

GOVERNORS OF FIVE WESTERN STATES MEET

Stewart Co-operates in Plans for Suppression of Internal Disorder.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 11.—Governors of five western states, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Montana and Idaho, met here today in executive session to plan for co-operation with the federal government in its war work and to organize for suppression of internal disorders. Gov. Ernest Lister of Washington, president of the western governors' conference, presided. Other state executives attending were Gov. James Withycombe, Oregon; Gov. Moses Alexander, Idaho; Gov. Sam Stewart, Montana, and Gov. Emmet Boyle, Nevada. Gov. Simon Bamberger of Utah wired he would arrive late in the day. Many problems are on the program for consideration. Governor Alexander of Idaho declared before the meeting: "The governors of the states must impress upon the people the vital necessity of sacrifice. We must formulate a common war policy and carry it through. Every person must know his duty and do that duty."

DIXIE PROJECT IN LIMELIGHT

Road of Great Military Importance, Say the Officers.

The Post's Washington Bureau. Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—A decided impetus has been given to the Dixie highway project and to other proposals looking to the construction of roads that can be used for military purposes by letters that have been written to Judge N. N. Allison of the Dixie Highway association by Secretary of War Baker and Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood.

These eminent military authorities are very anxious that such roads should be built. Secretary of War Baker urges that every effort be made to persuade the state and county authorities to complete through roads, stating that their importance at this time cannot be over-estimated.

"They can perform no more patriotic service than this," is his closing injunction.

General Wood writes: "I am particularly interested in the effort you are making to build up what is known as the Dixie highway. It is very important that the roads connecting the various military cantonments should be put in good condition for service."

The improvement of practically all the mileage of the Dixie highway is highly important under the request of the secretary of war that through roads be completed for use in the movement of troops and transportation of food products and supplies. A large part of the mileage of the highway is covered by the urgent suggestion that the roads connecting the various cantonments should be put in good condition for service.

At the present time there are located along the Dixie highway training camps at Fort Sheridan, Chicago, and Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis; a large mobilization camp for the draft army under construction at Louisville, Ky.; a large quartermaster's depot at Jeffersonville, Ind., across the river from Louisville; a large training camp and mobilization cantonment at Chattanooga and another at Atlanta; a large quartermaster's depot at Atlanta; a mobilization cantonment for national guards at Macon, Ga., and still another large national guard camp at Augusta, Ga., Jacksonville, Fla., also probably will secure a camp of some kind eventually.

With the possible exception of between Louisville and Chattanooga, the distances between the camps, cantonments and quartermaster's depots along the Dixie highway are such that it would be practical from the standpoint of saving time, cost of transportation and economy of railroad cars to haul a large part of the supplies used by the various camps by motor truck if the highway were placed in such condition as to be rated available for military use. When the cost of handling from warehouse to truck and from truck to train, repeating the handling on delivery, is considered, to say nothing of the delay incident to waiting on the schedule of freight or express, the saving from a good road from a military standpoint can easily be seen. This does not take into consideration the value of such a highway for the establishment of personal contact between the commanding officers of the two camps, or its use in combined maneuvers.

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF NEW LAW TO BE TESTED

Supreme Court to Pass on Men Convicted for Evading Conscription.

Washington, Aug. 11.—A test of the constitutionality of the conscription law will come before the United States supreme court on or before Aug. 24 with the docketing of a case which will probably be called for trial during the court's fall term.

The case will come up on a writ of error from the district court of northern Ohio, where Charles E. Ruthenberg, recently socialist candidate for mayor of Cleveland; Alfred Wagennecht, Ohio state secretary of the socialist party, and Charles Baker, Ohio state organizer of that party, were convicted of having conspired to induce persons subject to the conscription act to evade that law. They were sentenced to one year in the Canton (O.) workhouse.

Efforts have been made in several sections of the country by persons not in sympathy with the conscription law to raise funds with which to test the law.

JUDGE TO FIX PRICE OF COAL IN ILLINOIS

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Justice Orrin N. Carter of the supreme court of Illinois is to fix the price of coal in his home state.

Justice Carter's appointment came as the climax to a hot fight over the coal situation. Prices were deemed exorbitant and early this week Gov. F. O. Lowden served an ultimatum on the coal operators that they would either fix reasonable prices or the state would seize the mines and operate them. He called the operators together, who agreed last night to accept the prices that Justice Carter may settle on.

CITY BOARD OPENS PHYSICS EXAMINATION

The Exemption List Growing. Second Call Necessary to Fill Quotas.

day by the board, so it is impossible to estimate the possible number of exemptions in the city.

Must Make Second Call.

There is no hope, members of both boards say, of getting the quotas from the first call of men. With the present rate that men are appearing, the city will examine but 1,125 men from the 1,500 called. Using county figures upon the city's lists, one-fourth of that number will be physically exempt, leaving 844. Of this number approximately 50 per cent will claim exemption. If 90 per cent of these exemptions are allowed, only 465 men will be certified into the army from the first 1,500 called. The city's quota is 791.

Final examination of papers by the county board this morning ended in the certification of 155 men as physically unfit for army and a score more whose fitness is not yet determined. In the examination of men on the first day the physical exemptions were not in excess of 15 per cent. The men examined Tuesday, however, showed a total of almost 35 per cent of exemptions.

Many Have Flat Feet.

A large percentage of the county physical exemptions were made on the grounds of flat feet among the men. Eye and ear troubles are next in importance, teeth were third in the matter of exemptions and heart troubles were a low fourth. The board on Monday will post in the courthouse a complete list of all men physically unfit or unfit for military duty. On the same day they will begin the announcement of exemptions because of deafness and alienage.

City's Plan.

The 15 men who are aiding City Physician Matthews with the city examinations are: Drs. Dayton, B. H. McCarthy, J. J. Donohue, Frisbee, A. C. Knight, J. F. Borghoff, C. A. Johnson, T. B. Moore, Graham Biddle, H. E. Carman, W. C. Hauser, Mallet, J. B. Freund, M. J. Scott and Corporal Schwatke of the army.

The city's plan of examination is efficiency to the highest degree. Men start in at one of the big council chambers and stop at the other and with their examinations complete. There is no delay and no clouthing of the examining machine. Dr. Matthews is superintending the work of the other physicians.

Men who were passed by the county this morning as physically unfit for the army are given in the list below. All names not in this list are certified as acceptable for the army as far as physical fitness goes. Those exempted because of physical unfitness are:

- Willard J. Baxter, 2984; John W. Wickett, 1070; Anthony Serdich, 1474; John McInnes, 1969; Joseph Yager, 1114; Thomas Scully, 93; Paul Subie, 2599; Arthur H.
