A N OMAHA girl has decided that the German police have absolutely no sense of humor.

The young woman has been spending the year in Berlin and is quite a German student. When the family arrived in Berlin she filled out the blanks sent out by the police department for every newcomer in any German city or village. There is a blank for each visitor, and the age, birthplace, nationality, occupation, "and so weiter," has to be written on the blank and returned to police headquarters—it matters not whether the travelers belong to royalty or are people of means or paupers, everyone must fill out a blank.

Instead of writing "Fraulein" before the name of her 9-year-old niece, the young woman wrote "Frau," which indicated that the child was married. She then made out the blank for her cousin, and after the question, "Have you ever been married?" she wrote "nein," then after the question, "Have you ever been divorced?" she wrote "Ja."

About half an hour after the blanks had been filled out and returned to police headquarters one of the captains of police, accompanied by two or three assistants, came to their apartments with warrants for their arrest. The idea of a child 9 years old being married and a young girl being divorced and not married—they could not make it out, so they were going to arrest them. Fortunately, the young Omaha girl with too much humor had a friend at court, a young man whose father is one of the high officials in Berlin and a close friend of the Kaiser, and it took all of his influence to keep the Omahans from being arrested for "lese majeste."

Geo. Reim to Try for Record from Detroit to Omaha

In an article printed in the automobile section of The Sunday Bee, an assertion was made that the Cadillac company of Omaha had been reorganized. George Reim, the president of the concern, says that is an error and that the company has never been reorganized during its existence. Mr. Reim is still selling the Cadillac car exclusively and has not associated connection with any of its associates. The only change made is the addition of new service facilities in the way of equipment and employees.

Mr. Reim leaves shortly for Detroit to drive his new 1914 demonstrator from the factory to Omaha. He holds the overland record from Detroit to Omaha and expects to knock at least three hours off when he makes this trip.

Police Are Active in Trying to Rid the City of Hoboes

Two cases of "jack rolling" in Jefferson square and subsequent preparations by the police for the riddance of all chronic hoboes and other individuals too strong to work will lead to another clash with Police Magistrate Foster, so police officials declare.

Ray Bayett of Winfield, La., enroute to Nebraska fields for a summer's work, was robbed of his railroad ticket, a watch and all his small change while he slept in the park. He awoke in time to see the thief making a getaway, and gave chase for several blocks, but without results. Ferns Scott of Clarinda, Ia., also a laborer, was robbed of a railroad ticket and $15 in a similar manner.

The police declare that the great majority of petty thefts is due to the presence in the city of the hoboes who make their headquarters in Jefferson square. Several times officers have arrested all the men unable to give a valid reason why they were out of work, but invariably Judge Foster discharged them. "I don't say that the police can't make mistakes," said one officer last night, "but I can't believe all of the men we take as professional petty thieves and hoboes are innocent and unfortunate laborers. Judge Foster dismisses all of these cases in job lots, without considering the evidence before him, but on the contrary, goes just the opposite. The papers are full of complaints from farmers throughout the country who need harvest hands and will gladly pay good wages. Judge Foster apparently refuses to take this fact into consideration. But we're going to keep arresting the hoboes just the same, whether or not he sentences them."

Ralston Working on Water Works System

Ralston's new municipal water works system is being pushed with all rapidity of construction. A large mechanical ditcher is excavating about 1,800 running feet of ditch a day and within three weeks this part of the work will be finished. The entire water works system will be in usable shape in about six weeks.

Breadth of View

Breadth of view is necessary to decide rightly such a question as that which will be considered by the voters in the compromise gas rate settlement.

Prejudice has never yet settled a problem satisfactorily FROM THE PEOPLE'S STANDPOINT.

You will notice, however, that few objections have been made to the proposed compromise without disagreeable remarks applied to the Gas Company or to the citizens who favor dollar gas NOW—not, perhaps, after years of litigation.

It is to be regretted that appeals to prejudice should be made in a matter which could have the deliberate and careful study of every citizen.

The issue is important to the voters because it has a bearing upon their welfare and the welfare of the whole City. It should be well studied from all angles, and DECIDED UPON FACTS.

Service corporations for years have struggled to fulfill their obligations to the public under the handicap of a heavy load of prejudice against them.

Why this prejudice has existed and who was to blame for it do not now matter. What is vastly more significant is that progressive service companies, as they learned their business, also developed correct and enlightened views of their responsibilities as public servants.

The critics of the proposed gas franchise who appeal to real or imagined prejudice have considered the case only superficially. They lack the breadth of view essential to justice.

But the damage to the service company is less than the DAMAGE INFLICTED UPON THE COMMUNITY AND ITS PEOPLE.

The people of today are INTERDEPENDENT as never before in the history of the world. One cannot do the other a wrong without hurting himself.

THE COMPROMISE GAS FRANCHISE CALLS FOR DELIBERATE STUDY—NOT EPITHETS.

That Happy Evening Hour

In all of the striking of the clock, one hour stands out first when a man meets his family at the evening meal.

Then, indeed, does he come to know their true merit and realize they're worth the best. Then does he recognize they deserve the best of everything—food above all things. And so when he has provided he has a sense of intense satisfaction in having provided for his family the best food possible to secure.

For TIP-TOP BREAD is, indeed, the best, the purest and most wholesome bread made. It is of a quality to grace the table of every provider who desires to give the family "something better." For TIP-TOP BREAD is better, and besides it costs no more than "other kinds."

TIP-TOP BREAD is a loaf which is made conscientiously, pure, clean and dependable, just as you buy it with that belief.

Provide TIP-TOP then for the family today. They're worth it.
