

That's just what we want, and if the party in regular convention can be counted on to back that advice up, we can pull our political chestnuts out of the fire and bait and lure them over into the ranks of Democracy, when the Populist party being swapped off or forsaken for a share of the offices, they will have to stay.

WORK on man's part is always assisted or linked with the tireless energies of beneficent nature. "We are workers together with God." The worker alone can know and love God, because of actual contact and the all-wise assistance in producing things serviceable and enjoyable. Intelligent, voluntary work is, or makes possible, the most intimate and real worship. In work we do not search for God, but we touch the infinite Energy, Wisdom and Love, and draw to us God's never ready, effective power, a power that never refuses to answer and serve us. It is free, voluntary, honest work, also, which makes us each and all of use to one another, and is the attractive force between men, the basis and bond of society. Work is worship; work is fellowship; work is love. But they who would obtain the fruits of labor without labor, rob God and man, and must live loveless, apart, separated in spirit.

THE Omaha Bee in criticising Edward Bellamy's article in the Forum admits that "municipal ownership of water works, gas works, electric lighting plants, etc., is in vogue in many American cities as well as abroad. The postal telegraph, telephones and postal savings banks exist in many foreign countries and will eventually be established in this country. It will be many years, however, before the government will monopolize the lumber traffic, the iron industries, and the mills, factories and business enterprises which constitute the arterial blood of our national commerce." Mr. Rosewater cannot make the above admissions and not know that the Populist party is the only party that demands anything new and worth fighting for.

EX-MAYOR HEWITT of New York characterizes the Bland Saignioraz bill as an attempt "to coin a vacuum," or rather the "negative quantity on the other side of a vacuum." Never mind, Mr. Hewitt. Any sort of a vacuum which will bear the government stamp and complete the round of circulation is all we need. Enough of such stamped vacuums kept moving will serve to fill the vacuum in millions of American stomachs.

ANY man who wishes to fuse with the Democrats or Republicans is at liberty to do so. But any man in the Populist party who tries to fuse the party, or who proposes a fusion conference, will find himself buried beneath an avalanche of opposition. We merely predict this avalanche—if the fusion crowd is inserted.

MR. J. B. OSBORNE has delivered 488 Populist speeches in the last nineteen months in Georgia, has traveled 10,000 miles by rail, and has addressed over 250,000 people. The Populist party is making sweeping gains and Georgia will be one of five or six Southern states to stand in the Populist column in 1896.

THE Democratic editor of the Greeley Herald is strongly opposed to fusion and opposed to it on principle. That is the kind of Democrats we respect. There are a great many honest Democrats and Republicans. We never refer to them or include them when we characterize the machine variety.

Buffalo County Alliance Men Refuse to Be Fused.

SHELTON, Neb., March 6, 1894. At a meeting of our Alliance March 6th, held for the purpose of organizing in the Aid Degree, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, We see a writer in the World-Herald is advocating a fusion of the Independents with the Democratic party and a division of the offices, and Whereas, Such a scheme of fusion for the sake of the offices is disgusting to the men of principle who belong to the independent party, and would result in its death and burial; therefore be it

Resolved, That, while we do not believe it possible that an independent state convention can be gotten together that will have one vote for fusion; yet, if fusion is voted by the regular state convention, we pledge ourselves to send delegates to an independent state convention that will put a straight independent ticket in the field. And we further pledge ourselves to see if necessary, that a straight ticket is in the field in this county. (Signed.) HERMAN SCHEPERS, Pres. S. A. BEEDY, Sec'y.

LORD ROSEBERY'S POLICY.

THERE WILL BE NO CHANGE IN THE LIBERAL PROGRAM.

IRELAND STILL THE GREAT ISSUE.

The New Premier Declares That the Home Rule Question is as Pressing as Ever—Gladstone's Attack on the House of Lords Indorsed—Principal Points in the Queen's Speech on Opening Parliament.

A Sensitive Plant.
The company are seated at the dinner table. Enter Baptiste (a servant, haggard, excited and exclaiming):
"Quick, quick—a glass of wine!"
People stare at each other, and at last the wish is complied with. Baptiste drinks off a glass of wine which has been poured out by the mistress of the house, who inquires what has happened.
"Oh, madame, I've been dreadfully upset! Ah, that wine has done me good! I feel better now. Only fancy, I have just managed to break both the large Sevres china marmalade dishes!"—Voltaire.

—Brooklyn Life.

LONDON, March 13.—A large crowd of people gathered in the vicinity of the foreign office to witness the arrival of the celebrities who were to attend the great meeting of the Liberals, which had been convened for noon. Lord Rosebery, the new premier, was loudly cheered and a warm welcome was also extended to other distinguished Liberal leaders. Lord Rosebery also received an ovation as he took the chair in order to preside at the meeting. Sir William Vernon Harcourt, who was the last member of the cabinet to arrive, was greeted with great enthusiasm.

The prime minister, in addressing the party, alluded with considerable feeling to the retirement of Mr. Gladstone, saying that they "would greatly miss that sublime and pathetic figure which enriched and ennobled, not merely the treasury bench, but the house itself." Continuing, he said: "It was thought in the high office to which I have been called there should be a declaration of policy. That is not necessary as we stand where we did. There will be no change of measures and although there has been a disastrous change of men, they are all pledged to the same policy. The same measures remain as they are, the program of the Liberal party, and it is not intended to recede from any one of them. The honor of England and the peace of Europe are safe in the hands of the present government. The Welsh church question will be pressed to a definite and successful conclusion."

As soon as the applause which had greeted his opening remarks had subsided, Lord Rosebery continued:

In regard to the Irish question we are bound to it by ties of honor and affection. My speech in the house of lords in 1891 seems to have raised some doubts as to my own position in regard to home rule. Those who have these doubts can only have read the speech in a cursory manner. The policy of home rule will not be less definitely pursued. If there is any doubt on the subject, one pledge which Gladstone has given in this connection is the continuance in his present office of the Right Hon. John Morley, chief secretary for Ireland. Mr. Morley has been offered a higher office, but he thought his duty not to resign his career from the cause of Ireland. (Cheers.)

On the house of lords issue Lord Rosebery fully indorsed Gladstone's late attack on the lords.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt, chancellor of the exchequer, followed in behalf of home rule and reform of the house of lords.

ISSUES IN THE QUEEN'S SPEECH.

When parliament resumed its sitting to-day, the speech from the throne was read. In it the queen says:

Negotiations are in progress with the United States for the purpose of executing the award of the court of arbitration in the question of the seal fisheries of the Bering sea. Two collisions accompanied by lamentable loss of life, lately occurred with the French colonial forces in West Africa. I await the report of the inquiry on the same basis as recently occurred with full confidence that they will be examined in a calm and dignified temper, as befits two great nations upon such an occasion.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons: The estimates for the public service will be laid before you. They will be found to make full and adequate provision for the defense of the empire.

My Lords and Gentlemen: The recent improvement in the state of Ireland has been continuous and marked. Agrarian crime has been reduced, under the administration of ordinary law, to the lowest point that has been reached for the last fifteen years. The condition, however, of a considerable body of the evicted tenants of that country requires early attention. A measure will be submitted to parliament for Scotland on the same basis as recently accorded to England and Wales and the exercise of direct local control of the liquor traffic. You will be asked to consider measures for the promotion of conciliation in labor disputes, for the amendment of the factory and mines act and for the reform of the method of conducting inquiries into fatal accidents in Scotland.

Only a few peers were present in the house of lords when parliament opened. United States Ambassador Thomas F. Bayard was in the diplomatic gallery.

The McCarthys assembled at 1 p. m. in committee room No. 15 of the house of commons and engaged in an animated discussion of Irish parliamentary matters. Mr. Justin McCarthy was re-elected chairman of the Irish parliamentary party.

THE MRS. KENSMANN MURDER.
The Husband Held Without Bail, Charged With the Crime.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 13.—A warrant charging Deidrich Kensmann with the deliberate murder of his wife Johanna, was sworn out before Justice Worthen this morning by Police Detective Ennis. Kensmann was arraigned, pleaded not guilty and was committed to jail without bail to await a hearing. It is charged that he did deliberately, willfully and with malice aforethought, beat, strike, choke and strangle his wife until she was dead.

Chief Speers is confident that Kensmann killed his wife that he might recover the insurance on her life, and that his mistress, Theodora Hoffmann, who was arrested Saturday, knows something of the matter, even if she did not actually help in the deed. For this reason no warrant has yet been applied for against her, as the chief wants, if possible to learn more of her history and if possible get a statement from her.

Over 15,000 women have registered to vote at the coming election in Denver and Highland, Colo.

John Rodgers was killed near Frankfort, Ky., by the Farmer's detective committee who claimed to have caught him with stolen plunder.

Texas Land for Sale!

Over 100,000 Acres Farm Land Situated in the Wichita Valley, Texas, and owned by the Wichita Valley R. R. Co., now for sale at low prices and on easy terms. Titles perfect. If you want a home in a warmer climate, you should know that this not only is the best and finest lying land in the state (deep, rich, well drained clay soil), but that it also has an exceptional healthy climate and in every way and manner is best adapted for homes for farmers from more northern localities, as they here can raise the same crops they are used to, besides all kinds of fruits. Winter wheat is the principal crop and generally brings Chicago prices. It is also a fine stock country and hog raising will pay well. There is plenty of timber along the streams. Only white people settle here and a good many Nebraska and Iowa farmers live there now. You should not buy land in any other part of the state before you have seen this fine country. Excursions from Omaha to Dundee March 13th, April 10th and May 5th. Fare for round trip only $12.75. We show our land summer and winter. For further information write to us or see which is hereafter illustrated, manufactured by the Reliable Incubator and Brooder Co., of Galax, Ill., stands today in the front rank of incubator achievement. Their success has been due very largely to the constructive and parts of the very fine change. This, however, would not have won for them the honors of which they are now enjoying, had they not had the foresight to see that the incubator itself is made of the best material, and that the incubator itself is made of the best material, and that the incubator itself is made of the best material.

THE RELIABLE INCUBATOR AND BROODER,
