ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 29.—Governor Odell proposes a 1,000-ton barge canal connecting the lakes with the Atlantic, and yet save the state $20,000,000.

It is also claimed for the route that it will cost less to maintain than the other route and that it will be a great saving of time in making trips.

FRONTON, O., Nov. 29.—Shortly before 3 o'clock this morning a mob attempted to take William Glasco, the assailant of Mary Maloney, from the county jail, but was prevented by an extra force of officers and the sheriff.

The mob was forming for an attack on Glasco, who was in a carriage toward the northwest. It is believed he was taken in a roundabout way to the Portsmouth jail.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 29.—Two men made an unsuccessful attempt to hold up the eastbound Chicago & Alton passenger train which left here for St. Louis at 9 tonight.

At a secluded spot in the eastern suburbs of independence, where the train had stopped, the two men, armed with pistols, boarded the train and tried to rob the passengers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—In pursuance of the purpose of the Agricultural Department to spare no effort for the extermination of the foot and mouth disease, Dr. Salmon, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, decided today to go to Boston and take charge of the campaign in person.

BUFAFLO, N. Y., Nov. 29.—The order of the secretary of agriculture forbidding the export of live stock from New England ports has had the effect of forcing some of the export buyers at the local stock yards out of the market temporarily.

About 200 head of sheep which were to be shipped to Boston, have been stopped and placed on the local market or shipped to New York and Philadelphia. The shipments from Canada have also increased and the large supply of stock on the local market has caused a slight decline in prices.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—In pursuance of the purpose of the Agricultural Department to spare no effort for the extermination of the foot and mouth disease, Dr. Salmon, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, decided today to go to Boston and take charge of the campaign in person.

He will leave on Monday and remain at long as necessary.

DISCUSSING THE QUESTION TODAY, Dr. Salmon said he had received due notice of the action of Great Britain in quarantining the New England ports, but that the department's decision had been influenced more by a desire to protect this country than by any fear of losing export trade.

HE ADDED THAT THE ACTION OF GREAT BRITAIN CANNOT BE CONSTRUED AS AT ALL HOSTILE, THE CONDITIONS APPARENTLY JUSTIFYING IT.

The opinion was also expressed that so long as there was no general quarantining the exports would not be materially affected, the expectation being that the trade that has left New England ports will find outlet through other cities. Figures showing the extent of Boston's export trade in American live stock place the value of the business for last year at about $8,000,000. The cattle shipments numbered 78,957 head, the sheep 70,000 and the horses 1,552. In addition more than 30,000 Canadian cattle and 16,000 Canadian sheep were shipped from that port. There were also quoted extensive shipments from New York.

DISCUSSING THE WORK TO BE DONE, Dr. Salmon said he expected to scatter a force of from fifty to 100 assistants over the infected district, which will probably be given orders to slaughter all diseased animals.

The department today decided to allow live stock to go through the quarantined states for immediate slaughter, providing the cars containing them were sealed by government inspectors.

CATTLE ALLOWED TO LAND.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The cattle and sheep brought to Liverpool today by Winifred from Boston were closely inspected by Board of Trade representatives. They were found to be free from disease and allowed to land.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 29.—The quarantine department has ordered cattle entering Canada from the eastern states cleaned and thoroughly disinfected at the border.

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—The Guard steamer Sylvania, which will be the last to leave Boston with cattle for a British port until the embargo against their shipment is raised, sailed for Liverpool tomorrow with 64 cattle and 700 sheep on board. The vessel cannot reach Liverpool before December 5, when the order of the English Board of Agriculture forbidding cattle landing from New England ports goes into effect, but it is said assurances have been received from the company's head office in England that the cargo can be landed in Liverpool.

There were many inquiries today at the office of Dr. Austin Peters, chief of the State cattle bureau, regarding the situation, some of them relative to the exportation of cattle from New York to Massachusetts. Dr. Peters said he would grant permits for such exportation.

This statement, which seemed to indicate that western cattle might be shipped through Boston, has given the steamship people a ray of hope, but if cattle cannot be shipped from this port, the agents of some of the transatlantic lines may send their steamers to St. John or Halifax.

THE RHODE ISLAND STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE HAS ADOPTED RESOLUTIONS PROHIBITING THE EXPORTATION OF CATTLE FROM THAT STATE TO ANY OTHER STATE OR FOREIGN COUNTRY.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 29.—The anniversary of Clem Studebaker's burial will be made memorable tomorrow by his family presenting the Epworth hospital directors over $50,000 to pay in full for a $75,000 hospital building recently completed.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Mr. Rosewater had an extended conference with the president today over matters affecting western interests and the question of occupying the public domain by the cattle barons.

Incident to the conference was the subject of a change in agent at the Omaha and Winnebago agency which was taken up and discussed in all its bearings. In the course of the conversation the president intimated to Mr. Rosewater that he would like to appoint a successor to the present agent from a section wholly separated from the Omaha and Winnebago reservation in order to avoid the trouble heretofore experienced by reason of the intimate relations between the present agent and the land speculators and schemers who prey upon the Indians.

Do Not Appreciate Leniency.

Regarding the cattle barons and ranchmen who have fenced the public domain the president declared to Mr. Rosewater that after the intensely bitter session had in consideration of the hardships that might grow out of the rigid enforcement of the law he had given the cattlemen a year of respite to make ready for the inevitable change. But according to the president the cattlemen did not seem to be responsive to the friendly suggestion that to circumvent the law he devised methods. Now that the time of grace had elapsed he felt in duty bound to enforce the law as it now stands on the statute books in reference to the fencing of the public domain without express permission. The president intimated to Mr. Rosewater that he made some recommendations to congress in his forthcoming message touching upon the subject of the illegal fencing of public lands and had suggested such modification of the law as seemed warranted in the light of experience.

Millard is Satisfied.

Senator Millard and daughter arrived in Washington from New York this morning. The senator was in excellent spirits and throughout Nebraska had done nobly in the last election. He expressed it as his opinion that Nebraska was now a perfectly safe republican state, as he firmly believed were the states around Nebraska. "We are learning wisdom," said the senator, "from existing conditions. We are being benefited in a hundred ways by the knowledge we have, and my judgment is that we ought to let well enough alone, especially when it comes to any radical change in the tariff."
