

ROY MURRAY GETS ELECTRIC SERVICE FOR $8.58 A MONTH

Butte Automobile Agent Lights and Cooks by Wire for Five Persons in Six-Room Bungalow and Garage and Smiles When He Pays the Bill.

BUTTE, Mont., August 23, 1924.—After adroitly parking a handsome Buick coach in front of the Montana Power office on crowded Broadway here today, Roy Murray was button-holed by his friend, the reporter for this paper.

"Looks like bill-paying day," remarked the scribe.

"You've guessed right, the very first time, smiled Roy. "And speaking of bills, my house-lighting bill is the one bill I always pay without a murmur. And when I tell you all I get for the money, you won't be surprised," added the genial motor-car merchant as he pulled out a pad and pencil.

"You know where I live" he went on, "in a six-room bungalow, 1101 West Platinum, five in the family. For lighting, I've got—let's see—30 electric lights in house and garage; a super-automatic, four-burner range; electric washer, ironer, vacuum cleaner, toaster, waffle iron, percolator, grill and flatiron. And what does all this cost me? Well, here are my receipts for May, June and July. Figure 'em out for yourself!"

The reporter borrowed his friend's pencil, (reporters never have one), begged a scrap of paper, labored over the exhibits for three minutes, then exclaimed:

"Why Roy, it's only costing you $8.58 a month!"

"Correct" said Roy, "and if that isn't Hundred-Per-Cent-Service-for-a-Song, then my name isn't Murray and my car is a wheelbarrow!"

TRAVELER FINDS "SUPER-SERVICE"

Northern Pacific Trains a Pleasure To Ride On

"The road of super-service" is the way P. E. Harris, prominent Seattle business man, designates the Northern Pacific. Mr. Harris writes:

"Once more if it has been my pleasure to have completed another trip over the Northern Pacific and while I always have known the road maintained the best of service in every department, I take this opportunity of saying it might properly be classed as the road of super-service."

Each day the Northern Pacific makes new friends and retains its old. Those "famously good" meals—Northern Pacific dining cars operate all the way through between Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and the North Pacific Coast—club cars, barber, bath, valet, library and other facilities mark this line as one of America's leaders. Low summer fares to Yellowstone Park and Pacific Coast points now in effect. Ask the local Northern Pacific representative for details. (87)
