CHAUFFEURS ARE WANTED BY ARMY

Recruiting Offices Get Call for 12,000 Ambulance and Truck Drivers.

Uncle Sam wants 12,000 ambulance and truck drivers, 8,000 skilled workmen in various crafts and 6,000 field artillerymen for immediate service in France, according to telegraphic advices received today by Sergeant Bryant of the local army recruiting office. The government recently placed an order for 12,000 trucks and 8,000 motor ambulances and now every effort is being made to get drivers for these.

Skilled workmen of all kinds are wanted by the army for the engineers, two regiments of which are now being organized at Vancouver, Wash., for immediate service.

Seven men enlisted in the army in Butte today. They are: Sam S. Coxengineers; Clarence L. Farnum, medical corps; Elvin L. Hample, engineers; William J. Ryan, engineers; Wilbur F. Pierce, engineers, and Melvin Egan, cavalry.

Sergeant Bryant will leave Saturday for Missoula and will be relieved here by D. R. Harlan. On June 1 Sergeant Bryant will open a permanent recruiting office at Havre.

Two recruits were received at the recruiting office for the Second Montana regiment at the courthouse today. They are John B. Laird and James B. Richardson. Lieutenant Swaney is in charge of the local recruiting office and an efort is being made to bring the regiment up to war strength, 2,002 men. No recruits were received for the navy or the marine corps up to 3 o'clock this afternoon.

TO CEMENT BRITAIN AND HER DOMINIONS

Resources of All Colonies to Be Developed as Never Before.

London, May 24.—To enable the British empire to resist any pressure that might be applied by any other power or group of powers, in peace or war, by control of raw materials and commodities essential to its well being, the royal commission on the national resource, trade and legislation proposes that an investigation be undertaken to discover new sources of supply and substitutes for raw materials controlled by other countries and to prevent waste of minerals. The report is signed by Lord D'Abernor, Sir H. Rider Haggard, Sir W. Lorimer, Sir G. E. Foster of Canada, J. R. Sinclair of New Zealand, Sir J. W. S. Lagerman of South Africa and Sir Edgar R. Bowring of Newfoundland.

Concerning soldier-settlers, the commission reported: "We did not see during our visit to Canada, nor so far as we can gather, is there in the other self-governing dominions, any strong immediate desire on the part of ex-soldiers to turn to the land. On the contrary, we found that some of those who had previously worked on the land showed no inclination to return to it."

Women are urged to emigrate in larger numbers than men, and a scheme is outlined for the interchange of school teachers between the United Kingdom and the dominions.

Cheap, speedy and efficient transport between all parts of the empire is advocated as a vital necessity for the scientific development of imperial trade. Transport of this nature cannot be obtained except by the use of vessels of great length and draught. Such vessels cannot be employed unless there exists harbors of a size and particularly of depth adequate to receive them, and suggestions for securing a uniform depth at the chief ports of the various routes are made.

On the question of ocean freights, which have risen since the war and which may not return to pre-war level for a long time, the report says: "We are satisfied that the operations of the steamship companies should not remain longer without some measure of government control."

State acquisition is recommended of a cable across the Atlantic with the necessary land lines between Nova Scotia and Montreal, there to connect with existing services administered by the Pacific control board. A reduction in cable rates is urged especially on press traffic.

The report says it is possible to arrange new imperial mail services by 1922, when the latest existing mail contracts expire. High speed is advocated and a 20-knot service from the United Kingdom to eastern Canada is suggested.

GOOD DOPE.

To boosting all your efforts lend.
And do not knock your brothers;
And do not be so little, friend,
As to belittle others.

HUH!

"Has the high cost of living affected you?" asked the Duck.

"It certainly has," replied the Hen. "Why, eggs are so dear that I can't afford to raise a family."
