MAJOR BIGGS THROUGH BUTTE ON WAY TO EAST

Major J. C. Biggs, British officer who opened the British Recruiting Mission office in Butte and who recently has been in Spokane, went through Butte yesterday on his way east, to take up further organization work for the Recruiting Mission.

Major Biggs was accompanied by Mrs. Biggs, who has been with him in Spokane. He left a good word for Butte, saying that this city and county have contributed a large proportion of men for the British and Canadian armies. Men accepted for this service have been British subjects not subject to draft in America.

MR. MADDOCK LIKES SMITH-HUGHES LAW

Interesting Paper by Superintendent at Butte Liberal Culture Club.

An explanation of the Smith-Hughes act of 1917, containing federal appropriation for vocational education and especially in its relation to Montana, was given by Superintendent W. T. Maddock of the Butte schools at the first meeting of the season of the Butte Liberal Culture club at St. John's parish house on West Broadway last evening. The paper by Mr. Maddock was the principal one of the evening. Criticisms on the paper were made by John F. Davies and Earl Gensberger. In fact, Mr. Maddock said, as to the effect of the bill on Montana education:

"Those who fostered the Smith-Hughes bill from its inception to its final place on the statute books undoubtedly have a broader view of education than that at present held by many even public-spirited people."

"It seems to me that there is no state that will profit more in the development of its agriculture through education than Montana. Our agricultural resources are but slightly developed. Nothing, it seems to me, will do so much as this sort of education to make country life more gainful, and hence more attractive and full of opportunities, pleasures and rewards for the men, women and children of the farms."

Rev. T. C. Brockway opened the meeting. The dinner was served by the ladies' guild of the church.

WILL ESTABLISH FOX RANCH HERE

Montana Will Be One of the Big States in This Line, Says Expert.

That Montana will soon become one of the leading states in the raising of silver foxes is the opinion of Frederick L. Rogers, manager of the Silver Fox Ranching company of Alberton, Canada, who is in Butte making arrangements for the sale of foxes to form the nucleus for the first fox ranch in the state.

"There are but few localities in the country where silver foxes may be successfully raised," said Mr. Rogers. "Montana is one of the places."

"Silver fox pelts are now bringing $1,500 each. The opportunity for big money for the fox rancher may be easily seen."

Mr. Rogers believes the day of the trapper is about over. In his opinion the fur business in the near future will depend entirely upon the production from ranches where fur-bearing animals are raised according to scientific methods.

Sisters Star Witnesses for Brother on Trial in Baby Keet Kidnaping Case

MISS HELEN PIERSOL

MISS ALICEN PIERSOL

Spokane, Mo.—"Aude Piersol, on trial for the alleged kidnaping of Baby Keet, 14-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. J. Holland Keet, will have no more faithful defenders than his two beautiful sisters, Misses Helen and Alicen Piersol.

Piersol twice had a hangman's noose thrown around his neck by a mob in a vain effort to make him confess taking the baby whose body was afterward found in an abandoned well. He insisted then as strongly as he now does that he had nothing to do with the abduction.

His sisters will testify in his behalf in a trial which promises to be one of the most sensational ever held in the southwest.

FIRST DRINK IN 74 YEARS; HE'S JAILED

Peter Sullivan Led Astray by Bad Companions—To Be His Last, He Says.

Peter Sullivan, 47 years old, took his first drink of whiskey last night and is now in the city jail with a headache. He says his first drink will be his last.

"I just had a couple," he told the jailer this morning. "I was with some friends last night and they told me I was missing something when I told them I had never tasted liquor. They started me on Rhine wine and it tasted pretty good. Then they induced me to drink a ginger ale highball and here I am."

"Those fellows ought to be arrested for leading a young fellow like you astray," declared Jailer Lavelle.

"They'll never do it again," said Sullivan. "I don't want to stunt my growth by drinking whiskey."

RED CROSS MATERIAL NOT SOLD TO SOLDIERS

Denial that any Red Cross material, made by workers of the Red Cross throughout the nation, is sold to civilians or even to soldiers, was made Wednesday night by Dr. T. C. Wither, superintendent of the Butte Red Cross chapter, who received the following message from A. B. Rodgers, northern division manager of the Red Cross:

"No articles whatever, either knitted or otherwise, made by Red Cross workers and turned into any Red Cross chapter, is sold either to the soldiers or in shops. If any willful case of this sort should come to the attention of the headquarters, the chapter of the Red Cross chapter or subsidiary sanctioning it would be immediately withdrawn."

"Should it be proved that an actual instance of this character occurred wherein an individual sold articles after having been chartered by the Red Cross, such action would be clearly in violation of the fundamental law of the organization and vigorous steps would be taken to prosecute the offender."

TOBACCO TO BE SENT TO "BOYS" IN FRANCE

Red Cross Workers to Engage in Gathering Supplies for American Soldiers.

The need of the boys in France for luxury in the form of smoking tobacco, and the duty of Americans to see that this luxury is supplied them, is told in a letter received last night by Mrs. S. Garfield Tonkin of the Butte Red Cross chapter from A. B. Rodgers, manager of the northwest division of the Red Cross. The letter follows:

"At the suggestion of the national bureau of supplies the northern division will collect and forward shipments of tobacco to be given to the soldiers of the American expeditionary force and the allied armies in France. Chapters are requested to forward tobacco donated for this purpose to the Red Cross supply service, 527 Second avenue south, Minneapolis. When a quantity sufficient to make a shipment is assembled there, it will be forwarded to the supply warehouse at Fifty-seventh street and North river, New York City.

"The American Red Cross commission in France has reported that it is impossible to purchase tobacco suitable for American troops in France. It suggests that shipments include 50 per cent cigarette and cigarette mixtures, 20 per cent pipe tobacco and 30 per cent chewing tobacco. Tobacco, it has been established beyond all question, is absolutely essential for the comfort and contentment of our troops in the field.

"Various newspapers in the division have undertaken the collection of tobacco and it is suggested that chapters co-operate with them and, if possible, have their own collections forwarded through the American Red Cross. If the newspapers will turn over all tobacco collections to the American Red Cross they may call their activity a Red Cross tobacco fund or Red Cross tobacco collection; or a newspaper may organize itself as a Red Cross auxiliary for the purpose of collecting tobacco."

RESUME MEETINGS. The Butte Theosophical society will resume the weekly public meetings on Sunday night, when G. W. Duncan will speak on "The Guardians of Humanity." The public is cordially invited to attend.

Unusual Charge is Made by George Ingraham—Robbed While He Slept.

"Someone stole my left leg," complained George Ingraham yesterday afternoon to the police sergeant.

"How could anyone steal your leg?" asked the sergeant.

"They did it while I was asleep, you see its made of wood," replied Ingraham clearing up his first statement.

Ingraham fell asleep in the back room of an east side saloon. He admits that he might have been drunk. When he awakened he was minus his artificial limb.

In the opinion of the police some one played a joke on Ingraham. It is not believed possible that such a mean thief exists. Ingraham was promised the assistance of the police in locating his "leg."

GIRLS DRESS AS BOYS AND ARE TAKEN TO JAIL

Three girls, dressed as boys, were found to be partly responsible for disturbances last night at the corner of Washington and Iron streets. People in the vicinity complained of broken windows and other damage. Eight supposed boys were loaded in the patrol and taken to the city jail, where it was discovered that three were girls. The girls were taken to the industrial school. No place was found to quarter the girls and these were sent to their homes with threats of further action by the police if they again don boys' clothing.
