CORN ABOUT HOLDS ITS OWN Railroads Report It in About Same Condition as Week Before.

GOOD RAIN IN SOME PARTS Irrigated Section of the States Gives Every Indication of Having a Most Bountiful Yield of All Cereals.

Although some parts of the state have received good rains in the last week or ten days, crop reports compiled Monday by railroads with Nebraska lines indicate that with the exception of the northern parts, to which the drouth did not extend at any time, little material benefit was derived and the corn is in approximately the same condition as before.

In the north part of the state in the territory of the Northwestern lines between Scribner and Okdale, rain has been sufficient to assure a good corn crop and the Union Pacific running west between Fremont and Grand Island predicts an average crop.

On the Omaha division Lyons received 3.5 inches of rain last week, and Randolph received three inches even of rain, but the corn was in such critical condition that the precipitation did little good.

On the Lincoln division, where corn is in almost as good condition as on the Omaha division, some fair rains fell. Sargent reported a total precipitation of 2.75 for the week, while Greeley Center, Erickson, Comstock and Arcadia reported more than two inches.

The Wymore and McCook divisions, which have been suffering from lack of rain, had, as usual, very little precipitation. Station agents on the two divisions reported heavy rains after the precipitation of last week, but it is probable that the agents were too enthusiastic as a result of the first shower for six weeks and did not take accurate measurements of the rainfall.

Status of Corn Crop.

Superintendent Allen's weekly report to the Burlington at Omaha estimated the corn to be in about the same condition as a week ago. The following figures compare the present crop on the various divisions with an average crop:

Table with 3 columns: Division, This Week, Last Week. Rows include Omaha, Lincoln, Wymore, McCook, and Painesville.

Irrigation Crops Good.

D. Clem Deaver of the Burlington colonization returned from a trip through the Scott's Bluff country, studying the crop conditions in the irrigated country. He was accompanied by Prof. Edwin of the Ames Agricultural college.

Mr. Deaver was overjoyed at the way the crops in Scott's Bluff county were growing. In addition to the irrigation, the county has received bountiful rainfall, which has caused the crops to grow beyond the most optimistic expectations.

Digs to Go on Witness Stand in His Own Behalf

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 18.—The third week of the trial of Maury L. Diggs, charged with white slavery, will begin tomorrow. Diggs is expected to take the stand in support of one contention of the defense, that the purpose was to impel him and F. Drew Cunningham to run away with Marsh Warrington and Lola Norris from Sacramento to Reno was solely to escape troubles pending them, and not to stimulate the white slave traffic.

MURDERED BY PERSONS UNKNOWN IS THE VERDICT

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 18.—The coroner's jury inquiring into the cause of the death of John McAlpine, millionaire lumberman, found dead in the basement of his home Friday, today returned a verdict finding that McAlpine was "murdered by persons unknown." Neither Mrs. McAlpine nor her son, Dale, was held.

Making the Most of the Corn Crop

Every farmer should save and use all the feed produced on his farm every year. This is doubly important during years of drouth. The farmer who lets his drouth-injured corn stand in the field, husking the nibbles and pasturing the stalks will save the least feed. He who cuts up the corn for fodder will do better and the farmer who puts as much of his crop as possible in the silo, is the wisest of all.

Craft Valued at $400,000 and Cargo, Mail and Express a Total Loss—Number of Horses for Shushanna Trail Lost.

JUNEAU, Alaska, Aug. 18.—Twenty-five or more passengers and seven members of the crew of the Pacific Coast Steamship company's iron steamer State of California perished at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning in Gambier bay, ninety miles south of Juneau, when the vessel struck an uncharted rock and sank in three minutes with many passengers imprisoned in their state rooms.

The steamer left Seattle last Wednesday night for Skagway and way points. Travel to the north is unusually heavy on account of the stampedo in the Shushanna gold field. The purser lost all of his records and it is not possible to give a complete list of the missing.

Following is a list of the dead whose bodies have been recovered: MRS. A. HIRNBAUM, MRS. ELLA REARDEN, MRS. CLARA VALDERLASS, MISS LILLA WARD, daughter of Edward C. Ward, assistant manager of the Pacific Coast Steamship company.

MISS ALICE JOHANNAN, LILLIAN R. NORMAN, NICK PITTULAS, MISS REARDEN, MRS. C. E. SPITHILL AND CHILD, BEN A. WADE, MISS WILSON.

Survivors Taken to Seattle. The uninjured survivors, crew and passengers, are being taken to Seattle on the Jefferson and will arrive Thursday.

Carried Seventy-Five Men. The State of California, an iron steamer of 2,276 gross tons, was built at Philadelphia in 1907 and carried a crew of seventy-five men. For many years it had carried passengers between Puget sound and San Francisco.

The wrecked vessel was commanded by Captain Thomas H. Cann, Jr., who had command of the steamer Valencia on its last trip from Seattle to San Francisco and who was transferred to another command when the Valencia reached that port, thus barely missing being on that steamer when it went ashore at Cape Beale, B. C., January 22, 1908, with a loss of 117 lives.

BACON MAKES A STATEMENT

Contents that This Country Has Done Its Duty and Exhibited a Desire for Peace and Friendship.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 18.—Provisional President Huerta, replying today to President Wilson's note which was recently delivered to the Mexican government through John Lind, refuses mediation in the Mexican situation or any similar suggestion made by a foreign government.

Mr. Lind has forwarded General Simons's answer to Washington and is awaiting a reply.

Reply to Have Protection.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Administration officials appeared to be less optimistic today over the Mexican situation, but still were waiting some word from John Lind, which would make possible publication of President Wilson's views already in the hands of the Huerta government.

Chairman Bacon of the senate foreign relations committee conferred with the president. "At least we have done our duty," said he, when leaving the executive offices. He discussed possible rejection of the views of the United States. "We have shown the world our friendly intentions and it will not be our fault if the suggestions are rejected."

There was an undercurrent of discussion of possible alternatives, of which little the embargo on arms was one. Mr. Bacon declared that would be done only after all peaceful means had failed.

White House officials intimated the United States would take a deep interest in proper protection for William Bayard Hale, President Wilson's friend, who has been sending reports from Mexico. Though Hale has no official status, his presence in Mexico has been hotly attacked by Mexican officials.

Systematic Purchases Reduce Expense

Every successful business has a complete system of bookkeeping from which, at frequent intervals, statements are made that show just how and where every cent has been spent.

The finances of a family should be managed on a reduced scale, in such the same way as a business. Too little stress is laid on this portion of domestic economy. The disbursement of money is made in a haphazard, unsystematic way, so that at the end of the month no one knows where the money has been spent. The only sure fact is that it is gone.

Begin watching and keeping account of your household expenditures. You will find, without doubt, that you have been spending money without getting good value for every dollar.

The next move is to decide intelligently what you want and to buy where you can get the greatest amount of good out of this money. Read thoroughly the Bee advertisements and you can't go wrong. Give you the places where a dollar spent will give you the maximum amount of satisfaction.
