

Their Engagements Announced

MISS LYDIA CROSBY

are Jane Addams of Hull House, Mary McDowell of University settlement and Julia Lathrop, head of the federal children's bureau. Dr. De Bey is described as a very interesting character. She is a practicing physician, is prominent in social and suffrage work, was on Mayor Dunne's school board, was instrumental in settling a recent stock yards strike and has done many other interesting things.

Announcements were mailed to over 2,500 graduates scattered all over the globe. An announcement was sent to some graduate in practically every state in the union, besides South America, France, Alaska and India. The present officers of the association are: President, Samuel W. Reynolds, '08; vice president, Stanley M. Rosewater, '02; secretary, Mrs. Raymond Hayward, '06; treasurer, Otto J. Bauman, '06.

Goes to 'Prisco for Bride.

Joel W. West, the well known attorney, leaves today for San Francisco, where his wedding to Miss Polly Wilkinson will take place June 19. The announcement comes as a surprise to all but a few intimate friends. Miss Wilkinson is a sister of Mrs. John A. Logan of Washington, D. C., widow of the late General Logan. Miss Wilkinson is one of the most prominent and wealthy women of San Francisco.

Birthday Party.

Judge and Mrs. Eleazer Wakeley entertained very informally last evening in celebration of the ninetieth birthday of Judge Wakeley. The guests were intimate friends, mostly from Trinity cathedral, where the judge has been junior warden for many years. Judge and Mrs. Wakeley have been married fifty-eight years and their four children were present last evening—Mrs. C. E. Crain of Springfield, O.; Miss Nellie Wakeley, Mr. Lucius Wakeley and Mr. Arthur Wakeley.

European Trips.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Austin, whose wedding took place last Wednesday, sailed yesterday on the George Washington for a three months' trip abroad. Mr. and Mrs. Boyce, who were married last Tuesday, left the same evening for New York and will sail Tuesday on the Lusitania for England. They will be met by their own automobile at Liverpool and will tour England and Ireland and later France. They will be home in Chicago the first of October.

Tuesday Mrs. Offutt and daughter, Virginia, and son, Caspar, with Ralston Scoble, sailed on the New Amsterdam, while Miss Lida Wilson, Miss Minnie Wilson and Miss Mary Woodbridge sailed the next day on the Saxonia. Yesterday Mrs. John Hudson and Mrs. Lenora D. Nelson sail on the Pretoria, and Mrs. George H. Palmer and Miss Morse on the Lapland.

Society women are taking an unusually lively interest in politics these days. A number of them are leaving today and tomorrow with their husbands for Chicago to attend the national republican convention, and those who cannot go are following eagerly the proceedings.

Mrs. Howard H. Baldrige and Mrs. O. C. Redick leave this evening with Mr. Baldrige and Mr. Redick for Chicago. Among the men who leave this evening to attend the convention are E. W. Dixon, C. W. Hull, J. J. Derrig, Luther Drake and E. M. Patterson. Mrs. Patterson, who is the corresponding secretary of the newly formed Equal Franchise society, is greatly interested in politics and would like to attend, but cannot manage it.

Mrs. Nathan Merriam and Miss Mildred Merriam will leave tomorrow evening for Chicago to attend the convention with Mr. Merriam, who is a delegate from Nebraska. After the convention they will visit Mrs. W. B. Millard at her summer home on Lake Michigan. Mrs. John N. Baldwin, president of the Equal Franchise league, leaves tomorrow for the convention. Mrs. Clement Chase, the chairman of the publicity committee of the Equal Franchise league, will stop in Chicago to take a peek at the big meet on her way home from Toledo, where she is visiting her son, Clement C. Chase. Mrs. Victor Rosewater, who was in Chicago last week and will remain through the convention, has been pictured and written up in papers all over the country as the wife of the chairman of the national republican committee and as one of the prominent women who accompanied their husbands to the meeting of the committee. Mrs. William Hayward, wife of the secretary of the national republican committee, formerly of Nebraska City, now of New York, has been described as one of the best dressed women in Chicago for the convention.

Last evening, Mrs. John C. Wharton left for Chicago with Mr. Wharton and will stay until the doings of the convention are over. Many prominent women of other places in the state left last night over the Burlington with their husbands to attend the convention.

Luncheon for Suffragists.

In honor of Mrs. Frances Squire Potter of Chicago, who will give a suffrage talk at the Country club tomorrow afternoon, Mrs. Charles T. Kountze will entertain at luncheon the same day at her home. The luncheon list will be small and will include only women who are leaders in the suffrage movement in Omaha. Mrs. Potter, who arrives Monday morning, will be the hostess guest of Mrs. Kountze during her short stay here. Mrs. Kountze became interested in Mrs. Potter through her sister-in-law, Mrs. Meredith Nicholson of Indianapolis, formerly of Omaha, who is a great friend of the noted Chicago suffragist.

Mrs. Kountze says that she expects Dr. De Bey to accompany Mrs. Potter. Dr. De Bey is one of the noted four maiden aunts of Chicago; the other three

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL WHO IS GOING TO EUROPE.

HELGA RASMUSSEN

High school, organized in 1888, will hold its twenty-fourth annual reunion at the Omaha Field club Monday evening. Graduates of the old school on the hill, both old and young, anticipate a reunion which will outshine anything of its kind ever held. The committee in charge has been working for months to insure the success of this reunion and expects a gathering of over 600 alumni.

Every class from 1876 to 1912 will be represented, even graduates from out of town will be present. An eight-piece orchestra has been engaged for the occasion and the Field club ball room will be decorated with pennants and flowers.

Prize for Omaha Girl.

Out of the large number of men and women taking the course in illustrating at the Chicago Art Institute Miss Lucile Patterson of Omaha is the one to win the annual American scholarship cash prize of $125 this year.

Miss Patterson is just completing her third year of study at the institute and plans to continue her work there next fall. She is studying illustrating for books, magazines and commercial purposes. She has done considerable illustrating for Gage Brothers' wholesale millinery house in Chicago and has further offers to do commercial illustrating.

Miss Patterson, who is the daughter of Mrs. Ella Patterson, was popular in the high school, where she was a member of the Rolye club. She will be home from Chicago tomorrow, and unless she accepts an offer to do some art work for a commercial house in Chicago this summer will remain here for the vacation.
