has a world-wide fame for her lumber's unexcelled quality.

In minerals she is very rich, copper, lead, zinc and iron ores being the chief, while gold, silver, salt and a long list of other products taken from beneath the earth are exhibited. Who has not heard of the famous Lake Superior copper and iron mines in this state. At the present time the largest ore docks in the world are being built at Ashland. Wisconsin is becoming the veritable home of the summer tourist, who there, finds romantic scenery, healing mineral waters, cool breezes, and a healthful climate, brooks and lakes, stocked with choice fish, while the forests abound with game.

Her tobacco crop for 1884 was 42,000,000 pounds, while sugar and syrup form a remunerative industry. Her manufactures are well represented here, and samples of superior workmanship are not wanting. Altogether your correspondent was astonished when brought face to face with the "Prize State" resources as shown at the World's Fair.
