Valentine

Leslie Weed of Cody was in town Saturday.

Misses Nellie and Ethel Arnold were up from Johnstown on Tuesday.

A. M. Sherman and family are now living in the M. E. parsonage.

Geo. A. Corbin went on duty as night marshal the first of the month.

Alex McAlevy and family were up from their ranch near Kennedy the first of the week.

Max Viertel of Crookston attended a meeting of telephone men in Valentine Monday.

Eighteen young people of Rosebud reservation left for the government school at Rapid City, the first of the week.

Mrs. Eugene Grace went down to Long Pine Saturday to spend the day with her son's family; who left for Sioux City Sunday morning.

Mrs. Ed Hackler returned from Omaha Friday where she underwent a surgical operation. Mr. Hackler went down Thursday and accompanied her home.

J. H. Quigley went up to Nenzel Saturday night on business. He will also attend to matters at the ranch and will return home about the first of the week.

Many people from around Kawnee and Sparks went over to Gregory the past week to register for the government land drawing. But a very few from Valentine have registered so far.

The high school team played the Ainsworth high school boys Saturday on the home diamond. The visitors put up a poor exhibition of the national game and let Valentine pile up fifteen runs to their lone one.

Mr. Verne Lattin of Draper, S. D., and Miss Bessie Rogers of Valentine were married by Justice of the Peace Spain, Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carson. They will go to Draper, S. D., to make their home.

The Boy Scouts received their uniforms this week and a prouder, happier bunch of youngsters can not be found anywhere. The boys who have not yet joined this organization can not long resist the desire to be a scout and participate in their hikes and out of door life.

At the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening at 7:30 Dr. Barakat will preach on one of the most difficult subjects in the Bible. He will explain from all that has been known the account of Joshua speaking to the Sun and Moon to Stand Still. This discourse represents a great deal of study and research. Don't fail to come.

J. F. Broad was painfully injured Monday by being run over by a wagon. He brought in a load of hogs and was opening a gate to the Stetter feed lots when the horses became frightened. He could not hold them and fell beneath the wheels, which passed over his body. His hand was also badly cut and crushed. No bones were broken.

Professor Hunt spent Monday in Valentine visiting enroute home from a lecture tour up the road. Mr. Hunt is an enthusiastic speaker for better development of western lands and forage crops and never fails to deeply interest his hearers on subjects of vast importance to the farmers and ranchmen of this county. We are always glad to hear him and wish every man in the county could.

Farmers' Institute.

Saturday, October 21, should be a big day for Valentine. On that date the annual Farmers' Institute will be held under the auspices of Extension Department, University of Nebraska and the local Institute of which J. W. Cowan is president and Donald McLeod, secretary.

At the morning meeting commencing at 11 o'clock in Bethel Hall, Mr. Hull of Alma will lecture on "Seeding and Growing Alfalfa." At 1:30 Mr. Harnley of College View will talk on the "Care and Handling of Eggs and Cream from a Practical Standpoint," and at 2:30 Mr. Hull will talk on "Breeding and Feeding Better Stock."

The women's meeting at 2:00 o'clock will be conducted by Miss Louise Sabin of Beatrice who will give "Useful Information for the Household Operator," followed by a cooking demonstration.

The evening session will begin at 7:30. Miss Sabin will tell how to "Encourage the Boys and Girls;" Mr. Harnley will speak on "Sanitation" and Mr. Hull will tell you the only way of "Making Hens Pay."

These speakers are well versed upon their subjects and everyone should attend the meetings and join in the discussions. If a point is not clear to you don't be afraid to ask a question. To do so shows that you are interested.

Theobaldi Concert.

All music-loving people should avail themselves of the rare opportunity of hearing the world famous violinist, Ole Theobaldi, who will appear in Quigley's Hall on Tuesday night, October 17.

It is very seldom that we have an opportunity of listening to one of the world's greatest musical artists and especially the successor of Ole Bull whose violin Theobaldi will use in his local engagement.

Theobaldi will be supported by Mme. Dorothea North recognized as one of the foremost young soprano vocalists in Europe. Mme. North possesses a voice of rare purity and clearness of tone and was one of Alexander Heineman's favorite pupils. Theobaldi has also with him Lundborg, Norway's greatest pianist.

The following is what some of the world's greatest papers say in regard to Theobaldi:

"It is incomprehensible how he can make the rustle of leaves and the sound of the waterfall."—Petit Journal (Paris, France)

"When Theobaldi played the music of Ole Bull and Paganini, it seemed as though the masters of former days were themselves playing."—Nowje Wremje (St. Petersburg, Russia).

"It appeared to the musicians there as a reminiscence of the days of Remenyi and Ole Bull."—Chicago Record Herald.

Make your plans to attend and don't forget the place and date. Tickets will be on sale at Chapman's Drug Store.

Notice.

All parties are notified not to cut any timber or posts of any kind whatsoever on any of the land within the abandoned Fort Niobrara Military Reservation. Also all parties are warned against buying any wood posts or timber cut on said reservation. Any one caught cutting any wood posts or timber on said reservation and any one caught removing any wood posts or timber from said reservation will be prosecuted and dealt with according to law.

Critics in the musical centers of the music-loving world, join in their approval of the clear soprano voice of Mme. Dorothea North and she is ranked among the foremost of the young sopranos. Mme. North toured the old world in concert with her talented instructor, Alexander Heineman, of whom she was a favorite pupil. Her voice is one of rare sweetness and her easy and unaffected manner gain for her at once the appreciation of her hearers.

Mme. North will be heard here with Theobaldi, the Norwegian violinist on Tuesday night, October 17, in Quigley's Hall.
