BIG CHANGE OVER YEAR AGO TODAY

Difference of 30 Degrees in the Maximum—Continued Cold Predicted.

There is a difference of 30 degrees in the temperature between today and this day one year ago. The maximum today was 16 above at 3 o'clock. Twelve months ago on this date the maximum was 14 below. That was during the continued spell of cold weather in the month of January which was the most severe in the history of the state. Yesterday's maximum was 16 above and the minimum last night was 1 below zero. No storms are predicted in today's weather forecast, but continued cold is assured. Trains are making good time. The Northern Pacific reports No. 1 in 2 hours and 20 minutes late, while other trains are practically on time. The Milwaukee is making schedules and trains are only one hour behind the regular times. The Short Line was half an hour late this morning in getting in from San Lake.

There was a brisk delivery of coal yesterday by the various companies of this city. Coal dealers claim there is plenty of coal and no necessity for anyone to get excited over a shortage.

FIVE DIVORCES UP FOR HEARING

Many Niva is Given Freedom From Man Who Served Year in Prison.

Judge Lynch's law and motion calendar contained among other matters five divorce cases this morning, but up to the noon recess only two had reached a hearing.

Nancy Niva secured a divorce from John Niva on the ground of cruelty. The couple were married in Boulder, July 8, 1911. The plaintiff said that her husband beat her up and threatened to kill her. She said that on one occasion he choked her and then struck her in the eye with his fist, blackening it. The plaintiff also said that her husband had served a term of one year in the state prison, Niva. It will be remembered was tried before Judge Doolan in department three on a statutory offense and on being found guilty was sentenced to one year in prison. Attorney Ed Fitzpatrick represented the plaintiff, while Attorney H. A. Tyvand represented the defendant, who after filing a demurrer which was overruled refused to plead further. Monte Atwood was granted a divorce from Elmer Atwood on the ground of failure to provide. The couple were married in Anaconda, Aug. 6, 1908. In addition to the decree of divorce the plaintiff was awarded the custody of the minor children. Attorney Dan T. Malloy represented the plaintiff.

In the suit of Gertrude McAllister against Claude McAllister a disqualifying affidavit was filed by the defendant against Judge Lynch and he ordered the case transferred to department two and fixed next Saturday morning as the time for hearing the testimony.

In the suit of J. M. Dier against Susie Dier the demurrer to the complaint was overruled. The demurrer to the complaint was also overruled in the suit of Ethel Dunstan against Ernest Dunstan and 20 days allowed to answer.

LOSES HIS LIFE IN RANCH FIRE

John Schultz Burned to Crisp When Lone Tree House is Destroyed.

John Schultz, 34, was burned to death late Saturday night when fire destroyed the ranch house and garage at the Lone Tree ranch, four miles west of Silver Bow junction, owned by Frank J. and Max Kenck. Schultz apparently was asleep when the fire started from an overheated stove in the west portion of the building. His body, burned to a crisp, was found in ruins of the building by a passerby, who notified the B. A. & P. agent at Silver Bow, and the latter in turn notified the sheriff's office and Coroner Aeneas Lane. The latter will hold an inquest Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Schultz was employed at the Lone Tree ranch at intervals during the last year. He came to the place the last time about six weeks ago. On Saturday night he visited Silver Bow, returning home early in the evening. The ranch house is at least a mile from any other place of human abode. Frank Miles, a neighbor, saw the glare of the flames, but when he reached the place it was a mass of smoldering ruins and debris. The name of the man who first reported the fire and reported that a man had been burned to death in the house had not been learned late this afternoon by the coroner.

When the latter visited the scene he found the body of Schultz lying in the debris of what had once been a room just off the kitchen. The bedroom where Schultz slept was some little distance away, and it is believed that the man made a vain effort to escape, but was overcome by smoke. The body was horribly burned, all of the flesh of the lower limbs being burned. Aught but the bones remained of the arms and head.

Besides destroying the house and its contents, the fire burned a Ford automobile and a motorcycle kept in the garage adjoining the house. A slaughter house, some 30 feet distant, and a chicken house, about the same distance away, were not even scorched. Beef hanging in the slaughter house was not even thawed by the fire. The granary and barns, some 200 feet away, were not scorched, and several head of horses were found in the stalls by the coroner, apparently none the worse from proximity to the blaze.

Schultz's body was immediately brought to Butte, where identity was learned.

Schultz was a native of Switzerland. So far as known he had no relatives in this country. He was employed as a caretaker on the ranch. Nothing was found to give hint of foul play. Schultz had neither money nor valuables and so far as known no enemies.

Fire loss is placed by Max Kenck at $2,000.

NEW EMPRESS BILL
DRAWS LARGE CROWDS

The crowds at the Empress were so great yesterday at all performances that it was necessary to display the "Standing Room Only" sign. A first-class bill rewarded those who were enabled to gain admittance. The new program is headed by the famous Prell's miniature circus. This consists of a trained troupe of dogs that display almost human intelligence. They go through some humorous stunts and their odd costumes add to the pleasure of the act.

In addition to this offering five other big features are to be found: Wilson and Wilson, the London Trio, Bayle and Patsy, Harris and Nagel, and Leo and Helmar make up the remainder of the pleasing program. It will run Monday and Tuesday with a daily matinee at 2 o'clock.

"PAULINE" MYSTIFIES
PANTAGES AUDIENCES

"Pauline," the wonderful scientist, is entertaining thousands at the Pantages this week. He truly is a marvelous worker and has baffled scientists and physicians throughout the world. One of his greatest feats is his control of the blood in the human body. He causes the blood in the arm of one of his subjects to entirely leave the arm, making it white as wax. At his command the blood returns and the arm again regains its normal color. He should be seen by all interested in this strange phenomenon. In addition, the remainder of the big program is full of delightful treats. The show will continue until Wednesday evening with matinees daily at 2 o'clock.

TELLS OF DEVELOPMENT OF CHILDREN'S HOME

Rev. J. V. Hawk Spends Day Here and Speaks at St. Paul's Church.

The Rev. J. V. Hawk of the Montana Children's Home society spent yesterday in the city and delivered an address in St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church in the morning. A feature of his address was a comment concerning the financial progress of the institution. Mr. Hawk said that when he took the superintendency of the institution about two years ago there was about $13,000 indebtedness resting on it but today that entire amount is almost liquidated.

Rev. Mr. Hawk stated that the increasing prestige the institution is gaining offers to make it one of the greatest of all the like institutions in the country. He said that for some years those who had the controlling interest in the institution thought it destined to an irreparable failure. But through the benevolent kindness of the people of the state who appreciate the character and work of the institution it is now upon a solid basis.

"Butte comes in for a full share of the credit of the present success of the institution," he said. "Not only is Butte now contributing very appreciably towards the financial support of the institution, but also through the benevolent interest shown by many of the benevolent citizens children are most daily and many homes are being opened in Butte for unfortunate children who come to the home from other parts of the state."
