GURLEY GUARDED IN SPEECH

Reserves Expression as to Post-Primary Actions—Not After the Alaska Job.

W. F. Gurley reserves an expression as to his ultimate candidacy for the republican congressional nomination, but announces he will at least not be a candidate at the primaries May 12. What he will do at the convention he does not say.

Mr. Gurley says he knows nothing about a prospective appointment as United States district attorney for the territory of Alaska, to succeed Melvin W. Grisby, who has retired.

"All I know about it is what I have seen in a press dispatch from Washington," said Mr. Gurley. "I have not been a candidate for the place; have not sought it and did not know that anyone was trying to get it for me, or that there was any likelihood of appointment. I do not know even what the place is like or what the duties are. Therefore, I cannot say whether I would want it or not. The whole thing is news to me."

"Are you one of the contestants in the pending congressional fight?" was asked. "Well, at any rate, not in the fight at the primaries May 12," was the reply. "It is too early to try to forecast later developments. I have an idea that any man whom the republicans will nominate will be elected this fall, partly because of the fact that it is a presidential year, without a vestige of doubt for the success of the republican national ticket."

Store Open Saturday Evening Till 10.

Saturday Visitors are heartily invited to make this the biggest of big stores their headquarters.

Saturday. It's the most inviting—the cheeriest—most popular trading center in the west. There is nothing stuffy, either about the store, or the prices at BENNETT'S. Everything is clean-cut and sweet, even to the atmosphere in the basement where several thousands of people are lining the great aisles every hour of Saturday and being promptly waited on.
