MISS CHARLOTTE E. WHITE SPEAKS ON SOCIAL PURITY

Miss Charlotte E. White, national lecturer for the Child Conservation League of America, spoke on "Social Purity" yesterday afternoon at the North Presbyterian church. Miss White comes from Massachusetts and plans to remain in Omaha several months to organize branch leagues throughout the city. In dealing with her subject, the speaker warned the mothers of the care necessary in properly bringing up children. "Arm your children in innocence that is not ignorance and all the evil of the streets will not harm them," she said. "The greatest weapons of evil are secrecy and deceit, the most powerful armament of good, truth and open dealing." She advised the encouragement of healthy sports as natural and proper safeguard. "Fresh air and proper food are also factors for purity," she said. "Got anything you'd like to swap? Use the 'Swappers' Column."

Culls From the Wire

Leslie Ragan, who came to Los Angeles Sunday from Tucuman, N. M., shot and killed his wife's stepfather, Charles A. Divelbiss, after a quarrel. Then he started to the telephone to call a doctor, changed his mind, kissed his wife and shot and killed himself. C. C. Goss, republican national committeeman from Washington, died at Walla Walla, following an operation for appendicitis performed over a week ago. Out of an estimated total of 140,000 qualified voters in Virginia, 69,336 have signed petitions, calling upon Governor Henry C. Stuart to call a state-wide election to decide whether liquor shall continue to be sold in the state. Because Alfred Tuffeneau, third officer of the collier Monitor, held a Norwegian navigator's certificate, the Canadian maritime Parliament, it was announced at Ottawa yesterday, has found it undesirable to punish him as the man held responsible for the sinking of the Empress of Ireland, with the loss of more than 1,000 lives.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Dr. Faulk Presents Hitching Post to Board of Education.

Dr. W. J. Faulk, newly elected republican member of the Board of Education, presented the school district with a hitching post at the high school building last night. Faulk introduced the resolution commending his generosity. He has a team himself and is a busy physician. He figures that when he attends board meetings he must needs be ready for duty and to that end he needed a hitching post. The doctor has a sense of humor and he denies that the post has any political significance.

NO BIG BOOK ORDER IN SIGHT

Mike Zigich, who was acquitted on Murder Charge, Put Under Bonds to Appear in District Court. Koutsky-Pavlik won the school repair contracts for repairing Jungerman, West Side and high schools. The sum involved is $2,300. The board required a $2,000 bond for the work. July 27 was set as the day upon which the bids for supplies and coal were to be received. A letter from Mayor Hoctor about playgrounds was read by the board and then stored away. The board has paid no attention to the mayor's playground stuff. It may be that his honor will be able to scrape enough together to buy a few alderes for the parks should he succeed in winning the case that will take $50,000 out of the interest and sinking fund and dispose it handily in other funds.

Nothing is doing on big school book order according to President of the Board F. S. Richardson.

The board adjourned last night and immediately after the meeting went into executive session to discuss purchase of school books and the appointment of janitors. It is understood that the board has put its foot firmly down upon the attempt to spend a lot of money for school books. It was also said by members of the board last night that there would be few if any changes among the janitors. "We made the civil service rule," said one of the board members, "and we will enforce it. To get rid of a man good cause will have to be shown. Charges will have to be made and proved before a janitor can be removed under the new rule." Tax Hearing Proceeds. Hearing of the mandamus proceedings brought by the mayor to compel the city treasurer to pay over the $30,000, money collected in back taxes and paid into the interest and sinking fund, into the district funds will close today before Judge Leslie of the district court. Judge Sears yesterday turned the case over to Judge Leslie to complete the hearing. The morning was devoted to a showing on the part of John Paul Breen, Omaha attorney, that the law which compelled the money to be placed in the interest and sinking fund was unconstitutional. The argument was continued until the afternoon and City Attorney Murphy and Assistant City Attorney Winters will conclude the argument today. In their opening statement to the court yesterday both Winters and Murphy told the court that to grant the mandamus sought by Mayor Hoctor would be to take more than $30,000 of the taxpayers' money and turn it to the continuance of a political machine that has afflicted the people of South Omaha for a period overlong. The council postponed its meeting from yesterday until today in the hope of having a decision on the case, it is said. Mayor Hoctor has been telling people in different parts of the city what improvements he will make if he wins the suit now in court, it is said. Some of the administration crowd express great confidence in the outcome of the suit, while the taxpayers at large are with the city attorney and the city treasurer.

Zigich Put Under Bond.

Mike Zigich, young Austrian, employed as a driver by a local ice company, was bound over yesterday morning to the district court in the sum of $1,000 for carrying concealed weapons by Judge James Callanan. Witnesses testified that Zigich killed a bad dog. Others insisted that he had threatened neighbors. Friends of Zigich say the man has suffered remorse since he killed Pete Babich, a countryman, some months ago. On the murder charge Zigich was acquitted, but it is said that he dreams of the dead man and that for this reason many of his kinspeople fear him. The case was appealed and Zigich released under bond.

May Get Incinerator.

South Omaha is to have a gigantic garbage incinerator if the plans of promoters and capitalists do not miscarry. Headed by Beach Taylor, a number of Omaha capitalists spent yesterday afternoon in South Omaha going over the matter of a franchise for a new incinerator plant. It is understood that the plant will be a large one. The council did not meet yesterday afternoon, however, as per schedule and the promoters contented themselves with going over the matter informally with city business men. If the plant is constructed it is said that it will give employment to a large number of men and at the same time will clean up the city. Since the Union Stock Yards incinerator plant has been turned into a potato manufactory for hog cholera treatment the hope of the city to dispose of its garbage to the stock yards has been dissipated. Mower for Police Judge. Fred Mower, well known Eagle and prominent in local republican politics, will enter the race for police judge, it is thought, some time this week. Mower is well known in South Omaha and has worked in the packing houses and at his trade as a painter. He is one of the stalwart workers of the Eagles and is now trustee of the local lodge. He has served in the office of the tax commissioner and in the county court house. He has been urged to enter the police judge race. Mower stated last night that he had not made up his mind to run, but that he had the matter under consideration. M. W. Reed, Jim Austin and J. E. Heath are also candidates for the republican nomination for police judge. Magic City Gossip. The Mystic Workers will meet tonight at Odd Fellows' hall, Twenty-fourth and M streets. George H. Brewer left yesterday on a business trip to Columbus, O., and other eastern points. Office space for rent in Bee office, 218 N street, on reasonable terms. Well known location. Tel. South 27. Chester Chisek, who lives in the western part of the state, is the guest of his uncle, J. V. Chisek. The Merry-makers' club will give a dancing party at the Moose home Wednesday evening, July 16. James Krajick has returned to his work in the city treasurer's office after a vacation of two weeks. Inquests upon the deaths of James Hamilton and Clarence Jones will be held this morning at Larlin's auctioneers. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ladislav Wolak died Saturday afternoon. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon. The Misses Julia and Hannah Bronschan have returned home after a visit of two weeks spent at Watson, Neb. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sheldon of Percival, Ia., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Chisek. Woman wants to take washing into house. Telephone South 325. There will be an ice cream social at the Christian church, Twenty-third and I streets, on next Thursday evening. The funeral of James Lawler was held from the St. Agnes church Sunday afternoon. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. Joe Vocasek, former councilman in South Omaha, is visiting here with his brother, Frank Vocasek. Joe Vocasek now lives in Dodge. C. M. Rich, former member of the South Omaha School Board, has filed for the republican nomination for county commissioner from the Fourth district. Mrs. R. C. Brannan and her two daughters from Fullerton are visiting with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Wright, 1328 North Twenty-eighth street. The funeral of Clarence Jones, who killed himself yesterday, will be held this morning at 11 o'clock at Larlin's auctioneers. The body will be sent to the old home of the Jones family at Loveland, Ia. Miss Isabelle Flaherty, stenographer to City Attorney Henry C. Murphy, will be here this evening for fortnight's vacation in the Black Hills. She will visit Deadwood and Hot Springs, S. D., with her aunt, Miss Nellie Laville. A. C. Watson of Plainville took the highest price of the year yesterday when he sold a load of cattle on Monday for prices ranging from $1 to $5.50 per 100. The named figure is the blue ribbon price for the year. The funeral of James Hamilton, who was killed in an accident at Armour's plant Sunday, will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at his late residence, 216 U street. Rev. Dr. Robert L. Wheeler will preside at the funeral services and interment will be made in Laurel Hill cemetery. Mrs. W. Frisk, 430 G street, celebrated her forty-seventh birthday by giving a dinner for her friends. Jerry Howard Gives Five Dollars for Irish Defense Fund

"By way of example find enclosed $5 my humble contribution," writes Jerry Howard, "please forward it to Michael J. Ryan to assist in arming and equipping the Irish volunteers." Jerry sends a long explanation along with his money, part of which follows: "I desire to call attention to these long distance Irish warriors—hillside men who are everlastingly finding fault with the Irish Parliamentary party, and continually shouting physical force for Ireland's emancipation that the time is ripe for action. The Irish nationalists should be grateful to Sir Edward Carson for setting the example by organizing the landlords' tools, the Orange fools, at the dictation of the English Tories to oppose with arms home rule. With such precedents who shall blame the Irish people for organizing and procuring arms to add emphasis to their contention for self-government. John E. Redmond has commissioned Michael J. Ryan of Philadelphia, president of the United Irish League of America, to appeal the Irish in America to participate in Ireland's defense by contributing towards the arming and equipping the Irish volunteers. "The rank and file of Irish-Americans are all right. However, there is a little coterie, or clique of them, having headquarters in New York, and elsewhere, who claim to be the legitimate owners of the Irish cause, although these fellows never did anything practical in their lives towards the freedom of Ireland. This clique of dictators have a few disciples too in the two Omahas who are likewise obstructing Irish-Americans from doing something tangible towards Ireland's emancipation. The proof of the pudding is in the eating, consequently I desire to put these 'Moryagh' hillside warriors on record."

The current Leslie's Weekly contains portraits of two faces familiar in Omaha, President A. L. Mohler of the Union Pacific, referred to as having begun his career as a clerk, and Averell Harriman, son of the late E. H. Harriman. Just appointed vice president of the road at the age of 23. "I advised the boys when they enlisted for the Spanish war to take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with them, and have received many thanks for the advice given," writes J. H.
