CHASE COUNTY ON THE MAP

State Treasurer George Brings Back Samples of Farm Products GROWN WITHOUT IRRIGATION

Callers at Capital City Return from Various States With Reports of Falling Off in Rosevelt Sentiment.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—State Treasurer George and Secretary of State Waite were in Chase county last week to inspect and appraise school lands. They returned home this morning and Treasurer George brought with him a sample of the different kinds of farm products raised in Chase county without the aid of irrigation and on land which can be bought from $10 to $20 per acre.

The samples were raised near Imperial and at an elevation of 3,381 feet. They consist of one sugar beet weighing 2 1/2 pounds, which was broken off in pulling from the ground, so that only a portion of the beet was taken. There are also several ears of different kinds of corn, measuring from ten inches in length to fifteen inches. A few apples are in the collection, one of which measures ten and one-half inches in circumference. Wheat and oats in that county are still in the stack and little threshing has been done, but the crop is good and will make a good yield.

Most of these products were raised on the farm of C. L. Barnes near Imperial while the apples grew in an orchard owned by J. E. Walker.

Southwest Favors Taft. Assistant Attorney Edgerton received this morning a letter from the southwestern portion of the state asking for information regarding speakers for the national republican ticket. The letter stated that there was a strong sentiment in the locality where the writer lived for President Taft and that the Roosevelt sentiment was dying out. He thought that a few meetings in the portion of the state where he lived would have a tendency to help the cause of the president.

Political Sentiment Changes. E. J. Robinson, examiner of county treasurers, returned this morning from a trip through the east, most of the time being spent in Wisconsin, New York and Pennsylvania. He says that a big change is taking place in the political sentiment in those states and that Colonel Roosevelt is the chief loser thereby. A large majority of the business men of the country are for President Taft and opposed to either Roosevelt or Wilson.

"It is true," said Mr. Robinson, in discussing the situation, "that the men in the mines and factories are for Mr. Roosevelt, or rather have been, but the better thinking class are not nearly as enthusiastic over the campaign of Teddy as they were. In fact, there is little enthusiasm for either side, but there seems to be a strong current of feeling that it is the wrong time to make any change. I was especially struck with the lack of enthusiasm for Mr. Roosevelt in sections where I had supposed that he would be very strong."

Battalion Incorporated. The Omaha provisional battalion of the Nebraska National Guard is a new corporation filing articles with the secretary of state. The organization is formed for the purpose of building an armory for the National Guard companies of Omaha, and is incorporated for $1,200 in 50 shares of $10 each. The corporation is controlled by a board of five directors, composed of W. Edmund Basli, Henning F. Eliaaser, Earl Strecker, Dell F. Lough and Frank C. Yates.

Adjutant Lillie Resigns. The resignation of Captain Jerome A. Lillie as adjutant of the First regiment of the National Guard has been accepted. Also the resignation of Lieutenant John W. Burnett of M company of the Second regiment at McCook. An election has been called to fill the latter vacancy.

By States Position. George W. Bly of Crofton filed with the secretary of state this morning a statement that he would accept Statement No. 1, in reference to voting for United States senator, as a candidate for representative from the Seventeenth district.

Green Visits Nebraska. Dr. John W. Green of the Minnesota state university is spending a year study.

ing the methods of the railway commissions of the different states, and is now investigating the way the Nebraska commission carries on the work in this state. Shippers protesting. A hearing was on before the railway commission today in which shippers protest against the revocation of the return rate given by the railroads on returnable goods. It is said that in cases of where goods had been sold to the dealers that goods not sold are returned to the manufacturer at a reduced rate. The railroads set forth that they ought not to be asked to become a party to a business transaction where the participants therein showed poor judgment in ordering more goods than they could dispose of and that the railroads ought not to be compelled to carry back the goods at a reduced rate.

Protect School Children. State Superintendent Delzel has issued a circular letter to the school district board of the state in which he calls for "conservation of the health of the children." He says:

A start has been made in the right direction. The drinking fountain and individual drinking cup, the paper towel or individual towel age helps in the prevention of the spread of disease. The abolition of the "waving of the germ-infected handkerchief in the chautauque or honor salute should be brought about. Honor could be bestowed as well by a wave of the hand or a small American flag, or better still by a small American flag.

The sweeping of a school room without oiled brooms, sweeping compound or an oiled floor is one of the ways to scatter disease germs. The town school floors are mostly swept so as to eliminate the scattering of dust. This should be carefully attended to in all school rooms.

Alleged Live Stock Thief Arrested by Stanton Sheriff

STANTON, Neb., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Sheriff James R. Stucker arrived in Stanton on the 6:20 passenger with the prisoner, Clarence Montgomery, who is charged with stealing thirty-five head of cattle from the pasture of J. H. Renne, a cattleman living just north of Stanton. After stealing the cattle, Montgomery drove them north eighteen miles to Windsor, where he sold them to a butcher for $50. He cashed the check at Norfolk and went to Lexington in his automobile. He left his machine at Lexington and took a train for South Dakota, where he visited with a relative, L. E. Sides, a former resident of Stanton. Sheriff Stucker tracked him to the home of Sides, and when he got there found that Montgomery had returned to Lexington to get his machine. Stucker left for Lexington at once and arrested the young man just as he was getting ready to start for South Dakota. Montgomery acknowledged at once that he had stolen the cattle. He is now in the county jail awaiting his trial.

NEMAHA RIVER WILL BE SHORTENED THIRTY MILES

TECUMSEH, Neb., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—On the 8th day of October the contract for draining the Nemaha river, with tributary creeks, in Johnson county, will be let. The drainage board has advertised for bids and there are many applications for specifications as to the work. As it is the Nemaha river winds its distance through the county by traveling a distance of some sixty miles. With the ditch cut through the county the length of the stream will be less than thirty miles. It is thought that thousands of acres of farm land lying along the river and creeks, which are now subject to overflow and crop loss, will be entirely reclaimed.

BROODING OVER ACCIDENT FARMER'S WIFE ENDS LIFE

BEAVER CITY, Neb., Sept. 23.—(Special Telegram.)—Mrs. Walter Cornell, wife of a prominent farmer, nine miles northwest of this city, committed suicide this afternoon. Her lifeless body was found suspended to the telephone by a towel, the discovery being made by children on their way from school. Two children of Mrs. Cornell, one 3 years and the other six months old, were in the room with their dead mother. Apparently they had been asleep at the time of their mother's death, and the father was in the field close by. No reason can be given for the deed except that a year ago Mrs. Cornell accidentally shot the old child through the head and it had since been paralyzed as a result.

Table Rock Notes. TABLE ROCK, Neb., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—C. M. Martin, a business man of this place, who came here about six months ago from Fremont county, Iowa, has made a voluntary assignment for the benefit of his creditors. Sheriff Raper of Pawnee City is in possession of the store. Mr. Martin places his liabilities at $1,000 and his resources at $1,600. James Chittick, who lives a few miles south of here, reports an average yield of thirty-seven bushels of wheat per acre from his 1912 crop. One eight-acre field yielded forty-two bushels per acre. The wheat is all of an excellent quality.

TO PREVENT EQUINE SCOURGE Norwegian-Danish Are Announced by the Conference

Union Pacific Veterinarian Promulgates Rules to Be Followed. REPORT ON THE DISEASE IS MADE. Professor Udall, the expert veterinarian, brought here from Cornell University by the Union Pacific to cope with the forage disease prevalent among horses in the central west, has issued a code of rules looking to the prevention, but not to the cure of the epidemic. He has forwarded copies of them to Charles J. Lane, general freight agent of the Union Pacific. The rules:

Remove all litter and rubbish from the barn yard or corral and from the manure. Thoroughly scrub out all water buckets, troughs and tanks. Disinfect all the premises and containers by applying a liberal application of some reliable disinfectant, such as ordinary dip, 2 per cent carbolic acid, lime, or whiter.

Remove all horses from their accustomed feeding or grazing places and place them in the barn yard or corral. Feed these animals on green corn fodder, green silage, oil-cake meal, or any roughage that has been thoroughly cured and free from mold. Sprinkle roughage freely with lime water. Provide drinking water free from any possibility of contamination from stables or corrals. Do not allow horses to drink surface water. To the drinking water add all the fresh slaked lime that will go into solution (lime water), or add copper sulphate (blue vitriol) in the proportion of a level teaspoonful to four large pails of water (about ten gallons).

Horses should be kept away from diseased animals and all articles, or places that have come in direct contact with the latter should be immediately disinfected. Horses should be kept from pastures until cooler weather sets in. Diseased horses should be kept in a separate attendant, and all water buckets and other utensils used for sick horses should be taken away from healthy animals. Dead horses should be buried as deeply as after being covered with lime. Do not drench diseased animals, there is no known cure. Do not use antiseptic vaccine, blackleg vaccine or tetanus antitoxin.

Prof. Udall is now working in the northern counties of Kansas and writes Mr. Lane that within a few days he hopes to diagnose the horse disease, after which he will be able to think of a remedy that perhaps will be a cure. In making a weekly report to General Manager Holdrege of the Burlington, the division superintendents, under instructions, make an estimate of the losses throughout the state.

It is stated that in the aggregate the losses in the state have been so great that it will result in the normal acreage of winter wheat being cut 25 per cent on account of farmers not having the necessary teams with which to do their seeding. In the territory of the Omaha division of the road the losses have been very light, and none whatever in the extreme west end.

On the Lincoln division the losses have been quite heavy, 125 horses having died in Seward county; 200 in the vicinity of Stromburg, York county, and in Colfax county 3 per cent of all the horses. In Hall and Hamilton counties losses are reported as heavy, but no figures are given. The town of Sutton reports 200 horses having died in the vicinity; Fairmont, 100, and Hastings twenty-five. The on the lines northwest of Aurora report twenty-five to thirty-five horses having died in the immediate vicinity of each.

On the Wymore division the towns from Strang west to Holdrege, and in Clay, Nuckolls, Fillmore, Webster and Franklin counties report from fifty to 100 horses in the country immediate and tributary to each. On the McCook division the losses have been quite general, and between Red Cloud and Orleans, in the Republican river valley, farmers have lost more than 600 horses.

Treatment for Disease Fatal. RED CLOUD, Neb., Sept. 23.—A widespread warning has been sent out from Red Cloud that practically all of the horses that have been vaccinated for the new disease are dying. Well posted horsemen say that a large number of animals have been vaccinated with the virus used in treating blackleg in cattle and that all that have thus been treated are dead or dying. The disease itself is dying out in this vicinity.

Horse Disease Dying Out. LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 23.—State Veterinarian Boston and E. T. Davidson of New York, expert in the service of the bureau of animal industry of the Department of Agriculture, declare in a report made here today that the horse disease in Nebraska is dying out. They say that in some counties as high as 50 per cent of the animals affected are recovering, and that the disease is less virulent in form.

They report that many well horses have been vaccinated with black leg virus by farmers and have died from this cause.

Lloyd Ingraham Now Poses for the Movies

Lloyd Ingraham, who for many seasons delighted stock audiences in the local theaters, has joined the fast swelling ranks of the motion picture industry. Mr. Ingraham had for the last two seasons been connected with one of the stock organizations of the Pacific coast. A flattering offer from the Universal Film company caused his transfer to the "screen drama," where he is doing character work with the Universal people's California company. Harry Pollard and Marguerite Fischer, who played leads in the old Ingraham stock company in this city, are also members of the same company.

Mr. Holden being charged with assault upon a Sterling man. Holden is a very wealthy farmer and lives near Burr. A new and important civil case to come up for consideration is Drainage District No. 1 of Johnson county, Nebraska, against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad company. The railroad company cannot agree upon the matter of drainage of the Nemaha river along its road in this county. Judge J. B. Raper of Pawnee City will preside and the petit jury will be in service.

LEGAL BATTLE WAGED OVER AIRSHIP EXPRESS RATES

Adams Express company has appealed to the district court from County Judge Crawford's decision that a dismantled and crated airship may be expressed at merchandise rates. The decision was made in the case of the company against George E. Yager, who shipped the plane from Peoria, Ill., to Albany, Mo. The agent charged the merchandise rate, $75. The company asserted the airship rate, $5, should have been charged. W. H. Hatteroth, attorney for the company, said the appeal must be taken because unless every effort to collect the $5 rate is made the Interstate Commerce commission may prosecute the company for discriminating.

DRUG STORE LOOTED BY BOYS

Wagonload of Plunder Carted Away from Goodrich Stock. THREE LADS ARE UNDER ARREST. Police Secure Confession and Find a Trunk Full of Merchandise in the Home of One of the Young Men.

A wagon load of stolen toilet articles and patent medicines were recovered by the police this morning in the room of A. G. Gilbert, 1406 Douglas street. Gilbert was arrested shortly after midnight with a suitcase full of the articles. When taken to the station he admitted he had stolen from the Goodrich Drug company and gave the names of Walter Brown, 1314 Williams street; Charles Kosby, 204 Wirt street, and George Anderson, 142 North Seventeenth street, as his accomplices. The three boys were arrested this morning.

Systematic Robbery. Gilbert when arrested confessed to a systematic robbery Sunday of the drug company. He said he made arrangements with the other three boys, who are employed by the Goodrich company to open the door of the store. Early yesterday morning the four made away with several baskets of toilet articles. In the afternoon operations ceased and Gilbert took all the articles to his room on Douglas street.

Not satisfied with the haul he had already made Gilbert returned to the store last night with a suitcase and filled it with plunder. He was passing Fifteenth and Farnam streets and was seen by Officer M. E. Anderson, who thought Gilbert was acting suspicious and placed him under arrest. Members of the Goodrich Drug company appeared at police headquarters and identified the articles as their property. A charge of grand larceny was placed against Gilbert, but the officials of the company did not wish to press the charges against the other three boys and charges of petty larceny was lodged against them. Gilbert is in jail and the other three are out on bonds of $100 each.

LET'S STOP IT

If you are burdened by the high cost of living, if you sometimes worry about the way things are going, read "The Remedy," by Thomas W. Lawson. It begins in the October number of Everybody's Magazine.

It has the brilliancy of a headlight, the power of a Mogul engine. Nothing since "Frenzied Finance" has touched it. But where "Frenzied Finance" tore down, "The Remedy" builds up. Mr. Lawson will describe the Stock Exchange device by means of which the masses are regularly separated from their share of national prosperity.

He will show how the device works; how the barefaced robbery is pulled off. Having shown it in words as cold as steel, he will illustrate and drive home his points with true tales as glittering as the Arabian Nights.

Then he will show you the simple, sane, legal way to stop it. We believe this wonderful man from Boston has his finger on the sore spot in our community life.

We believe he is absolutely sincere. We believe in his Remedy. We are going back to him. We ask you to join.

If you want to make sure of getting the October number of EVERYBODY'S MAGAZINE, get it quickly.
