

Elk Basin South Extension Hopes Dashed by Union Well

CASPER—Hopes for very substantial extension of Elk Basin to the south, beyond the area in which Continental Oil Company recently got oil in an extension well, appear doomed to disappointment following abandonment of Union Oil Company's No. 1 Kendall, N½ 28-57-99W, which quit in the Eagle sandstone at 3185. Also abandoned in this area is Kirk Oil Company's No. 1 Gill, NE NE NW 1-56-99W, three miles southeast of the Continental extension producer, and Husky Refining Company's No. 1 Taggart, a mile south of the Kirk well.

A very interesting location during the week was Carter Oil Company's No. 1 Wind River, on Sheldon Dome, an offset to the field discovery well, which on a flow test through open tubing recently made a barrel a minute.

Some additional wildcat locations were made during the week.

Among wildcats now making hole, noteworthy is Mountain Fuel Supply Company's No. 1, on the Church Butte structure in Uinta county, in the southwestern corner of Wyoming. This well is now past 10,000 feet.

Explanation Of Symbols

To save time, numerous symbols are used in these Wyoming well reports. Here's what they mean:

- BOPD—barrels of oil per day.
- BOPH—barrels of oil per hour.
- BS & W—basic sediment and water.
- D.S.T. or DGT—drill stem test.
- MIRT—moving in rotary tools.
- MOCT—moving on cable tools.
- FB or P.B.—plugged back.
- RURT—rigging up rotary tools.
- T.D. or TD—total depth.
- WOC—waiting on cement.
- WORT—waiting on rotary tools.

Car Care Begins with Motor Oil

Carter's UNIFLO premium Motor Oil is a real "extra" in car care. In addition to being a lubricant of high stability, its special refining makes it resistant to sludge formation. Uniflo holds motor dirt in suspension, permits its drainage from crankcase when oil is changed. Uniflo helps keep your engine "clean." Demand this great modern oil. It Flows! It Lasts! It Stands Up! It Resists Sludging!
