Tobacco Valley Grange

Tobacco Valley Grange met in regular session Tuesday, November 9, with master Zelmar Moses in the chair. The attendance was not quite up to our average, due no doubt to so many members being engaged in cutting Christmas trees and being tired out at the days end.

Sister Green reported on the results of the recent Grange dance which had a very poor attendance due to the tree season.

Home Ec. chairman, Eva Lenarz reported that her committee had decided to raffle three luncheon sets, and the tickets are to be sold at 25 cents each. She also reported that the committee would again send a box of gifts to the Orphan's Home and requested donations of various sorts for the Christmas package.

Bill for the 1948 taxes was presented and referred to the Executive Committee. A communication from sister Ruby Stevens was presented, tendering her resignation from the office of Ceres. Sister Elsie Helms was elected to fill the vacancy. A letter from State Master Weydemeyer was read regarding the change of dates for the State Grange meeting. Worthy Chaplain, Mabel Peltier reported that Brother W. R. Smith is on the sick list, and that Brother George Shea is now convalescing at home.

The Literary program was opened by singing, "Tenting on the Old Camp Grounds." Brother entertained with several selections on the guitar and harmonica.

Brother Fuller of the Conservation Service gave a talk regarding the Christmas tree industry. He stated that over two million trees were shipped from Lincoln and Flathead counties in 1947, which was about 24% less than in 1946. He also discussed the various causes affecting the decrease. Sister Harvey gave two piano selections in her usual capable manner.

Worthy Lecturer Nell West conducted a questionnaire regarding the activities of our several permanent committees.

The program concluded with the singing of "The Blue Belis of Scotland."

Lunch of ice cream, cake, and coffee were served after which a social hour was enjoyed.

L. C. H. S. Christmas Tree Festival A Huge Success

The Carnival given at the L. C. H. S. gym Friday and Saturday evenings was a huge success. A large crowd attended both nights and the dance that was given after the carnival at the Community Hall was also well attended. Fern Howe's orchestra played. Prizes amounting to nearly four-hundred dollars were given away in games of chance and other prizes. All prizes were of value and really worth trying for.

An electric toaster was given for the door prize and was won by Harold Gee. The bicycle which was raffled, was won by Raymond Fleming, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Fleming of Rexford. A candidate for "queen" was chosen from each class. The winners were: Cora Black, senior, won ten dollars for first prize; Edna McKenzie, junior, won a box of candy for second prize; Janie Webb, sophomore, won third, and Jerry Aemessgar, freshman, won fourth, both receiving boxes of candy. The public was allowed a vote for the queen with each ticket purchased throughout the evening.

A Christmas tree tying contest was held during the intermission at the dance. Wayne Marshal won first; time, 42 seconds and was awarded five dollars. Tom Price Jr. was second, time, 49 seconds, and was awarded three dollars. Bud Franklin won third, time 55 seconds and was awarded two dollars. Barbara Mason took the prize of three dollars for the ladies' tying contest.

Eureka Featured in Colliers' Christmas Issue

It is understood the pictures taken last year during the Christmas tree harvest and a very interesting article featuring Eureka and its community as the Christmas Tree Capitol of the World will appear in the Christmas issue of the Colliers' magazine. A half dozen counties in this area supply most of the millions of Christmas trees used in the United States. The spirit of Christmas will never die and the Yuletide harvest will gather momentum with each succeeding year, making the home of the Douglas Fir a vast resource.
