"The Education of Elizabeth," is tonight's attraction at the Imperial, with Billie Burke in the leading role. The heroine is a chorus girl whose slang wins the love of an aristocratic man of wealth and who places her in his home to be properly educated. While her sweetheart goes to Texas on business, Elizabeth meets and falls in love with his brother. Meanwhile she is being educated to be the charming woman she soon grows to be. Her fiancé meets another chorus girl in Texas and falls in love with her. He returns and finding Elizabeth transformed, releases her from her engagement.

Wednesday's feature is "The Flame of Hellgate," one of those cattle pictures, with Beatriz Michelena as the star. One of the more important figures is the cattle king who dominates the whole region. He is responsible for the election of a sheriff who is little more than a "yes boy," having no say in more important matters. When a murder occurs for which the forces of the cattle king are responsible the sheriff refuses to make an arrest. This rotten political condition leads to the declaration of war on the part of the daughter of the murdered man which motivates the story.

"Clothes" is the expressive title of the Thursday photoplay. Olive Tell takes the leading part, that of Olivia Sherwood, a pleasure-loving, capricious reckless young woman who has known nothing but wealth, and who is not even permitted to know that she has been left with only $2,000 a year—nothing at all in Olivia's world—until the man who has been advancing her money, tells her the money was not left her by her father, but that he had been giving it to her intending to "buy" her. His shocking disclosure precipitates a dramatic disaster.

The man who is blind to his own faults and deaf to the praise of others is never dumb in regard to his own virtues.

Going Through the Files

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Dispatcher A. V. Gavin of Sheridan has been transferred to Deadwood as dispatcher of the Burlington lines in the Black Hills. L. H. Mosher will return to Alliance as dispatcher on first trick.

Trouble over some settlement or failure to settle resulted in the head cook at the Charters hotel quitting work Monday and subsequent discharge of all dining room help. No meals were served for four days, when new help was secured. Mr. Parly, the ex-cook, announced that he would open up a dining hall in the rear rooms of the McWhinney building.

John W. Warner, superintendent of the poor farm, while standing in the field, was struck and instantly killed. He leaves a wife and four children.

G. W. Duncan is now nicely located with his grocery store in the new brick building erected by S. Reck.

A new porcelain lined bathtub is being put in the club rooms. Everything calculated to add to the comfort and convenience of the members is carefully looked after.

On a recent excursion coming down from Hot Springs, a colored man named McDuffie was making quite a racket on the car. D. W. Lee, marshal of Alliance, was on the car and called to the man to make less noise. Whether hearing him or not is not known, but he did not stop making the noise anyway and Lee cracked him over the head with a beer bottle, knocking him down. Last week the man's wife went to Chadron and filed a complaint for assault with intent to kill. Sheriff Dargan came down to make the arrest, but Lee had gone to Hastings with his horses for the races. The sheriff there was wired to arrest him, which he did, and Lee gave a $500 bond to appear at Chadron when wanted. In the meantime the case was settled at Alliance. Simon Spry paid the costs and a paper dismissing the suit was drawn up by Judge Wilcox for the complainants to sign. Thus does a great tempest in a tea pot wind up in the air.

Monday afternoon there was a rumor of a shooting scrape at Bridgeport in which the names of well known men down there were connected. Investigation proved that a man named Tracy sent word that he had been shot at by five men. The parties were brought up and testified that they had been shooting at coyotes and never knew the man was around. Thus another sensation went up in the air. They are great for shooting coyotes down in that country and men not desirous of being shot at should be careful to not resemble coyotes.

The sale advertised to take place Tuesday for the Charters hotel property did not come off because the notice was not published the length of time required by law. The proceedings will have to be gone all over again requiring some weeks yet before a sale can be had. Some of the parties connected with the deal had a personal encounter on the street which gave the county court a little business.

A number of Dr. F. M. Knight's friends in Alliance received a card from him this week from the Yellowstone Park, where he is now viewing the wonderful sights. The cards were very neat, each one having a different view of the park on it.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Dr. James P. Maxfield, the dentist who came to Alliance from Lincoln home weeks ago, has completely remodeled the office in the Rumer block, over Brennan's drug store, and it is indeed a model of neatness and convenience. The Herald is pleased to note that Dr. Maxfield is doing a good business and is very well pleased with his location here. He will have his horse and buggy shipped from Lincoln to Alliance for his use in driving around the city and adjoining country.

Ringling Brothers circus always draws big crowds, but it looks now like the crowds it will bring to Alliance next Saturday will be the biggest ever assembled in this part of the state.

Robert Graham came up from his Garden county ranch the first of the week and spent a while in the city greeting friends and transacting business. We are pleased to note that the democratic state convention made him a member of the state central committee. Messrs. Hall and Graham are giving especial attention this year to the live stock business, and are on the market for cows and calves. They are also looking for a bunch of stock hogs. Prof. E. L. Meyer, principal-elect of the Alliance high school, left Saturday morning for his home in Peru, going via Omaha to take in the tennis tournament, in which he will play. Since the close of school he has been setting the youths of Alliance an excellent example of industry, having been working for D. W. Hughes, the ice man.

F. N. and J. G. Wallace, operating under the firm name of Wallace Bros., leased the Younkin rooming house and Crystal theater, and took immediate possession. They expect to make some improvements in the theater.

N. A. Kemmish, superintendent of the city water and light department, is again at peace with the world, his wife having returned from a western trip of several months, visiting in Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

Candidates for the primary election, to be held August 15, were: County treasurer, D. W. Butler, Emery Cornu, Glen Miller and D. W. Hughes, republican; Isaac Rockey and Edgar M. Martin, democrat. County Clerk—Monte S. Hargraves, republican; John B. Knies, democrat. County Sheriff—Al Wiker, W. G. Zediker, Roy C. Strong, republican; C. W. Cox, Geo. Snyder, democrat. County Judge, L. A. Berry. County Superintendent, Chella M. Reed. County Coroner—Charles E. Slagle, republican; Dr. F. W. Boland, democrat. Commissioner, second district, C. L. Hashman, republican and J. P. Jenon of Hemingford, democrat.

ONE YEAR AGO.

For the fifth time in three months, the city council was compelled to postpone a regular meeting because not enough members turned out to make a legal quorum. Mayor Rodgers did his best to get the members to turn out, but even with the assistance of the city clerk and the chief of police wasn't able to make the hill.

The Alliance Rotary club, at its regular Wednesday meeting went on record as favoring the five-commissioner plan of city government.

The census bureau intimated that Alliance would not be allowed an official recount of its population, and the chamber of commerce was up in arms.

E. K. Halldeman, district commercial manager for the telephone company, was in the city for two days. He expected to wrestle with the council over a franchise, but there wasn't a quorum to hear him.

The organization of the Nebraska Potato Growers' exchange was completed at a meeting held in Alliance.

Today Best Story: Charley Brittan and Billy King were waiting for a train before leaving for Newcastle, after a little visit to their oil wells. They had half an hour and wandered into a beanery for a light lunch. The waitress was fresh and the grub stale. "Say, sister," Billy complained, "our beans seem to be cold." "Well," she suggested, "why not put on your hats?"

POINT OF ROCK CREEK

Mrs. Ernie Essex was called to Iowa her mother being very low.

Edwin Dunlap is on the sick list. Anabel Lore and Kole Nichols were callers at the De France home Thursday afternoon.

Jim Eaton called at Lore's, looking for a man to stack grain.

Mrs. Brown of Hemingford is helping cook for the threshers at De France's. They still have another week's threshing.

Ben Swanson went to Alliance for a load of material Thursday and returned Friday.

Mr. Bean of near Scottsbluff stopped at Lore's en route to Cherry county.

Ms. Duskin called at De France's last Thursday.

Ernie Wienell returned home Thursday from cutting grain for E. Essex.

Mrs. Fred Crawford and children and Mrs. Crawford motored to Alliance Wednesday.

Miss Iva Wilkin and Howard Essex motored to Alliance Friday afternoon.

Mr. McCorkle called at Lore's trying to find someone to cut grain.

The mail man wishes everyone would take more interest in the mail route. If everyone that lives within a mile or a half mile would put their boxes on the route, we could get a daily route. Let every one lend a helping hand.

Mrs. Susie Duskin called at Lore's Friday afternoon.

Harold Essex is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. William Essex, for a few days.

Carl Hashman and Frank Vaughn motored to Alliance Friday. E. M. Banks and the Kilpatrick's were shipping cattle Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lishman motored to Alliance Friday.

LAKESIDE

Bingham-"Oil Magnates" game at Lakeside, August 7, was later decided in the Oil Magnates favor. Owing to an error on the part of the score keepers the scores stood a tie in the last of the ninth inning. The correct score was 16 to 15 in favor of the Oil Magnates, but the general understanding was a tie, so the game continued two more innings. This resulted in Bingham scoring 3 runs to Oil Magnates 1. The Bingham score-keeper admitted the error a week later.

The Oil Magnates won the game from the Ellsworth Grays last Sunday at Antioch. Score 20 to 3.

George Lindley and son were Alliance visitors last week.

Mr. Dickerson left for Rapid City, S. D., where he and Hans Peterson will be in partnership of a shoe repairing business. Hans Peterson has been doing carpenter work for P. A. Cook.

Frank McGinnis was an Alliance visitor one day last week.

Joe Kade went down to visit at Vern Perrin's ranch a few days.

Earl Graham left for Mitchell last Monday.

Vern Perrin was a Lakeside visitor last Sunday.

John Moscrip was in from the De France ranch last Sunday.

Frank Coyle shipped a few car loads of cattle last Saturday.

HEART (OR SPADE) FAILURE.

"I've been sitting up with a sick friend," explained hubby with brilliant originality at 3 a. m.

"What made him sick?" asked wifey sarcastically. "Was he losing?"
