IMPROVERS TALK PLUMBING

County Hospital Investigation Commented on by South Side Club.

RESOLUTIONS DENOUNCING "WHITEWASH"

Three Commissioners Requested for Voting to Accept the Report and Steps to Stop Payment of Bill Taken.

The South Side Second Ward Improvement club held a lively and well attended meeting last night at Eighteenth and Vinton streets. The questions of park, sidewalk and school improvements were the principal subjects discussed and much dissatisfaction was expressed over the non-appearance of members of the Park commission who had promised to be present.

The county poor farm plumbing investigation came up for consideration and occupied a greater portion of the meeting. The following resolution was adopted unanimously: "That this club protests against any money being paid to the investigating committee appointed by the Board of County Commissioners for its alleged investigation of the plumbing work at the county poor farm; that we condemn the action of County Commissioners McDonald, Harte and Conolly as being against the interests of the tax payers in voting to accept the report of such investigating committee and allowing the bill of $500 for plumbing as recommended by this investigating committee, and that we condemn the action of County Commissioners O'Keefe and Hofeldt for the position that they took in behalf of the tax payers of Douglas county, and that we wish hereby to put County Commissioners McDonald, Harte and Conolly on record as public officers as being against the interests of the taxpayers of Douglas county, and that a copy of this resolution be presented to the Board of County Commissioners by a special committee to be hereafter named."

The chair named as such special committee Messrs. John Lynch, James Nelson and Andrew Bostron.

Will Oppose Payment of Bill. This committee was further directed to confer with the county attorney with a view to seeing what action could be taken to prevent the payment of the bill of $500 presented by this special investigating committee. The investigating committee designated by the county board for this purpose being J. F. Hannegan, Robert Parks and Henry Grodwald, which had submitted a bill for thirty days' work at $10 per day each, when the actual time employed in the investigation was shown to be not about two days.

The subject of the present condition of the Vinton Street school was also discussed and the urgent necessity for immediate improvement in the heating of said school building was also pressed and the attention of the Board of Education called thereon.

P. Wilg reported that there is evidently a job in the supplying of crayons to the school children of that vicinity that needs investigation. These crayons, according to his statement, are obtained from the wholesalers at 25 cents per dozen, from a special firm in this city, and are sold to the teachers at 40 cents per dozen, and sold by them to the children at 1 cent each. Mr. Wilg stated that he had purchased a quantity of the crayons and was selling them to the children at 4 cents per package, but had been notified by the specially favored wholesaler that he could not have any more crayons if he persisted in selling them to the school children at this price.

A motion also prevailed petitioning the right enforcement of the city ordinance regulating the speed of automobiles on the streets of the city.

A special invitation was extended to representatives of the different improvement clubs of the city to visit the club at its next meeting, which will occur Wednesday evening, December 2.

TAKES FATAL DOSE OF ACID

Mrs. Hattie Allen Commits Suicide, but No Motive for the Act Has Been Ascertained.

At 6:30 last evening Mrs. Hattie Allen, who rooms with Mrs. E. Bennison on the third floor of 1823 Leavenworth street, drank an ounce of carbonic acid with suicidal intent. It was noticed at the supper table that she only partook of a cup of tea, but nothing was thought of this until ten minutes later, when Mrs. Bennison's oldest son, Ray, heard groanings in the direction of Mrs. Allen's room, and found the woman writhing under the torture of the acid. Drs. Hall and Porter were summoned and although antidotes were promptly administered, the woman soon succumbed to the effects of the poison. The only message left by the dead woman was a note reading: "I have always been wrong. Hattie."

The note bore no address. Mrs. Allen, whose maiden name was Service, came from Denton, Ia., about a year and a half ago, and has been rooming at Mrs. Bennison's flat since last June. She was divorced several years ago and has retained the custody of her 5-year-old daughter, who has been with her most of the time.

It is a matter of much conjecture among the woman's friends just what prompted her to take her life. Among her effects were found about $20 in money, a watch and other jewelry and indications that her debts were all paid. Mrs. Allen was employed in the telephone office at Denton before coming here, but has had no regular employment since that time. The body was taken to the morgue last evening and the dead woman's family communicated with. The time of the inquest will be announced later.

KING SERVES OUT HIS TIME

Wish of Ak-Sar-Ben Leaves Record of a Prosperous Reign.

TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS IN STRONG BOX

Governing Board Points Out the Necessity of Providing a New Home for the Organization.

Royal Ak-Sar-Ben IX drew his time Wednesday eve in the vaulted house of merriment, before his gathered council and members-at-arms, and is gone; not once again to trace the highways in the pageantry or grace the throne in banquet hall. His reign is ended; so, all hail—'tis cold enough—and on with the next of the line. Of the 1,564 good sir knights and true, all save two, so reporteth the frank chronicler, are now at arms in the cause, and from afar and from Farnam street gather early and sit late at the place of council, to be witness to the money parchments of the reign, and to take part in the burnt offering to the gods, wherein a Texas steer was sacrificed on the altar—the altar being distinctly noticeable in the dialogue of the two knights, in that they stayed afar off, the one had lost his ticket and the surgeons were delving in his appendix that perchance there it might be found, and the other, so reporteth it, was lying in a dungeon somewhere, being against time.

The council of the night had brought to the goodly knights the consideration of a new housing place for the mysteries, a hearing of the treasury recounting, the choosing by ballot of nine great sirs from amongst whom the leading men may choose a trio, the signing anew of the oath of allegiance to the line, which will be done to the check and the beholding of the Washington of Mr. Hoyt.

Early Birds for Neighborhood.

Early in the ceremonies the sacramental pledge cards were scattered through the gathered ones, and when the count was done 675 men stood pledged as vassals of the king for 1904 and ready to plunk $10 each at demand after January 1.

The lots were cast that the worshipful governors might know the most well beloved nine high sirs from all the city, that from them they might name three to become of themselves, to sit in the seats of Sir Thomas Fry, Sir Mel Uhl and Sir Matthew Hall. The balloting announced after the third round of the play showed Sir George West as now well beloved, with others in line, Sirs Thomas A. Fry, C. C. Belden, Mel Uhl, Al Powell, Charles Pickens, J. D. Weaver, Robert Cowell and Joe Kelley. These from seventeen that were named in nomination. Sir Matthew Hall and Sir J. G. Martin, among the lot, prayed to be turned down.

Treasurer Penfold's Report.

While the multitude waited for the flag to send the governors to the post, the past reported with the trumpet lullaby, for a kind sir had put about some discs of advertising matter. Sir Walter Jardine was the first of the governing noblemen to stand upright in a box, and was cheered as might have been by savage islanders at a brewer on O'Connell's ship. The governors, grouped upon the stage, began the business of the night with a small formality by Most Noble Fry. Then Mel Uhl read the secretary's parchment, after which Sir H. J. Penfold indulged in figures of great portent.

Promises of a New Home.

Then most lordly President Thomas Fry arose and spoke, and being not at all a haughty man, wrought in the language of the common people, saying: "Our coming to the theater this year is an innovation and perhaps a little explanation is due. We found it impossible in securing a caterer who would serve at the den. There is a great lack of facilities and of heating apparatus, and in former years we have heard complaints of service and of the weather. It was said that there were more visitors in the city than ever before with the possible exception of the exposition year. As to the future of the organization success alone is before it.

The den is in a very dilapidated condition and unfit for further use. We must have a new place, and we have decided to house our floats and hold initiations. The proprietors of the den will not repair it, but will rent it to us for one year at the regular price, $1,500. It is not acceptable as it is. The roof leaks like a sieve, and from the experience of the past we have seen the danger of the building falling. Therefore we are practically without a home.

We have a good building, entirely due to the carnival, without which we would have initiation in the open air, and it is impracticable to hold initiations in the open air. We will certainly arrange for the floats. We will certainly hold the ball in the auditorium. The building should be a grand one, and more accessible than was the den, as more people will then attend the initiations. The members of the den are to be invited to entertain out-of-town visitors. Therefore we ask you to consider this proposition of building. Our object is to get possible 1,000 members who will be ready to pay by January 1 if the board ask it and with the fine sum and the balance on hand we believe we can locate a fine building downtown.

Some Other Features.

The sir knights were delightfully surprised to find during the presentation of the "Texas Steer" that the special Ak-Sar-Ben stock of horsefeed was known in Texas and that the official sanitary wagons were used in Washington. Fallow's pants were worn in the capitol apparently as Count Ramacott's aspirations, and the quartet fetched the house with a song about gathering in the dough.

BRYAN IS NOT SO CERTAIN

Tells English Reporters that Matter of Being Candidate is Not Decided.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 18.—William J. Bryan arrived here tonight from the United States. He was interviewed by numerous newspaper correspondents and said that he was intensely interested in English social and political problems and that he wanted to hear and learn as much as possible of the fiscal discussion now going on. He has arranged to hear Herbert Asquith speak on this question tomorrow and to listen to the speech of Joseph Chamberlain on Friday. Mr. Bryan said he is remaining an on-looker so far as the fiscal discussion is concerned. Speaking of the next presidential election in the United States Mr. Bryan said he thought he would not again be a candidate, but that nothing had yet been decided. Mr. Bryan will remain for some time in England and will then go to France.

NOTES ON OMAHA SOCIETY.

Illustrious, the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Yates was the scene of one of the most enjoyable affairs of the week last evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Yates and Miss Yates gave a reception and dancing party to over 100 guests, in honor of Mrs. Herman D. Kountze of New York. Southern amikax was combined with yellow and white chrysanthemums and the trimming of the house, roses being used in the parlor where Mr. and Mrs. Yates, Miss Yates and Mrs. Kountze received. The great hall and library had been cleared for the dancers, and though cards were used the coming and going of the guests made the program interesting. The dancing continued until after 12. While several smart dancing parties have been given none has been more enjoyable; the fact that it was a house dance making it exceptionally so.

Mr. Jay D. Foster's euchre party for sixty guests was another of the smart affairs of Wednesday afternoon. The prettiest of the several large card parties of the fall. Throughout the rooms the lights were shaded with pink, while numerous pink candles, pink and white chrysanthemums and bridesmaids roses completed the decoration. Ten tables were set for the game, the most of which were being the game, Miss Harriet Dunster winning first prize for game, Mrs. Edward Rosewater second prize and Mrs. Bailey the lone hand. Assisting the hostess were Miss Ethel Wilkins and Miss Darlene Buckingham. A luncheon served from the kitchen followed the game. GIRL CONFESSES TO THEFT

Caught in the Act of Looting Clerks' Wraps at the Boston Store, She Owes Up.

For several months past the Boston Store management has received complaints, particularly from their employees, stating that "Texas Steer" tin cans, money, pocket-books and little personal effects, were being stolep from their garments and places provided for the use of clerks. Detectives were put on the case, with the result that Mary O'Connor, giving her address as Twenty-eighth and Leavenworth streets, was arrested yesterday while stealing three purses. When questioned yesterday by Captain Haas, the girl acknowledged that she had been pilfering articles from the Boston Store on different occasions since the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities. She told how she had taken $10 on one particular day, which tallied with the report of losses kept by the Boston Store people. On further examination, she implicated several other girls, whom she stated had taught her her first lesson in theft. She then related how she had stolen a pocket-book, taken off her coat and hat, thus assuming to be a clerk and disarming suspicion. The names of the other girls are known, and the matter is being investigated by Detectives Ferris and McCarthy. The O'Connor girl's mother and father are very much grieved over the matter, as the girl has a comfortable home and does not want for anything. Mr. O'Connor is in the commission business at South Omaha. The father appeared at the police station yesterday to give bail for his daughter's appearance. The case has not yet been set for hearing, from the fact that the authorities are at a loss to determine just what offense before the law the girl, a minor, has committed. In telling her story to the police the girl alleged her mother had sided and abetted her in her efforts. This, however, is not taken seriously by the police, for her parents have been ascertained to be very respectable people.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

New Viaduct is Stimulating Real Estate Prices Mightily.

SEVERAL NEW PROJECTS ARE UNFOLDING

N Street Business Men Plan to Have Route of Street Cars Around the Loop Reversed—Magie City Gossip.

With the passage of the ordinance vacating certain streets and alleys for the Union Pacific Railroad company and the Union Stock Yards company real estate has taken a jump. With the prospect of a viaduct to have its eastern terminus at Twenty-sixth and O streets, property in that vicinity has nearly doubled. Yesterday a transaction was made where a sixty-foot lot on Twenty-sixth street, near O street, sold for $1,000. A year ago this same property was on the market for $500. Other properties in the vicinity have advanced at about the same proportion. Mr. W. Vanant said that the O street between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-sixth street refuse to talk of selling at all, while those who hold options are not willing to let go just now.

A new deal was sprung yesterday and it is possible that it may go through. It was started by certain business men on N street and one conference over the matter has already been held. The plan is to have the street cars run south on Twenty-fourth street to Q street, thence to Twenty-sixth street, north to N street and east on N street to Twenty-fourth street. In other words, the route is to run exactly the reverse to the way they are running now. It is stated that there is very little difference in the grades on Q street and N street between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-fourth streets, and that the change can be made without inconveniencing the street railway officials.

Those who are interested in N street property say that they will take very kindly to the change. At the stock yards the plan is not favored, and O street property owners are known to be in open opposition to it. A committee of N street property owners will write to the president of the street car company within a short time to take the matter up.

Briggs After Criminal.

Chief of Police Briggs is home from a little trip out in the country, and when he arrived in the city yesterday forenoon he at once reported to W. B. Vanant, chairman of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners. Mr. Vanant said that he had reported last night: "All this talk in a couple of Omaha sheets about Briggs being kidnapped or having met with foul play is simply a booby. Those stories were most likely printed because Briggs did not take the trouble to inform these two newspapers of his departure. He left the city in a hurry looking for a man with a heavy reward attached. The chief left the city in such a hurry after obtaining a clew that he had no time to notify any one. As far as the board is concerned his action is all right and was commendable. I will say further that those who started the story about the chief being kidnapped, etc., will be called upon to give an accounting for such malicious utterances. Detective Eisfelder was in charge of the police department while Chief Briggs was absent."

Tallifero Enters Denial.

T. W. Tallifero, general manager of the Cudahy Packing company, called up the Bee office by telephone last night to deny the rumors that have been current for several days to the effect that he is to be given the position of general inspector of the Cudahy plants. Mr. Tallifero said: "There is no truth in the reports that you have read. I would make a denial in the Bee to this effect. I am still general manager of the Cudahy company and as far as I know there will be no changes of importance made for some time to come."

Another Brick Building.

Balthas Jetter has ordered plans drawn for a two-story brick building to be erected at the corner of Twenty-fourth and Q streets. This building will be similar in design to the structure now being erected by Mr. Jetter at Twenty-sixth and Q streets and will cost when completed about $10,000. It is the intention of Mr. Jetter to have this building completed by spring, as work is to commence at once.

Chasing Crooks Out.

Since the Philip Kraus robbery the police have been busy chasing suspicious characters from the city. Last night Chief Briggs reported that there were few, if any, known crooks in the city. Judge King had little to do yesterday except to take up some old cases. No robberies have been reported for the last three days and the police hope to see the condition of affairs going for some time to come.

Magie City Gossip.

William Jetter has returned from Sheridan, Wyo., where he went to look after business matters. Miss Grace Norton of Seneca, Kan., is in the city, the guest of Mrs. M. R. Gillis, Twenty-third and M streets. The Freshyrians women are holding a rummage sale and serving luncheon every day this week at 420 North Twenty-fourth street. Aeris No. 14, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will hold its third annual dance at Workman temple, Twenty-fifth and M streets, on Friday evening.

The ordinance vacating the stub ends of streets in the northern portion of the city for the railroads was published for the first time last evening. Members of the Board of Education have decided that the district will not hold a night school this winter, as only half a dozen applications have been received. These births were reported yesterday: Louise Harding, Twelfth and J streets, a daughter; Martin Warren, Seventeenth and Polk streets, a daughter; Myron Snyder, 214 K street, a daughter.

Miss Rose Peterson, Secretary Parkdale Tennis Club, Chicago, from experience advises all young girls who have pains and sickness peculiar to their sex, to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many beautiful young girls develop into worn, listless and hopeless women, simply because sufficient attention has not been paid to their physical development. No woman is exempt from physical weakness and periodic pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be carefully guided physically as well as morally.

If you know of any young lady who is sick, and needs motherly advice, ask her to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., who will give her advice free, from a source of knowledge which is unequalled in the country. Do not hesitate about stating details which one may not like to talk about, and which are essential for a full understanding of the case.

"I thought I would write and tell you that, by following your kind advice, I feel like a new person. I was always thin and delicate, and so weak that I could hardly do anything. Menstruation was irregular. I tried a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and began to feel better right away. I continued its use, and am now well and strong, and menstruate regularly. I cannot say enough for what your medicine did for me."

How Mrs. Pinkham Helped Fannie Kumpfe. "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it is my duty to write and tell you of the benefit I have derived from your advice and the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The pains in my back and womb have all left me, and my menstrual trouble is corrected. I am very thankful for the good advice you gave me, and I shall recommend your medicine to all who suffer from female weakness. —Miss FANNIE KUMPF, 1923 Chester St., Little Rock, Ark. (Dec. 16, 1900.)"

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure any woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability, nervous prostration, and all forms of woman's special ills. $5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.
