A large prairie fire in the vicinity of Dickens, caused by the lightning Sunday evening destroyed almost all of the hay which the farmers had stacked. The loss to many of the farmers who had a large quantity is a very heavy one.

Entries of produce and stock for the Lincoln county fair are coming generously and the officers feel assured that the exhibit will be a creditable one. The attention of the ladies of the county is especially called to the following classes on which prizes are being offered: Household products, consisting butter, bread, cakes, and pies, preserves, jellies, jams, canned fruits, pickles sour and sweet. To the fine art department consisting of oil, water color, pastel and crayon paintings, photography, professional and amateur photography. Prizes are also offered for all classes of needlework and for house plants and cut flowers. Let each lady make entry of some article in the above classes.

Local and Personal.

Walter Kocken has begun the erection of another bungalow on east Third street just west of the one he now owns and occupied by Messrs. McGovern, Sturges and Fristo. He is building it for renting purposes.

The apparatus for the bowling alley that will be opened in the LeMaster building on east Sixth street was received and unloaded yesterday and will be placed in position today and tomorrow.

The extension of the sewer between Fifth and Sixth streets has been about completed. The tile is laid, the trench covered and the man holes are being put in. The extension runs two blocks west of Washington avenue, and its full length is five blocks.

Some idea of the wealth of the upper North Platte valley can be gained from the statement that from Bridgeport west to the Wyoming state line 300,000 tons of alfalfa have been cut this year, and in the same section there are 20,000 acres of sugar beets.

The Scientific American says that in case of a collision the "smashing" energy of an automobile running at forty miles an hour is sixteen times greater than that of a car running ten miles an hour. This is a point not generally understood by automobile drivers.

The Grand Island sugar factory will open the campaign October 5th. Field samples of beets for testing will be taken next week. The yield of beets in the Grand Island section is away below the average, but west of North Platte the tonnage per acre will be unusually heavy.

In connection with the fall festival the ladies of the local lodges are arranging for a grand floral parade. Prizes of $30.00, $20.00 and $10.00 are being offered, and those in charge give the assurance that this will be one of the most gorgeous affairs that has been attempted in North Platte.

Some Happenings 22 Years Ago

T. Q. Thacker sold his drug store to Dr. N. McCabe in order that he might accept the position of government sugar inspector.

Mrs. J. C. Ferguson was killed by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of her husband. In company with Mr. and Mrs. McGee, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson had gone to Plant precinct to hunt prairie chickens.

The Besack livery barn on Front street burned to the ground. A valuable stallion, five mules and sixteen horses were burned to death, and a lot of harness and other property destroyed. The fire occurred about nine o'clock in the evening, and originated from an explosion of a lantern in the hay mow.

Final arrangements were being made for the soldiers' reunion. Three hundred and fifty tents had been erected and from 5,000 to 8,000 visitors were expected. The camp, named Logan, was situated north of the present ice houses, and was lighted with arc lights.

J. B. McDonald, J. G. Beeler and Butler Buchanan went to the state fair with the Lincoln county exhibit, which the Bee pronounced "one of the most attractive on the fair grounds."

Here's a railroad story: Andy Struthers left his engine standing at Julesburg station while he went to the telegraph station for orders. The fireman in the cab was told by a brakeman that there were several cars to be switched, which work could be done while the engineer and conductor were getting their orders. The fireman accordingly opened the throttle and pulled out of the yard—not only out of the yard but nine miles down the track. Struthers coming out of the office and seeing his engine gone, telegraphed to Ogalalla and Big Springs to hold trains No. 1 and 21, which were about due; and thus avoid a collision. The supposition is that immediately after opening the throttle the fireman had dropped to sleep and did not wake until the engine had traveled the nine miles. The fireman left for Pocatello the next day.

The Knights of Pythias lodge gave a banquet and among the speakers were W. T. Wilcox, Saml. Goozee and Wm. Whitlock, the latter responding to the toast "Our Bald-headed Knights."

A western Nebraska resident announced that he had discovered a process for melting the sand hills into glass of suitable shape for building material. Later it was found that the discoverer was in need of a room in the insane asylum.

The people of the town were talking bonds as a bonus for the building of the Duluth & Pueblo railroad which was to traverse the county from the northeast to the southwest corner. At the election which followed North Platte cast about thirteen hundred votes in favor of the bonds and none against. In these days the voters are not so unanimously in favor of bonds.

Mose McFarland, at one time in charge of the local yards, was visiting friends in town.

Engineer Pat McGraw was married to Miss Hilda Stark.

(Owing to protests filed by young ladies, mention of births twenty-two years ago will in the future be omitted, as we have no desire to give away the age of the dear girls.)

Roy Mehlmann Married.

Roy Mehlmann left the first of this week for Creston, Ia., where he was married at noon Wednesday to Miss Barbara Barrowcliff. After a honeymoon trip thru eastern cities they will reside here. Mr. Mehlmann is a promising young man and has a large circle of friends who wish him happiness with the lady of his choice and will welcome her to our city.

Soon to be Married.

The North Platte and Lincoln county friends of F. T. Keilher, now living in Chicago, will be interested in knowing that he will be married September 24th to Miss Nell Kennedy, of that city. The bride is a sister of a former priest of St. Patrick's parish of this city, has visited here a number of times, and is known to many of our people.

Elks Will Hold Picnic.

The local lodge of Elks will hold a stag picnic Sunday at the ranch of Col. Wm. Reaty two miles east of Brady. The trip will be made in automobiles. Twenty cars will go from North Platte, several from Hershey and Sutherland, a number will come up from Gothenburg, and the members of the lodge living at Maxwell and Brady will be present. It is expected that more than one hundred will be present. The attendants will be limited to members of the order.

Insures a Good Exhibit.

The committee in charge of the farmers' institute at Hershey has kindly consented to bring to the North Platte fall festival next week the exhibit of produce that has been prepared for the institute. This exhibit is said to be a very fine one, and will add much to the display at the fall festival.

Several scouts will be sent out in the country north and south tomorrow to gather up farm produce worthy of exhibition at the festival, these samples being in addition to those many farmers have promised to bring. Altogether the display of farm produce at the fair promises to be a most worthy one, notwithstanding the extremely dry season.

Creamery Machinery Arrives.

The machinery for the North Platte creamery arrived the early part of the week and is being installed in the cement block building on north Locust street. The plant will have a capacity of 3,000 pounds of butter per day, but it is not expected to run the plant at its full capacity at the beginning, as it will not be possible to secure the necessary cream.

The proprietors believe that they will be able to offer a little better price for cream than has been paid in the past, and that this will tend to increase the production of cream in the country tributary to North Platte.
