Eminent Doctor, Writing for the "How to Keep Well" Department of an Eastern Journal, States:
 In all our private and hospital experience we have never encountered an instance in which dyspepsia, nervousness or any other ailment was reasonably attributable to the moderate and habitual use of coffee as a beverage. It is true that hundreds of mortals deny themselves this boon because of some fancied educated fear that it isn't good for them. But we are speaking of coffee now, and not popular delusions. A good many nervous and ill people would be better off if they would take a cup of good, fresh-roasted coffee for breakfast. We believe so, too. That is exactly the reason for Luteys fresh-roasted coffee.

Renewed Controversy Over Alsace-Lorraine is Growing More Intense.

Amsterdam, June 7 (via London).—The Landtag of Alsace-Lorraine was opened in Strasbourg on Wednesday by the Imperial Stadtholder Dr. von Dölitz, who said:

"The unbending will to end the war victoriously will further protect our German Alsace-Lorraine."

At the first session of the second chamber Dr. George Ricklin, a centrist, was re-elected president. He said: "We Alsacians and Lorrainers will never forget that our emperor, by his peace offer, showed his readiness to end the miseries of the war. We bless every action tending to shorten the war by a single day and reject everything which, though undertaken to better our lot, in fact only serves to prolong the war and our sufferings."

"An overwhelming majority of Alsacians and Lorrainers do not want the war and only wanted to work out to completion their position as members of a state in union with the German empire and to further proceed with peaceful labor. In this connection the war has made no change as far as we are concerned. We make this confession of faith in the face of the whole world. May it be heard everywhere and may peace be restored soon."

The Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung referring to President Ricklin's speech says:

"Such are the views of the people of Alsace-Lorraine. The French cannot bring forward the claim that there is a popular demand for reunion with France."

The paper cites historical evidence in support of its claim that Alsace-Lorraine belonged for 800 years to Germany and was forcibly wrested herefrom by Louis XIV. The article concludes with an appeal to France to relinquish the unattainable, its closing words being:

"Against Premier Ribot and the majority in the French chamber of deputies we put our firm determination to hold what, before God and the public law, belongs to the German empire."

Paris, June 7.—Premier Ribot defined in the senate today France's war aims in the same general sense as he defined them in the chamber Monday.

Excavation for Butte's $250,000 Y. M. C. A. Building is Begun With Prayer and Song. Many Prominent Citizens in Attendance. J. R. Wharton Throws First Clay Into Waiting Wagon. "Admiral" Eugene Carroll Was Chairman of the Meeting. Ex-Mayor Lane Has a Mishap.

Following the reading of a paper by Rev. C. A. Cook of the First Baptist church, speeches by prominent citizens and the singing of the song which was a feature of the $250,000 campaign, the first sod for the excavation of the site of the proposed Y. M. C. A. building for Butte was turned at 1:35 o'clock this afternoon by J. H. Wharton, who was the chairman of the Y. M. C. A. campaign committee. As Mr. Wharton applied his foot to the side of the shovel and threw the clay into a waiting wagon nine rails "for Wharton," led by T. J. Davis, rang out.

One hundred people gathered at the site of the new Y. M. C. A. building at 1:30 o'clock to witness the first official act of the erection of the proposed $250,000 structure. "Admiral" Eugene Carroll was chairman of the informal meeting. He briefly recited the story of the perfection of the plans for the building and the success of the campaign and introduced T. J. Davis as the principal speaker. Mr. Davis told of what had been done five years ago by the young men of the town in the matter of securing some building where they could meet and perform physical exercises. The Y. M. C. A., he explained, was the basis for the work of the Y. M. C. A., and he paid a glowing tribute to the young men for the work they had done, not overlooking the excellent work which had been done by the older men, the merchants and the citizens in general.

After the singing of the campaign song, J. R. Wharton was introduced as the general chairman. As he heaved a shovelful of earth into the wagon there was a great cheer, and at once 29 shovels were put into service to fill the first wagon. Malcolm Gillis grabbed the second shovel and was quickly followed by former Mayor Charles H. Lane. Mr. Lane had a from local boards and which will have also original jurisdiction to the exclusion of others, as to selective draft of persons engaged in industry, including agriculture, found to be necessary to the maintenance of the military establishment or the effective operation of the military forces or the maintenance of national interest during the emergencies.

"The exemption regulations are not in final form. When they are they will be promulgated by the president."

A call for a definite number of troops will be issued, each state will be notified to contribute a certain proportion and state authorities in turn will demand allotments for subdivisions.

Officials noted today that the returns received so far indicate that more than half of the men registered either claimed exemption or gave facts which might exempt them. The war department may issue a guiding statement for boards of exemptions, but actual decision on each case will be left to the local authorities. Emphasis is laid on the determination to prescribe no class exemptions but to pass on cases individually.

The governor of Wisconsin reports that state's total registration at 245,758. Indicated possible exemptions are 115,189. The state's estimated eligibles are 228,597.

RUSSIAN TREATIES IN PETROGRAD DISAPPEAR

Amsterdam, June 6 (via London).—The Hamburger Fremdenblatt, a copy of which has been received here, publishes a Stockholm report which is alleged to have emanated from Russian sources, that the original treaties between Russia and western powers which were concluded since 1813 have disappeared from the Petrograd foreign office.

The rumor connects the disappearance of the treaties with "recent mysterious burglaries at the foreign office and in foreign embassies in the Russian capital."

KRONSTADT SECESSIONISTS ABANDON THEIR PLANS

Petrograd (via London), June 7.—The Kronstadt incident is closed. The local committee of Soldiers' and Workmen's delegates has recognized the authority of the provisional government. The so-called Kronstadt republic surrendered unconditionally to the provisional government. The peace agreement says:

"In accord with the decision of a majority of the Petrograd council of deputies which acknowledges that the present provisional government is in accordance with complete authority in the state, we on our side also recognize that authority."

POLICY REGARDING MEN NOW TRAINING IN THE CAMPS FOR OFFICERS

Washington, June 7.—The policy of the war department with respect to men now under training to become reserve officers was outlined in a statement today by Adjutant General McCain, stating the process to be followed with each class of candidates.

"The best qualified of all reserve officers and candidates will be selected to become officers of the regiment which the training company represents," it says, adding that these officers will be supplemental to the men appointed from the regular service for each new regiment. The number of men to be taken in each grade cannot be decided until the number to come from the regulars has been determined.

For the Next Armies.
 The remainder of the qualified men at the training camps will be commanded as reserve officers, to aid in the training of the new armies as additional officers of each regiment and this class will be drawn upon from the supply of temporary officers for the regulars and active officers for the second 500,000 of the selective army.

"It is more a matter of enforcing a high standard than of approaching a large number," the statement adds, "and it should be borne in mind that other training camps will follow if the war continues."

"An excellent man with three months training is much superior to a weak man with a year's training, hence, it is better to rely on the excellent man of the next camp than to rely on weak men, no matter how much time they have devoted to training."

General McCain says that only those men who give definite promise of being efficient officers with additional training will be encouraged to repeat the course and enter the second camp.

Speakers during the evening's discussion declared that the men were not given an impartial preliminary hearing. All are charged with circulating anti-draft literature.
