HERE is the "General Rosalie Jones" of Omaha who would head the suffragists on a hiking trip to Lincoln carrying the precious petitions with 35,000 signers, which will at least force the next legislature to take action?

The suffragists of Omaha are not lacking in enthusiasm, and the numerous societies in Omaha and nearby suburbs and neighboring cities should be able to recruit quite a large army of hikers who would be willing to go to Lincoln and present the petitions in person to Hon. Addison Watt, secretary of state.

The hikers would undoubtedly find Nebraska weather much more propitious for hiking than New York weather. General Rosalie Jones and her band of suffragists are hiking 155 miles from New York to Albany, while Omaha is only fifty-five miles from Lincoln. The eastern hikers are averaging from seventeen to twenty miles a day; at that rate the local suffragists should be able to reach Lincoln in three days.

The women are striving to secure the 35,000 signers by March 1, instead of July 1, as was formerly the intention, and have already secured half of the necessary number of names. If they are successful in getting the required number by March 1, this state will share in the national suffrage fund to carry on the work.

Several prominent and influential names have been secured by the women who are circulating the petitions. Mrs. Louis C. Nash has her petition headed with Bishop Scannell, one of the few bishops in America to sign in favor of suffrage.

Luncheon at Loyal.

One of the largest social affairs Tuesday was the bridge luncheon given by Mrs. Morris Levy and Mrs. William L. Holman at the Hotel Loyal. Washington pink carnations and shaded lights formed a pretty decoration. Mrs. Ralph Holman assisted and covers were placed for eighty guests.

Afternoon Reception.

Mrs. Wynn M. Rainbolt and Mrs. Edward Lettner entertained delightfully at an afternoon tea at the home of the former today from 4 to 6 o'clock in compliment to Mrs. N. A. Rainbolt, who leaves next week for California, and for Mrs. John C. S. Wells' of Osmond, Neb.

The rooms were lighted throughout with candles and decorated mostly with white blossoms and ferns. In the dining room the candles had green shades. About 100 cards were issued, and assisting were:

- Misses—A. L. Williams, Frank Myers, John Williams, Elizabeth Griffith, W. H. Bucholtz, B. J. Davis, Joseph Barker 2d, Misses—Katherine Grable, Ethel Holmquist.

At the Orpheum.

Mrs. H. Marowitz chaperoned a box party of sixteen at the Orpheum Sunday evening, in honor of Miss Esther Epstein, the retiring president of the ladies' auxiliary to the William McKinley lodge, independent Order of Fraternal B'nith. The following made up the party:

- Misses—Eudora Epstein, Goldie Alpin, Esther Feinstein, Jennie Crane, Moore, Arthur Marowitz, Joseph L. Brodkey, Ben Foxman, Sam Danahy, Mr. and Mrs. Herman D. Marowitz, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Isaacson.

Evening Entertainments.

Mrs. and Mrs. Frank L. Hallergund and Mrs. and Mrs. Frederick W. Thomas will entertain at a dancing party at the Lincoln Art gallery on Wednesday evening, January 14.

Collegiate Alumnae.

The music department of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. Bavelle, leader. Schubert and Schumann were the subjects of papers by Mrs. H. L. Mossman and Mrs. Johnson and were followed by a general discussion of the lives of the great composers. Other numbers on the program were vocal solos by Misses Elizabeth Fry, Alice Fry, Avilda Moore, Margaret Guthrie, and a piano solo by Miss Mabel Kelly.

Attractive Luncheon.

Mrs. Frederick A. Nash was hostess at a beautifully appointed luncheon today at her home in honor of Mrs. William A. Hedick, who leaves next week to sail for an extended trip abroad. Killarney roses formed an attractive decoration of the table and covers were placed for Mesdames W. A. Hedick, Loxie Clark, Arthur Remington, W. J. Foyle, T. Burns, Warren Rogers, Joseph Barker, J. M. Daugherty, F. A. Nash and Miss Martha Sharp.

D. A. R. Meeting.

The Omaha chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Griffith. Mrs. George B. Darr gave a chapter reading and Mrs. Draper Smith read a report of the National Suffrage convention in Washington. A social hour followed.

Major Isaac Sadler, D. A. R.

The Major Isaac Sadler chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met this afternoon with Mrs. R. K. Hancock as hostess. The history of the national organization was the subject of the papers read and after each one was discussed it was played on the Victrola. Mrs. R. A. Newell was in charge of the program.

Et-A-Virp Club.

Junior Prom.

Arrangements for the junior prom of the high school have finally been completed after considerable wrangling and misunderstanding. The committee in charge of the hop had engaged Chambers academy, where all the class dances are given, and were finishing the details for the hop, when a number of the juniors, dissatisfied with the arrangements, thought to break up the school affair by giving a rival hop on the same evening. The school committee, unwilling to take the risk of falling down on the prom, changed the date, when the rival promoters followed suit and likewise shifted their dance. The committee has made an appeal to the students, with the result that the enemy has been disqualified from holding a dance and using the class name in connection with it, and the real prom, which will be held on January 7, has been pledged the support of the students.

Pleasures Past.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wedemeyer entertained the past matrons and Past Patron club of Vesta chapter at a water party last Wednesday evening at their home in Prairie Park. The house was beautifully decorated in accord with the holiday season. A three-course luncheon was served. There were twenty members present. Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Ross and Mr. and Mrs. William Nevitt were the guests of the club.

In and Out of the Bee Hive.

Mr. Hubert Millard, attending the military school at Culver, Ind., who came home to spend the holiday vacation with his parents, has returned to resume his studies. Miss Edna Riley, who has been spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Riley, leaves tonight for her school, Eden Hall, Philadelphia. Miss Florence Riley will return to Notre Dame, Ind., later in the week. Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Myers have returned from their visit in the east, accompanied by Mrs. F. Bert Gradoff of Chicago, formerly Miss Edith Cundiff of this city. After a brief visit with her parents, Mrs. Gradoff will return to her home in Chicago.

McGovern Plans to Do Away With the Paving Promoter

Thomas McGovern, commissioner of the department of public improvements, will see to it that the paving promoter during the new year. He has asked residents of the city where paving districts have been created to appear either at his office or the office of the city clerk and select their own material. Information as to the different materials will be kept on file for the information of those interested. "If the people would do this," said Commissioner McGovern, "it would greatly facilitate paving work and would do away with a lot of delays about which we receive many complaints. As soon as a district is created we cannot proceed with the improvement until the material has been selected."

Trouble with paving promoters has been so frequent that several methods of eliminating them from city improvement work have been suggested. Mr. McGovern is now adopting the scheme written into the home rule charter, which is to be submitted to the people for approval some time this year. The commissioner says this plan will work out better than any other so far suggested.

Would Have Park to Preserve Birds and Natural Forest

For the education of the public in natural history and archaeological citizens of Omaha and vicinity have incorporated the Pontonelle Forest association. They will hold a meeting January 12 to effect a permanent organization and plan to acquire land along the Missouri river bluffs in Douglas and Sarpy counties, to establish a museum of archaeology and natural history and to preserve and renew the natural forest growth and native bird and animal life. The idea was originated several years ago by Prof. Anson A. Tyler, Ph. D., dean of Bellevue college. The articles of incorporation filed in Lincoln Monday are the result of his endeavors to preserve for future generations a noble forest park, where the trees, birds, historic and prehistoric remains would be preserved in their present condition of wild naturalness. The incorporators of the association are Dr. Tyler, T. R. Kimball, C. M. Wilhelm, Fred I. Adams, Roy Towle, C. J. Ernst, Henry W. Yates, Alfred C. Kennedy, Howard H. Baldrice, C. C. Belden, Dr. A. F. Jones, C. F. McGraw, Dr. Harold Griffith, C. N. Olson, S. G. R. Towne and Rev. Stephen Stoekey, retiring president of Bellevue college.

CONTEST IS A SALES PLAN

The Bee's M. and M. Plan Helps Manufacturers to Sell Goods.

MORE PRIZES IN TWO WEEKS

Second Series Will Be Awarded on January 23—Many Are Now Absent in the Race for Honors.

The Bee M. & M. voting contest is a cleverly sales plan. It gets to the consumer and it distributes for the manufacturer and jobber. There are no puzzles to solve, no schemes to unravel, and better still it costs nothing to enter or finish. Like all effective sales methods, it is simple. Instead of spending thousands of dollars in various other kinds of advertising, the manufacturer, jobber and retailer offer, through the Omaha Bee to their patrons the money in hard cash and in valuable premiums. Though the M. & M. contest has been in operation only a month, its popularity is remarkable. Contestants are sending in nomination blanks from districts remotely distant. One would be nominated in her name from Van Tassell, Wyo. Of course, the contest department cannot enter contestants who live outside the district covered by this vigorous sales plan, but it is gratifying to know that the interest created by The Bee is so extensive.

On January 23 will be given away the second series of bonus prizes. There has been quite a stir-up in the standing of the many candidates, though the difference in actual rates among the leaders is insignificant. The standing of all contestants will be published in The Bee Sunday, January 11. In Omaha and Council Bluffs "Label Clubs" are quite the thing now and a number of them have already been organized. The young women who compose the membership meet once a week. The principal diversion is to sort wrappers, labels and coupons, then in separate packages and then vote them for their favorite candidate or organization.

The boys and girls are much elated over the rolling of the contest manager, which permits them to compete for the piano and diamond ring in their respective districts.

Save the Labels. Organizations are taking hold in a vigorous manner. The members of the various lodges, hospitals and societies are using every effort to persuade their friends to lend assistance. "Don't throw away your labels, vote them for some worthy organization," is a sign posted in a conspicuous place in the store of an enterprising retailer in South Omaha. The demand created for articles, the labels of which are good for votes, keeps steadily increasing. The public is beginning to realize that the money spent for these products is well spent. Many of the articles listed are made in Omaha. All of them are distributed by Omaha jobbers. The money spent for these goods stays at home where it belongs. The M. & M. contest, as conducted by The Bee, is a real menace to the mail order houses that enter into competition with the local merchants. What is true of Omaha is true of the other towns organized in the campaign. The M. & M. voting contest is keeping the local trade at home.

There are so many opportunities to collect votes in large numbers that nominees will make no mistake when they send in their nomination blanks at this time. The contest has yet three months to run. There are many prizes, therefore the opportunities are manifold. The contest manager will give you if you will call at the contest department, 24 Bee building. The phone number is Douglas 3119.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Broad Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburg Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

Woman Without Any Funds and With a Baby Seeks Help

Mrs. Wanda Skattam, 145 Cass street, appealed to Captain Heitfeldt Monday afternoon for protection against being ejected from her rooms by reason of her owing a month's room rent. With only 2 cents in her purse and a 6-month-old baby to care for, Mrs. Skattam, utterly without friends and deserted by her husband, has fought a losing battle for the last two months. Captain Heitfeldt assured her of shelter until work could be provided. Her case has been referred to charitable organizations in the city.

INTRODUCTORY SALE IN HONOR OF OUR 20TH ANNIVERSARY

Nemo DUPLEX SELF-REDUCING CORSETS

TRIPLE-STRIP

THE GREAT VALUE GIVING

1896 SELF-REDUCING (original) WITH TAPE STRAPS 1898 WITH HOSE-SUPPORTERS 1904 WITH LASTIKOP'S WEBBING 1909

SALE NOW IN PROGRESS In All the Leading Stores of the United States and Canada

NEMO CORSETS are the product of over a hundred patented inventions, covering many years of constant study. Each model represents not ONE but SEVERAL of these original inventions. Therefore, it is ABSURD to expect to find a SUBSTITUTE for Nemo Corsets among the many IMITATIONS that have sprung up in the wake of Nemo success. Some Nemo features are VISIBLE and can be copied closely enough in APPEARANCE to deceive an incautious buyer. Others—the Nemo "bridge," for instance—are beyond the skill of any imitator.

The New "Duplex" Self-Reducing Corsets

Called "duplex," because they render a double service—absolute control in the back, and perfect support in the front. Extending below the back steels are bands of semi-elastic Lastikop's Webbing, detached from the corset-body at the lacing ends (Fig. 1). This permits the close lacing of the lower part of the bands, to make them curve in under the body (Fig. 2), without interfering with the lacing of the corset proper. The effect is a perfect, smooth incurve (see large picture), which prevents corset-edge or bones from showing through, keeps corset from sliding up, and insures ease when you're seated. ABSOLUTELY NEW!

Improved Self-Reducing front, with its curved steels and flattening straps, gives excellent abdominal support and reduces both the abdomen and the upper limbs.

No. 327—with low bust $3.00
No. 328—medium bust $3.00
FINE WHITE COTTON, SIZES 20 TO 36

In style, fit, durability, comfort and special features, this is the GREATEST VALUE ever crowded into a $3.00 corset.
