswell again punted for 29 yards. Hayward slipped through Hooper and Slater for four yards; Fair gained two feet through the center and Shedd hit the line for two yards. Fair bucked the line unsuccessfully and Hayward went through McMillan and Perham for six yards. In the scrimmage that followed Hayward's collar bone was broken by one falling across his shoulder and he was compelled to retire, Tukey taking his place. Hayward had been making steady gains for the Nebraskas and his loss crippled them rather seriously. Captain Thomas attempted a run around right end but Dygert carried him down before he got started and he failed to make it. Nebraska passed the ball back to Fair for a punt, but the Buttes broke through the line so quickly that when the ball was kicked it struck one of the Omaha line and bounded high in the air. McPherson took the ball out of a forest of hands that were raised to catch it and carried it forward five yards. Then the smoke eaters went at the Nebraska line in a whirlwind fashion and they did all sorts of things to it. Gillis shot around the left end for ten yards and gained five more through the center. Slater hit the line hard that he carried about half of his opponents along with him for 15 yards. Laswell, Perham and Gillis made five-yard gains through the line and then Dygert hit the center for five yards and carried the ball to another touchdown. Laswell failed to kick the ball, making the score 10 to 0 in Butte's favor, after 25 minutes of play. The only time that the Nebraskas had the ball during the next ten minutes was when they kicked off. Fair sent the ball to Butte's 10-yard line. Gillis caught it there and by some wonderful running and phenomenal dodging carried it back 55 yards or ten yards into Nebraska's territory. Center bucks then followed each other in quick succession and Laswell, Gillis, Perham, Slater and Dygert carried the ball up to within a foot of Nebraska's goal line and Slater with a mighty rush took it over. Laswell calculated the distance and the wind to a nicety and the ball sailed gracefully between the posts. Score-Butte, 16; All Nebraskas, 0. The first half ended just as the goal was kicked. Laswell kicked off for Butte at the commencement of the second half and sent the ball through the goal posts. This gave the Nebraskas the sphere on their 25-yard line. They gained six yards on a left end play, but McPherson secured the ball on a fumble. The visitors regained possession of it, however, in a similar manner after Perham had gained three yards through the center and Gillis had made a seven-yard run around left end. The visitors hit Butte's center four times but gained only three yards and Butte got the ball on downs. Gillis lost a yard in attempting an end run. Laswell hit the line for three yards and Benson punted 15 yards over left end. At this juncture Ellis retired on account of an injured shoulder and Bartlett took his place at left end. Two center bucks by Nebraska were beautifully blocked by Perham and Slater and Butte again got the ball on downs. McPherson hit the center for five yards and Slater tore his way through Wilson and Thomas for 12 yards and downed the ball just inside of Nebraska's five-yard line. Gillis went through the same hole for four yards and then hit the line and carried the ball over. Laswell increased his popularity by kicking the goal and the score stood 22 to 0. Benson then dropped out of the game on account of sickness and Dygert went to quarter while Brooks replaced the latter at left half. The appearance of last year's captain on the field was the signal for hearty applause. Perham caught the ball from Fair's kick and carried it back beyond the center and also carried a few of the Nebraskas along with him just to show that he has not lost any of his superior strength. Gillis lost five yards at left end and the Nebraskas got the ball on downs. Shedd hit the center for three yards and Fair gained two yards through the line. Gillis grabbed Tukey at left end after he had made two jumps and the Buttes took the ball on downs. Brooks hit the line for three yards and immediately afterwards around the end, Slater gained a yard and Lehmer's nose was broken in the scrimmage that ensued and Weaver took his place at right end. Slater crashed through the line for five yards and Brooks and Gillis made eight-yard gains around the end. Stivers replaced Dygert at quarter and was warmly received. Laswell went through Thomas for three yards, but a moment later Butte lost the ball on downs. Slater stopped Fair from going through the center, and on the next play McMillan broke through the line and carried the runner back five yards. Fair punted 20 yards and the ball got away from Gillis and Weaver put his stomach on it. Just before the game ended Mickey Harrington replaced Gillis at right half. The ball was passed to Fair for a punt, but before he could kick it Bartlett broke through the line and carried him back six yards. And then the linesman's whistle ended the game and the delighted crowd made a rush for the gates and the street cars.

Passes and Kicks. Dr. McCrimmon, the team's new field surgeon, gave the injured prompt attendance. One of the most pleasant features of the game was the fact that the spectators were kept outside the ropes and were not allowed to crowd in on the field. Chief Tebo and the police have earned the undying gratitude of the players as well as the spectators. Captain Thomas says that the Omaha university club which he will bring to Butte on July 4 will be the best team that can be got together and he is confident of winning. He says that the Doane college team which plays in Butte on June 13 is a very strong organization. In Laswell and Dygert the Butte team has the two best line buckers in the West. J. A. Polcar, the right guard of the Nebraskas, is sporting with the Omaha line. He is something of a crackjack on the gridiron. Captain Thomas has been in Butte with four teams and has been beaten three times and given two outs. He brought the Omaha university club here first on Thanksgiving day, 1894, and wallowed the Buttes 46 to 4. This crushing defeat led to the reorganization of the Buttes and when they met the same team on July 4, 1895, they defeated them 6 to 0. On Oct. 16, 1895, the Buttes defeated the University of Nebraska 16 to 6.
