STATE BOARDS EMPLOYES
Practice Republicans Discarded is Resumed by Democrats.
REFORM HAS GONE BACKWARD
State Institutions Become the Homes of Employees Who Find There Every Comfort Even to Carriages.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, May 27.—(Special.)—According to a state officer, a member of the Board of Public Lands and Buildings, the work of the former administration compelling state employes of institutions who had families, to keep their families down town instead of at the institution boarding at the expense of the state, is being done away with under the present administration.
"We had completely done away with boarding families of employes at the expense of the state at one state institution," said this official. "Since the new administration came into power, employes are keeping their families and children at the institutions and the state is paying the bills. At some of the institutions they even take the horses and carriages of the state and carry the children backward and forward from school in addition to feeding them at state expense."
Governor Gone Away.
"Sometimes these reform administrations are a long ways from the reform proposition. Take the governor for instance. He criticized Governor Aldrich because he was out of his office so much making speeches, and yet the present governor is out a darn sight more than Aldrich was. Just now he is off somewhere for several days skyarking around and we can't award the contract for the State Fair Agricultural Hall building because he is not here. He spent two or three weeks down at Washington, goes to Falls City pretty often, makes speeches at different places, just as Aldrich did, notwithstanding he promised the people if he was elected he would stay in his office and attend to business and show the people of Nebraska what a business man in the governor's chair could do. I don't hear these democratic papers who criticized Aldrich for doing the same thing, saying anything about Morehead. I like the governor first rate, but I think he ought to make good on his promises of reform."

Bid on State Fair Building.
W. J. Assenmacher & Co. of Lincoln were the lowest bidders for the erection of the new agricultural building on the State Fair grounds. The award of the contract will not be made to the Assenmacher company until the governor returns from his present trip and approves the action. All bids proved to be for a larger amount than the legislature appropriated, and the board cut out much of the ornamental work on the building and cut the foundation down to a foot and a half. This enabled contractors to come below the $100,000 appropriation. The bids were as follows:

Original Bid.	New Bid.
W. J. Assenmacher & Co., Lincoln	$125,233
Buck & Wind, Omaha	125,990
Rasmussen-Kyle, Omaha	128,250
Trenton Building Co., Lincoln	130,000
Gould & Son, Omaha	131,500

Governor Missing From His Office
(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Neb., May 27.—(Special.)—Wanted—Information leading to the discovery of one governor whose whereabouts at this time is unknown to his office force. Disappeared from the office some time last Friday and has not been heard from since. He was a man from 45 to 55 years of age, would weigh all the way from 150 to 175 pounds, fair complexion and good to look upon by about one out of every two dozen office seekers. Did not look like a democrat, but claimed to be one with standard proclivities. When last seen was supposed to have an appointment of district judge Douglas Thompson secreted about his person; he may have been abducted by Missouri river pirates and being held for ransom."
None of the governor's office force seem to know where he is. Some say he has gone fishing; another says that he is down to Hot Springs; another says he will be home Wednesday; while another does not look for him until Saturday. Colonel Preston says he don't give a tinker's toonah where he has gone as long as he brings back some fish, so the public will have to live in ignorance as to whether its democratic governor is in Nebraska or Missouri. In any event, the offices are being cleaned up, fixed up and fussed up so that an executive, when he does show up, be he Governor Morehead or Lieutenant Governor McKelvie, will have a clean carpet on which to deposit his muddy boots.

BERT ROGERS ACCUSED OF TWISTING ON INSURANCE
(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, May 27.—(Special.)—Tomorrow Bert Rogers will know whether he can continue to do business in Nebraska as a solicitor for insurance. Today he had a hearing before the insurance department of the state on a charge of "twisting."
The complaint was made by J. H. Caruthers, general agent for the Great Western Accident Insurance company of Des Moines, who charged that Rogers after leaving the service of the Great Western entered the employ of the Continental Casualty company of Chicago and at once began his "twisting" methods against the Des Moines company. Rogers denied the charges and a number of affidavits both in favor of Rogers and against his, were read, as well as oral testimony given at the hearing. Auditor Howard took the matter under advisement and will give his opinion tomorrow.
"Twisting," as it is called by insurance people is known in common parlance as "knocking."

C., Sunday, May 26, supposedly for the purpose of having the list of Indians to whom he recommends that the long looked for head right be paid in cash, approved at the Indian office. M'GOVERN VETOS SUFFRAGE REFERENDUM
MADISON, Wis., May 27.—Governor McGovern today vetoed the bill ordering a referendum in 1914 on the question of extending the ballot to Wisconsin women. The governor objects to the bill on the ground that suffrage having been defeated by a majority of 10,000 in Wisconsin last November another referendum on the subject so soon would be unwise and would result only in a more emphatic rejection. He also argues that affirmative action on suffrage, if a mistake, can never be corrected, while unfavorable action may be corrected at any time.
