Candidates Coming Out in Plenty

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Neb., June 5.—(Special.)—Senator John Heasty of Fairbury was at the state house yesterday, having just returned from a trip to Kansas. Senator Heasty has been frequently mentioned in connection with the nomination for governor on the republican ticket, but no one has ever been able to discover whether the gentleman really has a longing to fill the position or not.

He has also been accused of casting longing eyes in the direction of the attorney general's office since the prospects are good that there may be something in it for the future beside board and clothes for the incumbent. In this, however, the Fairbury statesman may find opposition, as it is generally understood that if Grant Martin thinks he has had enough that either his deputy, Mr. Ayers, or his assistant, Mr. Edgerton, will throw their hats into the ring.

There are now several "mentioned" candidates for that republican nomination for governor. Everybody but himself acknowledges that Lieutenant Governor McKelvie wants to try for the goal, and since he won glory at a colored picnic lately as judge of a baby show the colored brethren are all for him, and that means a great deal.

President of the Senate J. H. Kemp of Fullerton looks mighty good to some people as the man to lead the forces back to victory in Nebraska. Kemp made a good record in the senate last winter and showed good timber for the governorship.

Then it must not be forgotten that there was one republican at least over in the house who gave indications of leadership, Representative James Nichols of Madison. Nichols, though on the minority side in that chaotic body, never got up to speak but what everybody listened to what he had to say, which is more than could be said of anyone on the majority side.

IMPERIAL LAND COMPANY BUYS WILTSEY RANCH

HEMINGFORD, Neb., June 5.—(Special.)—The Imperial Land and Cattle company of Waukesha, Wis., has bought the Charles E. Wiltsey farm of about 3,000 acres four and one-half miles east of town for $2750 per acre. In addition to this they have bought his herd of Guernsey cows and his stock cattle. The deal approximated about $100,000 and puts the new owners in possession of one of the finest tracts of agricultural land in northwestern Nebraska. There is in the neighborhood of 800 acres under cultivation and in addition about a section is seeded down to tame grass.

The new company will erect silos and make much improvement in buildings and in developing the farm.

The Farmers' Creamery company here is taxed to its capacity already this season. Owing to the heavy runs of cream it had to operate the creamery Sunday to keep up. Automobile trucks have been bought by private parties to haul in the cream and they gather the cream from a distance of forty miles west and about twenty-five miles east of town. The creamery is a co-operative association of the farmers and is owned by the farmers in shares of $100 each.

A fire broke out in Isaac Rooker's store room Memorial day while most of the people were at the cemetery. Some soldiers were here from Fort Robinson to play ball and they put out the fire quickly.

Miss Evelyn McBurney of Hemingford and Miss Cora Henderson of Curly have been elected primary and intermediate teachers for next year.

The Board of Education is looking for a principal and an assistant principal, those elected having been previously elected at other points.

The Spencer Lumber company, a branch of the Central Lumber company of Denver, has decided to close out its business here and leave the town. There are two other yards here and there appears to be insufficient business for the three.

The last of the old board walks have been replaced this week with cement walks.

William Dilling was thrown out of his automobile and painfully injured while running without lights Saturday night. The car was badly wrecked and took fire from the oil lamps, but he extinguished the blaze in time. He was alone and was for a time under the car, but managed to crawl out.

Library Election at Shelton.
SHELTON, Neb., June 5.—(Special.)—A special election was held here Tuesday which was for the purpose of granting the right to the village board to sell to the library board one and one-half lots on which will be erected a Carnegie library, and the proposition carried almost unanimously, there being 102 votes for and 13 against. The Carnegie Library association has offered to donate $20,000 for the erection of the building, and it is expected that money will be available soon.

Omaha Law Firm Files Suit for Fees

BEATRICE, Neb., June 5.—(Special.)—Another attachment suit against the Iowa-Nebraska Public Service company was brought yesterday in the district court by the law firm of Stout, Rose & Wells of Omaha for $3,328.88. They state that a contract had been made whereby the law firm was to receive a retainer fee of $1,000 a year, and in addition a reasonable compensation for legal services. County Treasurer Hevelone yesterday received a telegram stating that bankruptcy proceedings had been started against the company at Omaha.

At a meeting of the County Board of Supervisors yesterday a contract was entered into by Marshall and Gage counties for the maintenance of the road on the county line. All of the county bridges will be built and maintained jointly by the two counties. The Standard Bridge company of Omaha was allowed $4,000 for work done in the county.

Hubert D. Horn and Miss Ida Day, both of this city, were married at Fairbury yesterday afternoon by Judge Boyle.

Thomas Jicka and Mrs. Mary Steckmann, both of Ohiowa, Neb., were married here yesterday.

Talbot Addresses Picnic at Osmond

OSMOND, Neb., June 5.—(Special Telegram.)—A monster crowd attended the Modern Woodmen picnic held under the auspices of Osmond camp, Modern Woodmen of America, here yesterday. Three thousand people were in attendance and enjoyed the extensive program arranged by the local committee, the main feature being the address of Head Consul Talbot of Lincoln, who was present through invitation from the Osmond camp. The head consul's address was greatly appreciated by all. This was the fourth annual Woodmen picnic held by the local Woodmen and it proved to be a greater success than any former efforts. The weather man seemed to be in sympathy with the movement, as the day proved to be one of the most balmy and beautiful of the season.

Notes from Sutherland.
SUTHERLAND, Neb., June 5.—(Special.)—Frank Cox is the new postmaster at Sutherland, taking possession June 1. He succeeds C. M. Reynolds of the Sutherland Free Lance, who resigned several weeks ago after having served over seven years as postmaster.

Crop conditions are much bettered as a result of the general rains of the last week. Wheat had begun to suffer from the hot winds and drouthy condition, but now it is expected that a fairly good crop will mature. Corn is doing nicely, while sugar beets and alfalfa promise a good yield.

Several trainloads of cattle recently have been shipped in from Arizona and places south for the summer. The animals will be ranged in the hills in north Lincoln and south McPherson counties.

Sutherland's new hotel building shortly will be ready for occupancy. The hotel in town burned down several months ago, and since then the traveling public has found it necessary to camp around at private houses. The new one is of brick and will be run on the European plan.

Notes from Fairbury.
FAIRBURY, Neb., June 5.—(Special.)—Judge L. M. Pemberton of Beatrice is holding a short session of district court here this week. A number of equity cases are on the docket.

A change has been made in the train dispatching force here. Lee McFarland, car tracer, has been promoted to train dispatcher in place of C. A. Prewitt, resigned.

Stockville Boy Scalded.
STOCKVILLE, Neb., June 5.—(Special.)—Arthur Doid, the 3-year-old son of George J. Doid, county clerk, was severely scalded yesterday. He pulled the plug from a washing machine and was badly burned on breast and legs. He is resting better and they believe he will recover. Mr. Doid is in Omaha on business this week.

License Fight at Table Rock.
TABLE ROCK, Neb., June 5.—(Special.)—The village board granted a license to sell liquor to G. A. Alexander of Falls City Tuesday afternoon after an extended hearing. The remonstrators gave notice of appeal and the matter probably will come up before Judge Raper at Pawnee City Saturday. In the meantime the "thirst parlor" remains closed.

HALL HAS BOND IDEAS

Wants Interurbans to Issue Them Only to Cover Actual Cost.

OFFICIALS HOLD CONFERENCE

Majority of Railway Board Inclined to Grant Concessions that Will Permit Building of Line in Nebraska.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, June 5.—(Special.)—If Railway Commissioner Thomas L. Hall has his way there will be no development of public utilities in Nebraska in the future on the bond proposition unless the issue of bonds covers the actual expenditure and the estimates made by the commission's own experts may not be considered as reliable.

Such at least was his position this morning when Sanford B. Ladd, representing the Northern Construction company, appeared before the railway commission this morning to discover what the commission proposed to do regarding the issue of $1,000,000 in stocks and bonds to the Omaha, Lincoln and Beatrice interurban railway for the construction of its line from Lincoln to Omaha.

Mr. Ladd asked the commission to submit its proposition of what would be required of the construction company which had agreed to take over the bond issue of the interurban company in payment for constructing the road, and was told that the commission should finally grant the issue, would require that as soon as the road was completed the company should deposit $25,000 in cash to guarantee that the road would have sufficient backing to insure its maintenance for some time to come.

This was satisfactory to Mr. Ladd. He said that the Northern Construction company expected to do the square thing with the people of Nebraska. "We are coming into the state as a domestic corporation," said Mr. Ladd, "and we have no desire whatever to ask more than we are entitled to under the laws of your state."

Bonds to Cover Cost.
Mr. Hall, of the commission, developed the fact that he was opposed to the bonds until after the road had been built and then the bonds should be issued to cover actual cost of building. He rather questioned the figures introduced by Mr. Gerber, physical engineer and expert of the commission, and his ability to estimate the cost of railway construction and asked him where he ever had any experience along that line.

Mr. Gerber was for nine years an expert in the employ of the Union Pacific railway and his business was to make estimates on grading and construction in the building of railway lines, and he thought that he knew something about building railways. He exhibited figures and explained at some length, seemingly to the satisfaction of everybody present but Mr. Hall, why such and such would cost a certain per cent of the construction expense. He placed the grading on the Omaha, Lincoln & Beatrice at 24 cents per cubic yard on an average.

He said that from Lincoln to Ashland the grading cost would be much less, but that as soon as the river was crossed at that place the roughness of the country would run the cost up a great deal higher. It will take forty-seven waiting stations to cost $20 each, the same number of waiting platforms to cost $11 each and six station buildings at a cost of not less than $1,200 each and might run higher, according to the grade of railway built.

Gerber Questioned Closely.
Mr. Hall seemed rather to doubt the ability even of Mr. Gerber to judge the percentage of cost of legal advice, etc., that would be needed, and while he said that he had been in close touch with that part of the game while with the Union Pacific construction department, the commission did not seem to be satisfied and spent about an hour trying to catch Mr. Gerber in some kind of a statement which would tend to show that he did not know what he was talking about. However, Mr. Gerber seemed to know the construction business so thoroughly that he came out of the ordeal so sufficiently clear that he was able to go home and eat a square meal.

The bonds which seemed to stick in the throat of Commissioner Hall was the right of the commission to authorize a sale of stock and bonds for more than the construction cost. He did not want the bonds issued until after the road was built and also demanded to know if the Lincoln Traction company, the Omaha, Lincoln & Beatrice company and the Northern Construction company were together in the deal, and insisted that Mr. Ladd should give the names of all the officials of the construction company.

Company Affiliations.
Mr. Ladd seemed willing to do so, but said he had no roster of the company officials with him, but gave the names of some of the prominent officials.

"The Lincoln Traction company has no connection with either the interurban or the Northern Construction company as far as the building of the road is concerned," said Mr. Ladd in a very emphatic manner.

He asked Mr. Hall how he expected the company to go ahead and buy rails, ties and other equipment to build the road if they did not have the money or any assurance that the bonds would be issued before the work began.

"When the road is completed," said he, "there will be a complete showing before this commission and the people of Nebraska, giving in detail the complete cost of building the road. There will be nothing hidden from the people of Nebraska. This road has got to be one of the best equipped and built roads of the kind in the country. We have got to compete with the Burlington, the Rock Island and the Northwestern, and for that reason our road must be of the best and its equipment the equal of any in the country. We are willing to grant the wishes of the commission and put enough time up when the road is completed to guarantee its running expenses for a considerable time. We want to make this road a model road and all we ask is a fair chance to make the trial."

The result of the hearing may not be given out for several days, though from the developments in the hearing today it would seem that a majority of the commission desires to see interurban development in Nebraska and is willing to take this opportunity to make the test.

Geneva Men Score High at Targets

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, June 5.—(Special.)—Mexico, Japan and other countries which may have chips on their shoulders which they would like to have Uncle Sam try to knock off might just as well take notice right now that the chip is liable to come off if some of the members of Nebraska's national guardsmen get a chance.

Yesterday Captain Lon Kesterson, who has charge of the rifle practice at the Lincoln range, gathered up a squad from the Geneva company, now shooting there, and went out to the range. The squad was composed of ten men and everyone of them qualified, two as expert riflemen, three as sharpshooters and five as marksmen.

In the 300-yard rapid fire shoot, Private Custin scored 48 out of a possible 50, while Private Yates scored 49 out of a possible 50. This is considered something remarkable in rapid fire shooting.

Veterans Must Send Notice Before Trip

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, June 5.—(Special.)—All veterans survivors of the Battle of Gettysburg who are contemplating taking the trip to the anniversary of that battle must, before June 10, mail to the commission a statement that they desire to make the trip and are financially and physically able to do so, or they cannot come in under the appropriation. Those who fail to notify the commission by that time will be considered as not desiring to make the trip, and if they go, will be compelled to look out for their own transportation. All who notify the commission before the 10th will be sent proper blanks on which to fill out their application.

Letters may be sent to Captain A. M. Trimball, state capitol building, Lincoln.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES LAW SOON TO BE IN EFFECT

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, June 5.—(Special.)—Food Commissioner Harman is getting ready to have the weights and measures department of his office in good shape to begin work July 17, when the new weights and measures bill will go into effect.

The old measures, which have been in the custody of the department of the state university ever since 1858, have been unearthed and found to meet the requirements needed, and have been sent to Washington to be tested. There were about a hundred pieces in the assortment. In addition to these, about two hundred other pieces have been brought, which will be divided into two sets and placed in charge of the two deputies who will travel over the country and see that all scales, measures, etc., have the required standard.

Among the bunch are twenty 50-pound weights which will have to be tested around the country by the deputies in their search for dishonest men who have been skimming the public. Mr. Harman says that Nebraska is one of the first states in the union to put in effect a weights and measures law.

A friendly suit to test the validity of the law relative to gift packages will be started in court in a short time. There is already a suit pending in the United States court, but Commissioner Harman wants the Nebraska law tested as well.

BUILDING AND LOAN MEETING

State League Holds Annual Session at North Platte.

OFFICERS ARE RE-ELECTED

Memorial Tablets Will Be Erected in Honor of Author of Nebraska Law and of First Association in State.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., June 5.—(Special.)—The twenty-second annual convention of the Nebraska State League of Local Building and Loan Associations was held in Elk's hall, Wednesday. Forty delegates, representing twenty-three associations, were present. Thomas C. Patterson of North Platte, president of the league, presided, and James J. Fitzgerald of Omaha officiated as secretary.

A number of papers dealing with various phases of association business were read and discussed. Particular attention was paid to the new "blue sky" law, which was dissected by Attorney Murdock of South Omaha, who declared the act very loosely drawn and full of loopholes for shady promoters.

May Amend Constitution.
The question of broadening or striking out the word "local" in the title of the league caused the liveliest debate of the two sessions. Heretofore the league restricted its membership to associations doing a strictly local business—that is, confining their loans to the cities and immediate vicinity in which they are organized. Half a dozen or more associations doing a state-wide business in loans are excluded from membership by the "local" rule and the proposed change is to enable them to join the association. The issue involved a change in the constitution of the league and under the rules was deferred to the next annual meeting. Meanwhile the league proposes to canvass the state and induce all associations to join.

Two Memorial Tablets.
T. J. Fitzmorris of Omaha, C. W. Bringer of Grand Island and T. C. Patterson of North Platte were appointed a committee to procure suitable tablets, one to be placed in the new association building in North Platte in honor of the first co-operative association in Nebraska, organized in North Platte in 1876; the other is to be a memorial to the late Charles F. Bentley of Grand Island, and is to be placed in the projected new home of the Equitable association of Grand Island. Mr. Bentley was the author of the first association law of Nebraska, known as the law of 1881, and had been actively identified with the association of his home city, as well as association work in the state and nation, serving as president of the state league several years and one year as president of the United States league.

The old officers of the league were re-elected and Columbus was chosen for the meeting of 1914.

In the evening the delegates were tendered a banquet by the North Platte Commercial club.

R. F. D. No. 1, Marquette, Neb.—"The trouble I had began with pimples breaking out all over my face and they would itch terribly. The pimples festered and would swell up. My scratching would make me so sore and when I would take my clothes off they would be all white with them and made it bleed. I used several kinds of salves and tried several patent medicines but nothing helped until I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The first application gave me relief. The ones all dried up and healed in two weeks you would never know I had pimples on my face. I have not been bothered with them since." (Special Letter News-Miller, May 14, 1912.)
