Railroad Man Dies—Burlington head-quarters has received notice of the death of E. S. Prindville, traveling passenger agent, with headquarters at Pittsburgh, Pa. Mr. Prindville was well known by Omaha railroad men, having been here many times. Short Weight Case Dismissed—Charges were brought in police court against G. F. Hopper, a grocer, of 2824 Sherman avenue, that he gave short weight on oysters. It was charged that he was short fifteen ounces on two quarts. The case was dismissed. Buys a Home—Daniel Desdunes, porter in charge of the billiard room at the Commercial club and head of the Desdunes orchestra that furnishes music for Commercial club luncheons, has purchased a home on Burdette street, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets. It was bought from Sam Markovitz for $2,500. Putting Stoves in Cars—The street railway company has commenced putting stoves into its cars and will start the fires as soon as the weather becomes cold enough so that they are needed. The city ordinance requires that fires in stoves in the street cars shall be started November 1, but the company will not wait until this date in the event the weather should turn cold.

Six Offenders Get Sentences in the United States Court

Six persons who were indicted by the recent federal grand jury were arraigned before Judge Morris in United States district court and pleaded guilty to criminal charges. All offenders were given sentences. William Murphy pleaded guilty to introducing liquor on the Winnebago reservation and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to serve sixty days in the Dodge county jail. Howard Back pleaded guilty to violating the Mann act in transporting Evelyn McClintock from Sioux City, Ia., to Omaha for immoral purposes. He was sentenced to serve four months in the Hall county jail. Leo Armstrong stole a coat from the federal building last spring and admitted the theft. He was sentenced to serve six months in the Dodge county jail. Orta Grover admitted stealing from a box car on the Union Pacific tracks and was sentenced to five months in Dodge county jail. Albert Scott was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to thirty days in the Dodge county jail on a charge of impersonating a United States officer. Al Clay pleaded guilty to selling liquor without a government license and was fined $100 and costs and given sixty days in the Douglas county jail.

Policemen "Ask" for Five Days' Lay-Off

All policemen have "asked for a five-day lay-off." They made the request upon the order of the police commissioner, who is cutting down expenses to prevent a $4,000 deficit. Acting Chief of Police Dempsey said the coppers had accepted the order without protest. Chief of Police Dunn is on a hunting trip. Before he left Tuesday he mailed thanks to the policemen which, filled out, are requests for leaves of absence.

Salts Fine for Aching Kidneys

We eat too much meat which clogs Kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders. You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Advertisement.

WOULD BUY THE AUDITORIUM

Real Estate Exchange Figures it is a Good Purchase.

DISCUSS CURRENCY MEASURE

Some Members Would Have the Bill Laid By, While Others Suggest It Be Given Speedy Action One Way or Another.

Members of the Real Estate exchange yesterday continued its committee for investigating the practicability of the purchase of the Auditorium by the city, after hearing the report of the special committee, with H. F. Wyman, chairman. The committee refused to make a recommendation, but asked that further investigation be made. However, the report contained a lot of information. It was estimated by the committee that the $25,000 asked for the Auditorium would be about 60 cents on the dollar of the cost of the Auditorium as it stands. It reported a seating capacity of 5,000, which with some slight alterations could be made 6,000. The building proper, according to the report, cost $100,000; the furniture and fixtures $50,000; the land originally $3,500; which makes a total of $153,500. The assessed valuations reported at $138,000. To finish the interior, according to the original plans, it was reported would cost $10,000; to finish the exterior, according to original plans, $15,000.

W. H. Green sprung a suggestion on the exchange for a new bridge across the Missouri river at Florence. If the street car company would not build it, some interurban would, he said, and he had no doubt that a little agitation along that line would soon bring the bridge. "The retail business of Omaha," he said, "needs the new business this project would bring. It would open up a field of trade for Omaha out into Iowa for a distance of 100 miles." He said he had taken the matter with Missouri Valley parties and had secured the promise that if the bridge were built there, Missouri Valley would finish a hard road between the bridge and Missouri Valley. He said he had made an investigation and had learned that bed rock in the river at Florence is only five feet down. A resolution was adopted by the exchange providing for the appointment of a committee to make an exhaustive investigation of the practicability of such a project. The committee is to be composed of three men from each of the following organizations, the Real Estate exchange, the Commercial club, the Retailers' association, the Improvement club.

The currency bill received marked attention at the exchange meeting when the subject was started by J. B. Haynes, who read a long paper on the subject. He hoped and believed that the senate would hold the bill for fuller and more exhaustive discussion than did the house before it passed the measure. He said there was no doubt but that it had been retrograded through the house. He said the banks of Omaha alone would lose $7,000,000 or $8,000,000 of their reserves if the bill went through, as there would be a general contraction of credit.

F. H. Myers followed in the discussion, saying that Haynes had made a lot of mere assertions. He held that instead of a general contraction of credit through-out the country there would be a general expansion of credit that would do us all good. He based his argument on the proposition that the national banks are now carrying 40 per cent in reserves, while the law only requires them to carry 15 per cent. "Under the new bill," he said, "the regional banks would stand at the elbow of the national banks ready to help them at any time, and it would not be necessary for them individually to carry so large a reserve. The consequence would be that this extra money now tied up could be loaned to you and me and the rest who need it to work with, and there would be a general expansion of credit."

Both Mr. Myers and John F. Flack, president of the City National bank, argued that instead of asking the senate to hold up the bill they ask that it be pushed with whatever changes or amendments are necessary, so that one way or the other the matter can be settled, as the pending of the bill with all the adverse talk about it is hurting business more than the bill itself can. Definite action on the matter was deferred to the next meeting.

Wolfe is After the Smoking Chimneys

R. U. Wolfe, city smoke inspector, is chasing that elusive article with camera obscura and intends to prosecute rooming houses and hotels as well as establishments which violate the anti-smoke ordinance. "With winter here and the furnaces open the smoke nuisance is being felt again, although we have succeeded in squelching it to a great extent," said Wolfe. "We are going right on after this nuisance until it is in reality abated."

CLARENCE C. WENDELL DIES AFTER BEING ILL ONE YEAR

Clarence C. Wendell, 484 Lincoln avenue, a clerk in the employ of the Nebraska Telephone company, died yesterday at the Methodist hospital from consumption. Wendell was about 21 years old and had lived in Omaha all his life. He had been suffering from the disease for several months and he was taken to Tucson, Ariz., by his brother September 12, but was brought back to Omaha about the first of October because the Arizona doctors were of the opinion that he came to Arizona too late for relief. He was well known about Omaha and is survived by a father, a mother, two brothers and a sister, all of whom live in Omaha. No funeral arrangements have yet been made.

UNIVERSITY OF OMAHA ORGANIZES Y. M. C. A. CLUB

Wednesday noon a meeting of the boys at the University of Omaha was held for the purpose of organizing a Young Men's Christian association club. The object of the club, besides religious purpose, is to promote good fellowship among the students and to give members practice in parliamentary law. The following were elected as officers: Clinton Halsey, president; Oldham Paisley, vice president; Findley Jenkins, secretary; Elmer Rhodes, treasurer. For sergeants-at-arms Andy Dow and George High were elected and the following were selected as a committee to draw up a constitution: Victor Jorgensen, Roy Greeley and James Westerfield.

MOHLER RETURNS OPTIMISTIC

With Judge Lovett Union Pacific President Inspects Lines.

IS LOOKING FOR LARGE CROPS

Says Farmers of Kansas Are in the Best of Spirits, Even Though They Had Small Crops for This Year.

President Mohler and Chief Engineer Huntley of the Union Pacific were back from the west, having accompanied Judge Lovett, chairman of the Harriman system of roads from Kansas City to Salt Lake City on his trip to Los Angeles, where he will remain several weeks. The Union Pacific officials met Judge Lovett at Kansas City and proceeded leisurely over the Kansas, Wyoming and Utah lines, making an inspection of the properties. Speaking of conditions throughout the country over which they traveled, President Mohler says the prospects for a large crop next year are excellent. In Kansas there has been an unusual rainfall during the last few weeks and the acreage of winter wheat sown is up to if not greater than last year. Farmers are receiving high prices for everything they have to sell and instead of being discouraged by reason of the crop failure this season, they are more enthusiastic than ever before.

Business Satisfactory. Mr. Mohler found business satisfactory, the road in the best of condition and traffic the heaviest in the history of the Union Pacific and Short Line. Westbound business is a little light, but eastbound there never has been anything that would compare with the volume now moving and in sight for the future.

In interviews given out at points along the route of travel Judge Lovett is quoted as having said that in traveling about the country he had found conditions perfectly satisfactory in certain localities and not quite so much so in others. He hopes that conditions will adjust themselves under the recent tariff legislation, but never expressed an opinion as to what would be the ultimate outcome. Judge Lovett is quoted as having said that he is pleased with the condition of the Harriman properties, adding that while they would be kept so, he did not think there would be any extensive extensions or improvements contemplated until a change comes over the money market in the east. The bond market, the judge says, is a little off and about the only things that can be sold for what they are really worth are $20 gold pieces. So long as these conditions maintain, the judge does not look for any great activity in the way of railroad building.

Many Applicants Appear for the Job Vacated by Guild

A stream of applicants for the position of commissioner of the Omaha Commercial club is already moving toward the application booth since the resignation of Commissioner J. M. Guild has been announced. No, they do not all come in person, so it is sometimes hard to tell just who is applying. Many are applying by proxy. A. F. Stryker, secretary of the South Omaha Live Stock exchange, has applied and a delegation of South Omaha Stock yards men have been busy around the Commercial club to see what they can do in his behalf. A string of other likely fellows hung around the Commercial club lobby this morning waiting for an opportunity to interview Commissioner Guild. They all denied they were looking for the job, and all had other business which they wanted to discuss. William Hughes, secretary of the Nebraska Bankers' association, appeared in the room, but denied that he was seeking to apply for the job. South Omaha bankers appeared in the line and there was some speculation as to whether they were present to do what they could for the candidacy of Stryker or whether they were boosting for Hughes. The matter of choosing a list of candidates is left to a sub-committee of the executive committee of the Commercial club.

Old Time Sores And Ulcers Healed

Old Wounds Often Bother Many Years After.

People who have been poisoning and anointing an old sore for years and years marvel at the way it heals quickly after using S. S. S. When you come to realize that the skin and the flesh beneath are composed of a network of tiny blood vessels you solve the mystery. There are wonderful medicinal properties in S. S. S. that follow the course of the blood stream just as naturally as the most nourishing food elements. It is really a remarkable remedy. It contains one ingredient, this active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutrition. And the medicinal elements of this marvelous blood purifier are just as essential to well-balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats, and sugars of our daily food. Not only this, but if from the presence of some distributing poison there is a local or general interference of nutrition to cause boils, carbuncles, abscesses and kindred troubles, S. S. S. so directs the local cells that this poison is rejected and eliminated from their presence. Then, too, S. S. S. has such specific stimulation on these local cells as to preserve their mutual work and a proper relative assistance to each other. Not one drop of minerals or drugs is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and just insist upon having it and if you desire skillful advice and counsel upon any matter concerning the blood and skin, write to the medical department, The Swift Specific Co., 215 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. Do not allow some zealous clerk to larrup the atmosphere in eloquence over something "just as good" as S. S. S. Beware of all substitutes.
