MINOR MENTION.

Helen Potter is to be here Thursday night.

You should not fail to hear Joseph Cook to-night.

C. L. Frost has opened a fruit and cigar stand at No. 545 Broadway.

Secure seats for Joseph Cook to-night, at Bushnell's.

Ed Harris, Finley Caughey, and Murphy Thompson were run in Saturday for being drunk.

Bricks for sale in large or small lots by J. A. Weaver, No. 815 Seventh avenue.

Mr. Mellon is moving his saloon from No. 326 Broadway to next to Rapp's place.

To-night Joseph Cook lectures at the opera; no intelligent man or woman should be absent.

John Thompson, Frank Hastings and Dave Piles are to have a hearing in the superior court this morning on a charge of raising a rumpus on the streets.

The city council is to meet to-night, and the long expected election of city officers is to take place—at least such is the promise handed down by the fathers.

It was stated yesterday by parties who ought to know, that the papers in six injunction suits against saloon-keepers have been prepared, and that the notices will be served to-day.

In the ejectment suit of Scott against Mrs. Richardson, the jury have decided in favor of the plaintiff, so that now he gets possession of his farm after a fight which has lasted since August last.

The eleven-year-old son of Mr. Grower, who fell from a car in the rear of the Chicago lumber yard on Friday afternoon last and received such serious injuries is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances.

The foundation of the brick cottage, No. 619 Sixth avenue, gave way the other night, causing the building to fall, one of the walls being all down, and the whole building being badly wrecked. It is owned by J. T. Hart.

Mandemakers & Van, the upper Broadway contractors, have again closed a contract for a two-story building. It seems that they are receiving a large share of the work in this city, this being the ninth contract for new buildings they have made this year.

At Neola Saturday a falling scaffold caused injuries to B. Grahl, and his son, and a young man, who were at work on the building. Grahl had several teeth knocked out, and his face cut, and his son got a bad scalp wound. The other young man escaped injury.

William Mynster, jr., son of the alderman, having gained quite a reputation as a rifle shot, some of the young men express themselves as anxious to meet him in a free-for-all amateur shoot, and desire him to express himself on the question as to whether he is thus willing to join in such a contest.

B. Graybill had the distinction of being arrested twice on Saturday for being drunk. In the morning he paid one fine out of the $35 he had on hand, and in the afternoon he was run in again, and given another dose. He then concluded that he had contributed enough to the city's coffers and skipped out before he could be assessed again.

On Saturday afternoon a horse attached to a buggy became frightened on Willow avenue, corner of Bluff street, and made for the sidewalk, the buggy coming to a sudden standstill against a tree, and the horse breaking away, made for the stable. The occupant of the buggy jumped in time to escape injury, and the damage to the buggy and harness was only slight.

When Miss Potter appeared as Charlotte Cushman, in "Meg Merrilies," where Miss Cushman had lived, the people were startled, as though the actress herself had come to life, so perfectly had Miss Potter caught even what was most subtle and wonderful in Miss Cushman's rendition of this character.—Harford Courant. She will appear at Dohany's Thursday evening, May 14th. Admission 50c, children 25c.

The management of the dime museum and theatre give a special performance this week and have also retained Miss A. Patterson, the human match; Prof. Stendell, with his "electro musical thaumascopes"; L. Baldwin and Madame Howell. In the words of the management "Ladies can safely visit this popular place of amusement without an escort, as we personally guarantee that nothing will be done to offend the most fastidious."

To-morrow evening the choir sociable of the Young Men's Christian association will be held in the new rooms, corner Main street and Broadway. The object of this gathering is to seat the new hall. There is room for about 300 more chairs. Persons attending are expected to bring a chair to donate to the organization. The old quarters of the association became too small to accommodate the increased attendance. Now when properly chaired from 300 to 350 persons can be seated. The interest in all departments of the work is increasing. It is to be hoped that this sociable will furnish the desired number of chairs. Everybody invited. Come and bring chairs with you.

The ladies who are preparing "The Carnival of Nation," have been very busy getting arrangements completed so that the entertainment may open to-morrow evening, and a large force of carpenters have been kept on the jump preparing Masonic hall. The work is one of greater magnitude than those not directly concerned would think, and all of to-day, as well as to-morrow, will not be too much time to allow for the remaining work of preparation. The ladies are preparing a grand entertainment, and should receive the reward, the only reward which they hope, that of seeing their efforts so appreciated that many dollars may be gathered into the treasury, for the building of the new Episcopal church.

Tickets are going rapidly for Joseph Cook, to-night.

Beauregard Miller has been arrested on the charge of being a vagrant. He says that the charge was the result of a little trouble with the son of Mr. Mosser, who is employed in his father's store. Miller claims that when he has a spare five dollar note he frequently puts it inside of his hat lining for safekeeping, and that Saturday night he had one thus stowed away, when he went into Mosser's store to get his hat stretched a little, and that the young man pulled the bill out, and after fooling with it a while, refused to give it back, and that as he read a little row about it, Mosser had him arrested as a vagrant. In turn he proposes to prosecute the young man on a charge of larceny. The other side of the story is that Miller had no five dollar bill, but that the bill in question was one that had just been paid in by a man who had bought a hat, and that Miller tried to work the store for it. The case will be heard to-day.

Reiter, in order to close out his present stock of tailoring goods, is putting prices at 24 to 35 per cent below cost. No. 810 Broadway.

Facts worth remembering when you buy wall paper. 1st.—That Beard, next door to postoffice has the largest stock to select from. 2d.—That his prices are as low as the lowest. 3d.—That he is a practical interior decorator and employs none but skillful workmen.

PERSONAL.

Judge C. F. Loofbrow is in the city. Major J. F. Wood, of Ottumwa, is at the Ogden.

Captain Hatcher has returned from St. Louis.

L. E. Waterman, of Moline, Ill., is at the Pacific.

Charles Ellis, of Cincinnati, O., is a Pacific house guest.

S. G. Eaton, of the American express company, was in the city yesterday.

J. Henley Bradley, of the Chicago implement firm of that name, is at the Ogden.

L. J. Tullock, agent of the "Power of Money" company, was at Bechtold's yesterday.

Harry Z. Haas has returned from North Park, Colorado, where he has been looking after his large cattle ranch.

Miss Anna Bowman and her friend, Miss Cora Russell, of Glenwood, have returned from a visit to Omaha friends.

Dr. Albert Smith, who has been here for a week or so, visiting friends and relatives, now starts for Denver, where he will open a dental office.

W. G. Lloyd, late bookkeeper with Eleanora & Co., has gone to Sioux Falls, Dakota, to take an active interest in business with his father at that place.

Col. E. F. Hooker, of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway, is in the city, the guest of Jerome McMillan, acting general agent of the same road.

Henry Wagner left last evening over the Rock Island on a long journey, bound on a visit to the old country, and expects to be absent about three months.

George B. Thompson, representing Park Davis & Co., of Detroit, manufacturing chemists, is here arranging a display for the meeting of the state pharmaceutical society, which was on Wednesday.

Mr. D. B. Prescott, of the Cornish Gazette, was in the city yesterday, his first visit here in two years. He noted and commended many improvements as made during that time, and expresses the belief that Council Bluffs should have great faith in its own future.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Griffin left last evening for San Francisco, where they will take up their abode, he having been appointed general agent of the Hartford Life and Annuity insurance company, with headquarters there. They will go by the way of the Oregon short line and will stop off a few days at Boise City, Idaho.

Important.

It is understood that Bob Ingersoll is to lecture here shortly, in answer to Joseph Cook, who speaks to-night at the opera house. All should hear each side of the question. Cook is said to be the ablest and deepest of thinkers.

Where is Cross?

There have been a good many various reports about Dr. Cross, and whether he has been taken to the penitentiary or not. The fact is that the judge, in passing sentence, ordered him taken to the penitentiary, there to remain until the date fixed for his hanging, and this was generally supposed to be the only place he could be kept under the law. His attorneys hunted up a special statute providing that when the defendant perfected his appeal at once, he should be kept in the custody of the same officer until the appeal was heard. Under this they claim that Dr. Cross must be kept at Glenwood until the appeal is heard and decided. Although the judge is said to have made the order that he should be taken at once to Fort Madison, the defendant is still in jail at Glenwood, and it is not thought probable that the order to have him taken to the penitentiary will be insisted upon, in view of the special statute referred to. The length of time which he may remain in the jail at Glenwood, while the appeal is being decided, will not be figured, in case the appeal confirms the sentence, and in that event the date fixed for hanging would be the same as usual. Such is the position taken by the defense, and the fact that he remains in the jail at Glenwood, seems to be an acquiescence on the part of the prosecution.

BADLY BRUISED.

Governor Manning and Family the Victims of a Runaway.

A serious accident befell Lieutenant Governor Manning, and his wife, and the daughter yesterday afternoon. They were enjoying a ride with a horse and buggy from Bennett's stable, when, in coming down Glen avenue, the horse became frightened, and broke into a run. On reaching the corner by Mr. John Oliver's house, the horse turned suddenly up into the cut, and the buggy was overturned, throwing the occupants out in such a manner that at first it seemed that they must all have been killed. The little girl, aged about five years, was insensible when picked up, and Mr. and Mrs. Manning were apparently badly injured. They were taken into Mr. Oliver's residence, and Dr. Hart speedily summoned. An examination happily showed that no bones were broken, and the injuries seemed to be severe bruises, and the shock, but no injuries appeared which were thought to be of a really serious or permanent nature. The escape from death seemed almost miraculous to those who saw the accident, the family and the buggy seeming to tumble into such a confused pile that there appeared no chance for an escape from fatal results. A carriage soon took Governor Manning and his family to their residence, and it is to be hoped that a few days' care and treatment will see them all recovered from the effects of their accident.

THE DAYHOFF CASE.

The County Attorney Explains Why it is Not Prosecuted.

Col. Keatley, the county attorney, has been investigating the case of Dayhoff, who was arrested on the charge of seduction preferred against him by the mother of a young lady, with whom it was supposed he had been too intimate. The case was so mysteriously dropped that the public has been wondering what the real facts were. The county attorney now makes the following statement: The other day the mother of the girl was requested to arrange for an interview by the attorney with the girl, so as to see what did occur between her and Dayhoff. The mother said she could not induce the girl to say anything about the case. The county attorney then told the mother that would end the case, if the girl would not tell what happened between her and Dayhoff. The mother went off, and that is the last that has been seen of her. She has been circulating the statement that the officers had received money for letting Dayhoff off. The young lady herself afterwards called on the attorney and emphatically stated that nothing of an improper character ever occurred between her and Mr. Dayhoff. That is the reason she did not intend to go into court against him, because she had nothing to charge against him. It is evident that the mother, in her hot haste, had been influenced by some malicious persons here against her daughter, and has thus been led to do her a cruel wrong. The attorney says that the young lady is pretty, modest and intelligent, and that her manner bears the imprint of truth.

Ousted, a Private.

Brooklyn Times. A prominent Brooklynite, on his return from the World's Exposition at New Orleans, took a run up to Louisville on his way home to visit a friend, who was unusually delighted to see him, and who did all the honors of hospitality with true Kentucky spirit (Blue-Grass whiskey) Hitching up a fast horse—for of course every true Kentucky gentleman drives a fast horse (Wells' or bog, or borrow, or steal one)—he took our friend for a drive to show him the city. The Kentuckian pointed with his whip at a gentleman and remarked: "See that man coming out of the Courier-Journal building?" "Yes; who is he?" "That's Col. Watterson—old Hank." At short intervals he would again point his whip and say: "See that man on the corner, that's Col. Burchard; owns lots of trotting stock. That man over by that lamp-post is Major Martha. See that man with a gray suit on going into the hotel; that's Col. Littlejohn. That man just getting into that buggy is Capt. Kellogg; poker player the captain is. See that man standing in that doorway; that's Col. Will S. Hays, the song-writer. See that man going into the telegraph office; that's—"

Excuse me, Jim, but do you happen to have a revolver with you?

"Yes, I always carry one. But what in thunder do you want a shootin'-iron for?" "Just let me take it. Thanks. Now show me a private, please. I want to shoot the case. He must feel d-d lonesome here."

Australian Sport.

Kangarooing is the most interesting sport in Australia, and is one of the most exciting in the world. Large gangs are organized, parties of from twenty to thirty joining in these hunts. They ride to the kangaroo grounds, and as soon as an animal is sighted the two dogs are released and the horses are given their heads. If the Australian horse is up in his business, and if you let him take you, instead of your trying to take him, he will carry you safely, avoiding trees and underbrush. A good, strong kangaroo will give you a long chase, and very often
