

SOCIETY HAVING MERRY TIME

Week of Dinners and Dances and Treat and Other Things.

SCHEDULE HOLDS MORE OF SAME SORT

Nothing Big, but All Pleasant, and Each Sufficient in Itself to Give the Circle a Swing.

Barkis. Last year I'm afflicted, I'm troubled and distressed, For fear some kinship maiden My fancy would molest.

Last year I had dollars— This year I have none, At present I am barkis, To almost anyone.

If some rich unsought maiden, Who has a tidy bit of money, Will only bid me 'T, 'T, 'T, She'll truly and me 'T, 'T, 'T.

The Social Calendar.

MONDAY—Mrs. Alfred Millard, 4 o'clock tea. Dr. and Mrs. Burrell's card party. Mrs. Frederick McConnell's sleighing party. Tuesday—Mrs. Herman Kuntzer, a luncheon. Mrs. E. A. Cudahy, Tuesday Morning Musicals. Southwest Dancing Party. Mrs. H. E. Bryson, South Side Club. Temple Israel sisterhood whist party.

WEDNESDAY—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Scott entertain at luncheon. Mrs. E. A. Cudahy a luncheon for Miss Alice McShane; Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Lewis dancing party. FRIDAY—Mrs. W. A. Ayerich, a luncheon; Mrs. Herbert Wheeler, the cooking club luncheon, the Capitol Hill Dancing club party.

The same round of teas, and dances, and card parties, and dinners, only with a new list of hosts and hostesses, has given society a merry whirl the last week, and this week there will be more of the same kind, but these are ever delightful, and then there is always something new or something different to talk about.

According to authorities on the correct technique of dancing has become lost and evidently the eastern fashionables have accepted the announcement as a fact, for they have set about learning the old steps and reviving the graceful figures of the minuet with a diligence that provides lucrative occupation for masters of the same, and for the time being, it is not a matter of the past, but that popular fashionable romp, the cotillon. It is held by these critics that there is nothing so aesthetically in the present day so-called round dances; that they develop muscle and internal disorders, rather than bodily grace, and a plea is made for a revival of the music and the steps that call the body into harmonious action.

Weddings and Engagements. The marriage of Miss Jennie Oberg and Mr. Oscar Samson of Oakland, Neb., was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, 502 South Twenty-ninth street, at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, Rev. J. W. Conley officiating.

social Chit-Chat. A son was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Hamilton, 1237 North 16th street, and Mrs. Louis H. Watts have taken apartments at the Barnard. The Alamo Dancing club will give its next party Monday evening at Chambers'.

Perfect beverage, light and delicate, invigorating and sustaining. Best & Goes Farthest

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

The suffrage movement having grown beyond the ability of personal or social influence to retard it, the opposition to further extension of the rights of women has enlisted the assistance of a number of women writers in an effort to render it unpopular, from a woman's standpoint.

Here are a few bits of advice recently given members of the Chicago Woman's club by one of the Illinois district vice presidents. Always stand up for your own opinions. Agree to disagree in a way that is in accord with the general interests of the club members as if they were old friends.

Be loyal to your club. Do not forget your share of club work without causing a reflection on the club's reputation. Consider it the best club in the city for you individually. Listen to the opinions during club meetings for the benefit of all; don't go off in a corner and tell them afterward to a few.

The following circular letter is sent out this week by the General Federation secretary to the club women of Nebraska: Dear Madam President: Sometime since the directors of the General Federation of Women's Clubs sent out an open letter to the federated and unaffiliated clubs.

It must be self-evident that the strongest club led by the wisest, most brilliant and capable women, will be unable to cope with and carry forward any of these far-reaching plans effectively without co-operation with other clubs of like objects. The movements are going forward, and not to be a factor in the larger work of the world.

With federation comes not only a breath of outlook, of purpose, of association, of help, but a new life, a new hope, a new courage, a new strength, a new power, a new influence, a new voice, a new life, a new hope, a new courage, a new strength, a new power, a new influence, a new voice.

PREFERRED DOG TO CHILD. Woman with Canine Pet Refuses to Rent House to Man with Little One. "While the matter of race suicide is so generally discussed and in view of a remark an Omaha minister made in his published statement on the subject in a Chicago paper to the effect that people with children could scarcely get into fashionable flats, I want to tell a bit of my own experience." said an Omaha woman, who does not believe in race suicide nor prefer dogs to children in the house.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Gould, Jr., entertained the members of the High-Low club Friday evening, cards, music and refreshments contributing to the social pleasure. There were sixteen members present.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howe sailed from New York on their wedding tour for Kingston, Jamaica, arriving there January 24, sailing next day for Santiago de Cuba. The meeting of the Tuesday Morning Whist club, to have been entertained by Mrs. William Guthrie, was postponed in consideration of Mrs. Ogden, who is one of the members.

Trinity Epworth Social. The Epworth League of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church held a most successful Epworth social in the parlors of the church Friday evening. The proceeds of the lunch basket sale were largely due to the support of a missionary of the league. There was a program of music and recital. Mary Wilmott and Frank Marks rendered each a piano solo, and Polab and Arthur Seibel a duo duet. Alice Troxell sang a solo, and Eleanor Jauch read a "cutting" from "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" by the design of the audience.

NEW STREET CAR SCHEDULES

Last Car at Night on North Twenty-Fourth Street Leaves Twenty Minutes Later.

Beginning Monday the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company will put in effect a new time schedule on the Hancock park line. The last car on this line south will leave Farnam street at 12:35 at night instead of 12:15 as formerly.

The interval between cars has been shortened so that immediately after 6 o'clock in the evening there will be one minute service on the line. Later in the evening the cars will be gradually taken off until there will be an interval of ten minutes between them.
