

SOCIETY WOMEN WILL SELL TAGS

Wednesday Is to Be Deeded as Tag Day to Raise Funds for Visiting Nurse Association.

STATIONS ALL OVER CITY

All is in readiness for the annual tag day of the Visiting Nurse association Wednesday. Three hundred prominent society women have offered their services for the day and have been assigned to the twenty-five stations. Headquarters have been established in the United States National bank building.

Mrs. Herbert Rogers, honorary president, organized the Visiting Nurse association eighteen years ago. Mrs. Luther L. Kountze is now president; Mrs. W. L. Hynes, vice president; Miss Clara J. Thomas, secretary, and Mrs. R. W. Connell, treasurer.

The object of the association is to provide trained nurses for those who need them; to give expert care to the poor and those of moderate means; to look after the incurables and chronic invalids for whom there is no room in hospitals; to make sickness less of a burden on the wage earner for a growing family.

Work Has Increased. The work has increased greatly during the last year, the nurses having made 7,000 visits to 1,000 patients.

Most of the work is done without charge, medicines being given, but where possible patients are encouraged to pay a small sum that they may not feel themselves objects of charity, and experienced nurses are supplied at a moderate cost in families where the usual salary of a trained nurse could not be met.

The establishment of two baby welfare stations, one at 1604 North Twenty-fourth street and one at Sixth and Pierce streets is the latest work of the visiting nurses.

Dr. Newell Jones is in charge of these stations, which are open twice a week in each location.

The annexation of South Omaha brings another vast field of work under the direction of the association.

Following are the stations, from which points collections will be made Wednesday, with the names of the women in charge.

CRITICISE RUSS MINISTERS

Opening Day's Session of Duma Finds All Speakers Unrestricted in Their Speeches.

ASK THAT PEOPLE BE TRUSTED

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) PETROGRAD, Aug. 17.—The opening day's session of the Duma began at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and continued until midnight without speakers representing all the parties having found time to address the House. All the cabinet ministers remained throughout the session and listened to a series of opinions more outspoken than any ever before expressed in the Duma. The criticism which was leveled against the government was entirely in respect to alleged inadequate arrangements in various directions for the prosecution of the war. The late war minister in particular was criticised. "Trust the people," was the burden of most of the speeches. Army supplies and munitions were the particular basis for attacks upon the old-fashioned methods and old-fashioned abuses, and the Duma claimed its right to take a part in the executive business of the country, and to hold the ministers responsible to it for the conduct of their offices. Withal, there was evident an admirable feeling of good-natured fellowship between the Duma and the ministers which has never been apparent before. There was an absence of stiffness between government and legislature, and at the same time a new and finer dignity. While the ministers were still making their addresses, there was an incident which showed the tone of the assembly. After the minister of war, General Polonozoff, had spoken, M. Rodzianko, president of the Duma, had called upon the members to stand in silence, with all the public audience present, in memory of those fallen on the field of battle. After the naval minister's speech, M. Rodzianko apparently forgot this formula, or as it were he had included it in the fallen, either by land or sea, in the former observance. As the next speaker, nominated to the platform, cried, at first subdued, then gradually stronger, rose from several parts of the house, and M. Rodzianko hastened to make good his inadvertent omission by calling on the members to honor the memory of the Russian naval dead.

Smuggling Into Belgium Becomes Paying Business

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) AMSTERDAM, Aug. 15.—Smuggling on a wholesale scale is proceeding at Bergen-op-Zoom, according to a frontier correspondent of the Telegraf. The traffic between Holland and Belgium in this region has never been so heavy. He asserts, although much of the business violates, at least in spirit, the Dutch laws covering exports in time of war. On the two days preceding the filing of the correspondent's message only 2,500 kilograms of merchandise was allowed to cross the border at Bergen-op-Zoom, but this amount, it is claimed, was abnormally small. "Of rice alone," states the correspondent, "100 tons was sent last week to Belgium. Flour, bacon, and petroleum pass the frontier every day. At some hours the road between Bergen-op-Zoom and Putte reminds one of a migration and gives indeed the idea of a second exodus from Antwerp, only the stream is in the opposite direction. Carts of every description, bicycists by hundreds, and foot passengers, all with bulky parcels at their hands as they return." It is explained that persons crossing the frontier are allowed to carry four pounds of rice and four pounds of flour. The peasants earn about 40 cents carrying this quantity from Bergen-op-Zoom to Putte.

Sailing Vessels Back on the Ocean

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 11.—One of the extraordinary results of the war, insofar as the Pacific is concerned, is the resumption of the sailing vessel. The dearth of steamers and high freights are responsible to a large extent for this. At present there are either on the way to Sydney and Melbourne or about to sail a fleet of 115 sailing ships ranging from the big 2,500 tonner to the shapely American schooner of 500 tons. Of the latter the four-master predominates. The majority of the sailors engaged are of American registry, most of them coming from the Pacific coast lumber ports. These are receiving freights up to $1.25 per 1,000 cubic feet, a state of affairs which it is said in Australian shipping circles is unprecedented. It is also understood here that apart from the marvelous impetus in the lumber-carrying trade numerous large sailing vessels are loading at New York or are destined to load there for Australian ports.

RUSSIAN PRINCE THANKS AMERICAN SUNDAY SCHOOLS

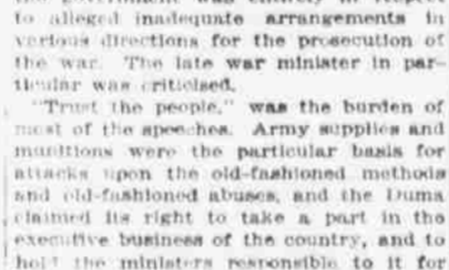

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) PETROGRAD, July 28.—Count Rasbortzoff, secretary to her imperial majesty, the empress, has written a letter to J. D. Kilburn, representing the American Sunday School association, asking that the thanks of the young Tsarevitch be expressed to the children of America for their gift of testaments to Russian soldiers. These testaments are being sent out from the Imperial Winter palace in America to give at least one gospel in the noble men who are fighting so bravely and suffering so uncomplainingly," said Dr. Kilburn. "His imperial highness the Tsarevitch will forward all complete and no children in the world have such opportunity for doing good. The highest child in the land, the future emperor, joins himself with them in the great work they have undertaken."

HURLS DOUBLE-HEADER THIRTY-FOUR INNINGS

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 4.—Walter Breyer, 18 years, a semi-professional pitcher, today pitched thirty-four innings in a double-header against another semi-professional team and tied one game and won the second, by a score of 4 to 5. The first game was called at the end of the seventh inning with the score, 0 to 0. The second game was won twenty-three innings and it was Breyer's hit which won the game, 4 to 5.

MRS. MARY LOGAN TUCKER, daughter of General John A. Logan, is advocating that a woman's camp, conducted on the general plan of the business men's camp at Plattsburg, to be held as a practical object lesson in national preparedness, and specially in first aid, signaling, making bandages and other war supplies.

BRITISH FAIL TO PROVIDE DENTISTS FOR THE ARMY

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) LONDON, Aug. 5.—Dental surgeons were not made a part of the British Army Medical corps until last January, although the United States army has had a dental department for about fifteen years, and up to May 30 only fifty-eight British dentists had been given a lieutenant's commission. In a force of 2,000,000 men, fifty-eight dentists do not make much of an impression. Moreover, dentists do not appear to be welcomed by the army medical men. Complaint against the small representation given the dental profession and the prejudice against it in the medical corps is made in a statement issued by the chairman of the representative body of the British Dental association.

These Men Had Catarrh. They Both Took Peruna Both Got Well and Praise Peruna.

Mr. J. Louis Frau, Jr., 1207 The Temple, 184 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "For the past twenty-eight years I have suffered from hay fever, caused by catarrh. The hay fever comes on every year about the middle of August and lasts six weeks or more. It is a chronic catarrh of the nasal organs, and in people like myself, who have a very sensitive membrane, it is affected by the pollen in the air and is difficult to eradicate. I have used almost every medicine that is prescribed for the ailment, but I have had more benefit from the use of Peruna than from all others, as Peruna is a stimulant and helps nature to throw off the attacks. I now have no bother from catarrh, and I have been able to shorten the annual attack of hay fever to a few days of discomfort."

FOREIGN COINS AND STAMPS GIVEN TO GERMAN RED CROSS

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) BERLIN, July 25.—The German Red Cross committee has suggested that all Germans who had foreign coins or postage stamps should turn them over to the organization for its work at the front. Those persons who collected 10 worth of these coins and stamps were offered a medalion bearing the German eagle, the whole being made of metal from French and British guns captured in battle. The closing of three months' collections shows that the scheme has attracted over 50,000 contributors, of whom 60 are entitled to the medalion.

Mrs. Charles S. Many, 12 Water St., Ossining, N. Y., writes: "I had catarrh for ten years and tried a great many kinds of medicines, which cost me a lot of money but did me no good. Instead of getting better I seemed to get worse. My eyes were bloodshot, my nose smelled so bad that I was ashamed to go in company. I was night guard at the prison and I would get so dizzy that I would have to catch hold of something to keep from falling. I read about Peruna in the New York World and thought I would give it a trial. I used about ten bottles, and I am cured of catarrh, and the dizzy feeling has left me and I am not bothered with it any more. I keep Peruna in the house, and when I feel a cold coming on I take a little bit of it and it does me good."
