ANDREWS SEES DANGER AHEAD Urges Necessity for Pacific Coast De fences as Protection Against Russin's Designs.

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 23.-(Special.)-A up capital of $30,000, has filed articles of good sized audience greeted Chancellor Andrews at the Baptist church last night for an address on "Problems of Greater Amer ca." These problems, the speaker said had increased the necessity for acuteness in the consular and diplomatic service of the United States. Bismarck was the ideal diplomatist, and his secret was not only knowledge of international law, but knowledge of men. The speaker urged that college and university students prepare themselves for the diplomatic service.

Forecasting ultimate developments in the Philippines, the chancellor said: "As the insular cities outside of Manila formulate and direct their own fiscal policies so will grow the condition of territoriality and after that statehood. After that this country will probably give them the option of remaining under our flag or becoming independent." He added that the linguistic peculiarities and religious beliefs and superstitions of the islanders could be interfered with only at our peril. The only native customs that could be put down at any cost were such as deprived some of natural rights.

In conclusion the chancellor urged the strengthening of our Pacific coast defenses The trans-Rocky mountain country is veritably an empire in wealth and extent, and there is great danger in leaving it improperly defended. We must guard against the ambition of Russia. For a hundred years Russia has been trying to build a powerful navy, first near St. Petersburg, then in from Port Arthur to San Francisco? The traditional friendship of Russia has resulted from a supposed common hatred for Great Britain. We cannot permanently have the friendship of both Russia and Great Britain.

RICH FARMER GOES INSANE W. H. Schnoch and J. L. Dorsey were Neighbors Think Trouble is Due Either to Cigarettes or Brooding Over Death of Parents.

YORK, Neb., Jan. 23 .- (Special.)-Friends and relatives of Abraham Ratzloff, a prosperous York county farmer, owning a good farm northwest of Charleston, complained that he was acting queer and that they thought he was insane. Deputy Sheriff Afflebaugh brought Ratzloff to York last night and, owing to his violent condition, was obliged to use straps. Some attribute his insanity to smoking cigarettes. They say that for the last seven years he has been smoking excessively. Mr. Ratzloff imagines that he is about to lose a part of an estate, and the fact that his father died two years ago and his mother a short time ago, leads many to think that he has been brooding over their deaths.
