GERMANY THINKS PEACE IS POSSIBLE

Better Feeling Now at Berlin Than Has Heretofore Existed.

FOREIGN EMISSARIES MAKE TROUBLE

Such Intimation is Given in Report by American Minister at Seoul Received by State Department.

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 19.—Four thousand troops are to leave here tomorrow bound northward.

Otherwise city life is normal and there has been no exodus of families.

Applications by correspondents desiring to accompany the force have all been met with a reply that hostilities are not expected and therefore it would be premature to issue permits.

The authorities here state definitely that Russia has no intention of desiring to interfere in Korea, even should Japan continue to land small bodies of troops there in contravention of the existing treaties, as the Russians assert the Japanese are doing, under the pretext that they are only railway guards.

Berlin Feels Easier.

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—The apprehension that there might be war between Japan and Russia which prevailed at the Foreign office, has been somewhat relieved.

Although this is the opinion held today by the Foreign office, as the Associated Press learns, yet the delicate balance might easily be disturbed by instances on either side.

The official news from St. Petersburg describes the sentiments of the czar's ministers as being for peace. The relative attitude of the two powers is defined as Japan being firm and positive and Russia as being conciliatory.

Russian Spies in Germany.

The intimate relations between Germany and Russia were brought out in the Reichstag today during a discussion over the privileges given to Russia's secret agents on this side of the frontier.

The socialists gave notice some time ago that at the reopening of Parliament they would question the government on the subject. Herr Ernst Haas was put forward by the party today to make the attack.

He asserted that Russia maintained a chief of spies in Berlin, named Tardik, who received $5,000 yearly and enjoyed the life of a millionaire.

He mentioned by name Tardik's principal assistant, whose relations with the German government were such as to permit them, Herr Haas affirmed, to use the German police agencies and other instruments of the government as though they were Russian agents.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain Henry E. Palmer is to be the next postmaster at Omaha. His name will be sent to the senate tomorrow or Thursday.

Speaking of the selection of Captain Palmer, Senator Millard said: "This has been the hardest proposition to decide that has been submitted to me since I came to the senate. I have had nearly a dozen applications for the Omaha postmastership, all of them being supported by representative citizens. Some of them naturally were more strongly urged than others, but there was not an applicant who would not have conducted the office acceptably."

"The present postmaster, Mr. Crowe who was an applicant for reappointment, has given splendid satisfaction in his position. This is also true of his assistant, Mr. Woodard. Conditions, however, seemed to indicate that Mr. Palmer was the man to be appointed at this time and his name will go to the senate in a day or two. I wish I could have appointed them all to the place, but of course that being out of the question from out of those who were candidates for the place I had to select one person which I have done, in the person of Captain Palmer. I recognize that there undoubtedly will be criticism on the part of those who failed to receive the nomination, but looking at it from every view point, I reached the conclusion that Captain Palmer would measure up to the requirements."

It is understood that Mr. James Woodard, present deputy postmaster, will be reappointed by Captain Palmer.

MAY WHEAT GOES TO TOP PRICE

Creeping Market Finds Shorts with Little Grain for Sale and Bids Increase.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Many bets were decided between brokers on the Board of Trade today, when May wheat sold at 50 cents. This is not only the top price for the season, but the highest price since September, 1902, when Armour cornered the market. It was, as one trader expressed little wheat for sale today. Shorts finding little wheat for sale were forced to increase their bids.

Unrestfulness over the political situation in the far east has had much to do in bringing about the bullish tendency of the market, but the most influential factor in the present situation is the congested condition. According to one authority Armour has acquired a big line of May wheat, variously estimated between 7,000,000 and 10,000,000.

Corn for May delivery sold today at 49 cents and oats deliverable for the same month sold at 41 1/2 cents. James A. Fatten is said to be running a big deal in oats, while W. H. Barlett and some of his associates are said to be heavily invested in the corn market.
