Snow Drives the Son of Old China to Victory in Fourteen Pacing Class—Chestnut Another Winner.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 4.—The Grand Circuit meet closed here today. The program for the week was the most attractive ever presented, but the weather kept the attendance down on all days except Tuesday, when the number of spectators reached 4,000. Today there was a bleak, raw wind but the full program of events was carried out and those who attended were well entertained. No sensational time was made, but the finishes in all heats were close and exciting. Results:

FAVORITES ARE THE TRAILERS

Scotch Bush the Only One to Make Good at Gravesend—Results Elsewhere.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Scotch Bush, at 7 to 1, won the single winning favorite at Gravesend today. The majority of the crowd at 7 to 2, Clonmel, at 10 to 1, Roxane, at 5 to 2, and Bedeck, at 10 to 1, was the array of favorites. Scotch Bush and Lombré were all heavily played by the knowing one, particularly the first two. Results:

At Paris Grounds, St. Louis. The exercise work of Starter Dade in the dirt race at the fair grounds today brought down the number of the great majority of the crowd on his head. He went the field of 10 divisions, widely separated, with Scotch Bush in the lead. She opened up a big gap, which she maintained, winning by half a dozen lengths. The other horses were all heavily played by the knowing one. Results:

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—The only surprise in an otherwise featureless program at Harlan today was in the race at 10 to 1. Constellation the favorite finished last and The Conqueror, an outsider, crossed the wire with an easy winner. The superior work of Coburn, who had the mount on Mountebank, asserted itself in a second race in a brilliant finish from third place. Weather clear; track fast. Results:

CALLS SAMPSON TO APPEAR

Schley's Chief Counsel Demands That Absent Admiral Testify.

MUST REVIEW 'DEAR SCHLEY' LETTER

Hayner Thinks Its Present Form Contains Important Errors—Suntago Intended to Read Cienfuegos.

day of the battle of July 3. He related particulars of that engagement, telling how the Spaniards came out and were attacked by the American ships. He said that when Commodore Schley was told that they were "coming for us," he replied: "Then go for them." The helm was then put astern and from that time went straight toward the enemy. He next heard the commodore say: "Look out, Cook, they are going to ram you." The captain replied he would look out for the yards. He said he had no command to "stand by" and that Captain Cook replied the helm was astern. The witness said if the helm went to starboard the ship would ram Texas. The commodore's witness replied: "Texas, let it take care of itself. The commodore remarked that he did not mean to get blown up by a torpedo boat. The turn was made, in accordance with the commander's orders and Brooklyn swung 'well clear of the Texas.'"

HAMMER THROWING RECORD

John Finnagan of New York Makes It in Competition at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 4.—The athletic games under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic union at the Interstate fair today were made notable by the breaking of the world's record for hammer throwing by Finnagan of the Irish-American Athletic club of New York. He threw the hammer 120 feet 4 inches. The previous record of 107 feet 4 inches was held by him. Finnagan broke the record in the preliminary trials for the finals which will be held tomorrow.

STARBOARD AND PORT.

Captain Hodgson said that he estimated the distance of Brooklyn from Texas to be 250 or 260 yards. He said that he had formerly placed the distance at seventy-five or 100 yards, but that he had reached the conclusion that he was then mistaken. Commander Hodgson said at the time of his conversation with Commodore Schley he was surprised to hear the real reason for the Brooklyn being struck with one of Oregon's big guns. His fear had been especially of a collision and this, he thought, had only been averted by the swiftness of Brooklyn. Commander Hodgson also testified to the fact that Brooklyn's helm was then the word 'starboard' substituted for 'starboard' in describing that turn of that vessel. He thought the change had been made the next day. He said it was not correct to say the helm was put to port in order to bring the starboard battery to bear, the real reason for it being to bring the vessel around as quickly as possible to head off the Spanish ships. Still, he thought, it had made the longest turn.

MORNING PROCEEDINGS.

The Schley court of inquiry began its proceedings today with the reading of testimonies who were on the stand yesterday, and after they had corrected their previous testimony and made such additions thereto as suggested themselves they were excused and new witnesses were introduced. Captain Hodgson was the first to appear on the stand yesterday. He testified to correct the official copy of his testimony. He said that while he had not seen Brooklyn swing the starboard helm, he was sure it did so swing. Lieutenant Dyson, who was on the witness stand yesterday, was the court advised, then recalled. He testified to his knowledge of the fact that the ship was to how long their supply of coal on hand on May 28 would have held out under forced draught. The information was contained in a chart which was read by Judge Advocate Lundy. The witness also read the same information from his own statement. The chart covered the period from May 18 to June 1. It showed that on May 28 Brooklyn's supply of coal was 352 tons; Iowa's, 784 tons; Texas, 408 tons, and Marblehead, 122 tons. He said that on May 24 Brooklyn had coal enough aboard to have remained at anchor for 100 days. He said for twenty-five days and then to have returned to Key West; Massachusetts had enough to remain seventeen days and then to Key West; Iowa enough for eleven days, Texas seven days and Marblehead one day. This was assuming that they would have gone by the usual route. He said he gave an estimate of the length of time they could have remained and gone to Gonaves channel, Cape Cruz, Mole St. Nicholas, Kingston, Port Antonio, Jamaica, Guantanamo bay, the time of remaining on blockade being increased as the distance to the various ports was increased.
