SOLDIERS AT TOMSK PROTECT JEWS

Several People Are Killed When Rioters Are Fired Upon in an Effort to Restore Order.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 6.—The official Messenger printed this morning another strongly worded appeal for confidence. It bears Count Witte's remarks, hints strongly that the empire is threatened with disintegration unless the people rally to its support and draws attention to the different character of the representations with which the government is being besieged to quell the exciting disorders in the country, some of them complaining of the want of the troops and others of their inaction, some asking for military protection and others for the entire removal of the soldiers. "Although it is impossible in every case," the note says, "to diagnose the true cause of the conflicts, it is not possible to ignore the general hostility aroused among the different classes of the population. Those who are dissatisfied with the manifesto provoke the indignation of those who received it with gratitude, leading to attacks and counterattacks, all of which could be avoided if the people only had confidence that the reforms set forth in the imperial manifesto will be executed. Disorders accomplish nothing and only delay the reforms which are designed to give the people a representative assembly in which to settle their differences. The duty of every faithful subject of the emperor is to aid in the pacification of the country.

Depends on Press. "In particular," the note concludes, "the government reckons on the support of the press, which must understand that in the present situation a union of the intellectual forces of the whole empire is necessary. The tactics of the opposition, according to the Russ, will be peaceable. They will take the form of demonstrations to compel the government to redeem its promises and meet the wishes of the people. The paper claims that the duty of every faithful subject of the emperor is to aid in the pacification of the country.

Had News from Interior. The news from the interior shows that there has been little improvement in the situation. In some places disorders have recommenced with redoubled fury. The horrible story of massacre at Odessa is not fully known here. In the Caucasus the Tartars and Russians are cutting each other's throats and the Armenians are giving themselves up to pillage and incendiarism.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 6.—The Scandinavian-American line steamer Helle Grav, from New York October 25, for Christiania and Copenhagen, touched ground on the middle ground in the Kattegat, during a storm today and was run ashore to prevent it from sinking. The forward part of the ship was holed. Its passengers have been transferred to the Danish steamer Koch.

COMMERCIAL WAR IN BALKANS Greece and Roumania Forced to Hurt Trade Because They Cannot Fight. WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—An open breach between Greece and Roumania will, according to private information received in this city, soon make the dangerous situation in the Balkans still more complicated. During the beginning of the last month Greece recalled its diplomatic representative from Bucharest, and Roumania was thereby forced to withdraw its minister from Athens. The immediate cause for the breach was the fact that the latter recognized the independence of the Koetso-Wallachs, a people living near the Greek border in Macedonia, which numbers perhaps 100,000. They belong to the Roumanian race, but were claimed by the Greeks to be under the command of the Greek patriarch in Constantinople. Accordingly bands were formed on the Greek frontier and expeditions sent among the Koetso-Wallachs to force the latter to acknowledge themselves to be Greeks and to register that way, during the census, then being taken in the Ottoman empire. The result did not interfere and the Koetso-Wallachs were forced to ask for the help of Roumania. That country, desiring to be represented in any future partition of Macedonia, gave its help and its intervention was taken to the present situation.

As it is not possible for the two countries to attack each other, either on land or on sea, the only damage they can inflict on each other, it is stated, would be through an economic war, in which, according to the Roumanian, Roumania would have the advantage. From 1901 to 1904 the Greeks imported 3,200,000 francs' worth of goods into Roumania, while the Roumanian imports into Greece did not amount to more than 1,500,000 francs. It is also pointed out that of the 4,800,000 francs which Roumanian ports during 1903, 1,387 were Greek. There exists between Roumania and Greece a commercial treaty effective until July, 1906.

WOMEN PETITION THE PREMIER

Wives of Men Out of Work Make Appeal to British Premier.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The desperate condition of the people of London was brought to the notice of Premier Balfour today by a remarkable deputation of the wives and other women relatives of the unemployed, who did not hesitate to tell the premier in what is speedily done to lessen their suffering, their will be bloodshed. "I forget that hungry men are desperate," said one of the speakers. "All he same tale to tell of husbands out of work and starving wives and children, pinched faces and tattered clothing. I am a woman, some of whom had babies in their arms, bore eloquent testimony of their distress. Enormous numbers of women from all parts of London, led through the streets, headed by a woman who Mr. Balfour received at the office of the local government, bore the 'Marseillaise' was heard as the procession advanced, perhaps the first time it was ever heard under such circumstances in the streets of London.

Only thirty of the women were admitted to the presence of Mr. Balfour. The premier was sympathetic. He acknowledged that the evil was very real but he had little to suggest in the way of alleviation except an expression of hope that public charity would come to the aid of the unemployed. He deprecated the socialists' suggestion that industrial action should be started at the national expense for the benefit of the unemployed as calculated to destroy the springs of enterprise and energy of the nation. At the close of Mr. Balfour's speech of despair, as the delegates called it, Mrs. Crooks, wife of William Crooks, a labor party member of the house of commons, and several other women excitedly invited Mr. Balfour to come and live among them for a few months. The premier remarked that he was quite sure that nothing but such a course could be other than disappointing. They had his genuine sympathy and he felt most acutely the magnitude of the evil from which they were suffering.

A mass meeting of the women was held in the afternoon to hear the report of the deputation. Mr. Crooks, M. P., and others made speeches. Mr. Crooks said that Mr. Balfour's reply to the deputation was unworthy of the premier of a great country. The mention of Mr. Balfour's name was greeted with a storm of hisses. Mr. Crooks said that he had started an agitation which would not cease until every man who wanted work was supplied with sufficient to support his wife and children. The speaker urged his hearers to continue the agitation. It was pointed out that in England would not be behind the revolution in Russia in securing the demands of the people. The meeting unanimously adopted a resolution to continue the fight for the employment of the unemployed and the meeting broke up amid uproarious scenes and the singing of the "Marseillaise."

Tower Asked for Information.

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—The negotiations for a general agreement between the United States and Germany were opened simultaneously at Berlin and Washington on Saturday. It now appears that Ambassador Tower asked the Foreign office for an exact statement of what was desired of the United States. The proposals were submitted. The foreign office awaits the United States' response and it is hoped that an arrangement can be reached before March 1, so that there may be no interval between the expiration of the old agreement and the coming into force of the new, thus avoiding disturbance of the usual trade movements.

BRIDGE OPEN TO ALL ALIKE

United States Supreme Court Decides in Favor of Great Western.

OTHER ROADS MAY USE THE STRUCTURE

Not Only Those Holding Contracts, but Others May Cross by Paying Reasonable Compensation for Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The supreme court of the United States today in the case of the Union Pacific Railroad Company against the Mason City & Fort Dodge Railroad Company, affirmed the decree of the circuit court of appeals for the Eighth circuit. The case involved the right to the use of the railroad bridge across the Missouri river at Omaha. By this final decision the Union Pacific is compelled to accord the use of the bridge and its approaches to other companies, upon payment of reasonable compensation, providing such use does not interfere with the work of the Union Pacific. This admits to use of the bridge not only roads with which the Union Pacific has made contracts, but also by a later management, but to the Mason City & Fort Dodge railroad. The decisions of the lower courts holds that the decision of the lower courts upholding the validity of the contract was also an adjudication of the right of the road under the statutes.

Sustains an Eight-Hour Law.

The supreme court of the United States today affirmed the decision of the supreme court of Missouri, maintaining the validity of the Missouri law making eight hours a legal day's work in the mines. The case in point was that of "Cantwell, et al., against Missouri."

Regarding the Union Pacific bridge decision, Judge McHugh said that he had had no word from Washington, but if the finding of the lower court was sustained it would give the Great Western the right to other railroad the right to use the bridge, the union station and the tracks to South Omaha.

Judge Kelly said that he had heard nothing from the case and could not say how far the decision went. Local interest in the case has not been very keen as it was accepted as a foregone conclusion all along the case would end just as it did.

ANDREWS COMMITS SUICIDE

Alleged Murderer of Besse Bouton Kills Himself and Female Companion to Avoid Arrest.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 6.—Milton F. Andrews, wanted for the sensational murder of Besse Bouton at Colorado Springs, tonight shot and killed his female companion, Neida Olivia, and then killed himself. Andrews was wanted for a murder assault on William Ellis, at Berkeley, Cal. The police located the couple at 76 McAlister street, this city, and when they were about to enter the house, tonight Andrews killed the woman and ended his own life. A little over a month ago Andrews and the woman arrived here on a steamer from Australia. On the voyage they formed the acquaintance of William Ellis, 21 years of age, who was coming to California to attend the winter racing. Ellis was known to have considerable money in his possession. Friendly relations were established, and when Andrews and the woman engaged a cottage at Berkeley they invited him to luncheon. During the meal Ellis was struck on the head with a hammer and the woman fired a couple of shots at him but they missed their mark. Ellis managed to escape and notified the police. A search of the cottage showed that the pair had made complete preparations for disposing of Ellis' body. Implements for dismembering the corpse, acids for mutilation and large pieces of oil cloth for preventive blood stains were discovered. The couple fled immediately after Ellis' escape and were not located until tonight. Photographs of Andrews were obtained and he was positively identified as the man who was the friend of Besse Bouton of Syracuse, N. Y., who was murdered at Cutler's mountain, Colorado Springs, about ten months ago.

The man was then known as Milton Franklin and had an alias of William Curtis. Besse Bouton was murdered and later the clothing and body was saturated with benzene and ignited. When the remains were found they were so badly mutilated that only the color film helped to identify them. A reward of $3,000 had been offered for the arrest of Andrews.

DYNAMITE ON THE TRACK

Attempt to Wreck Train Near Los Alamitos, Cal. Results in Injury to Locomotive.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Nov. 6.—An attempt was made to wreck the second section of passenger train No. 3, north bound, on the Southern Pacific about midnight last night at the Los Alamitos bridge, six miles beyond San and four miles north of Santa Barbara. A stick of dynamite had been placed on the track, and when the engine struck it there was a terrific explosion. The pilot and front wheels of the engine were blown completely off, but the engine did not leave the track and no one was injured. The railroad officials believe it was an attempt to wreck and perhaps rob the train and are working on that theory to apprehend the guilty parties.

ANNUAL REPORT OF COLUMBIA

University Enrolls Nearly Five Thousand Students and Received $1,900,000 in Gifts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Columbia university today received the gift amounting to $1,900,000 and had an enrollment of 4,981 students, according to the annual report of President Nicholas Murray Butler. President Butler said of Columbia's new study program, whereby a student may graduate in three years, or may take more than the usual time, to cover the same ground: "It breaks up the lockstep theory system of uniform annual promotions from class to class."

Under this system the requirement for graduation is the completion of a prescribed number of hours of work. It may even be possible, President Butler says, for an unusually advanced student to graduate in less than three years. "In this same connection he says: "It is useless to say that American students between 19 and 22 years of age cannot with advantage pursue professional and other university subjects of study, when these are precisely the years when the students of France and Germany are pursuing those studies to the greatest advantage."

REFERENDUM VOTE FOR RULER

Hauge Says Prince Charles of Denmark Will Be Elected by Norway.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Christian Hauge, charge d'affaires ad interim of Norway, in an interview published today discussed the coming election for the Norwegian throne by referendum vote of the people next Sunday. According to the latest accounts, I think Prince Charles of Denmark will be elected to the throne and accept, said Mr. Hauge. "The election will be held November 21, on which day voting will occur throughout the country, but as many places are remote, without wire connection, the vote will not be counted for perhaps a week afterward. "It probably will be about December 1 before the prince will ascend the throne after the reorganization of the cabinet. The cabinet, you know, is the one that severed the ties between our country and Sweden and, while all the members would likely resign formally, they probably would be reappointed. One or two, I understand, are determined to leave public life, but I am not at liberty to mention which ones."

Dr. Jacob Furee, former vice president of the company and president of the old Northwestern Life insurance company, who was indicted, is still in California, but Sheriff J. W. Dregar telegraphed the chief of police at Los Angeles and it is expected that as soon as Dr. Furee is notified of the grand jury's action he will return to Minnesota.

TEACHERS' PETITION IS IN

Request for Higher Pay in the Grades of Omaha Public Schools.

SUPERINTENDENT ADDRESSES THE BOARD

Text of Document Not Read and Matter Referred to the Teachers' Committee Without Debate.

The Board of Education received the petition of the teachers for increased wages without comment last night, and referred it to the committee on teachers. As every member was supplied with a printed copy, the text of the document was not read, in transmitting the petition, which bore more than 300 names, Superintendent Davidson said: "I feel assured that the members of the Board of Education will not only be interested in the subject matter of this petition, but that each and every member will give the petition and the petitioners both a sympathetic and a careful consideration. "I wish especially to call your attention to the splendid spirit of your corps of teachers, as revealed in the tone of the petition which they present. They are a loyal, faithful corps of teachers who deserve well at the hands of the Board of Education, whose employes they are, as well as at the hands of the community whom they so faithfully serve. "The petition is for an increase of 22.5 per cent in the minimum wage and 25 in the maximum, or to $50 and $100 a year, respectively. Member Theodore Johnson did not present his resignation, but held it for the next meeting, which he expects to attend.

Wage Scale for Janitors.

Member Lindsay sprung a surprise by introducing a resolution to direct the committee on heat and ventilation to report at the next meeting a revision of janitors' wages, with a view of equalizing them on a basis of the work performed, rather than according to the number of rooms occupied and used. Mr. Lindsay said that investigation showed that the present method of formulating the wage scale is ineffect and does not compensate in proportion to the tasks. In reply to a question from Member Cole, he said he did not know of any salaries among the janitors there were in need of reduction. Vice President Dettweiler ruled that the resolution constituted a proposed amendment to the rules and should be laid over for two weeks without action. The resignation of Anderson Rodgers as janitor at the Monmouth Park school was received and accepted, and G. W. Wagner appointed to fill the vacancy. A. P. Tugley & Son sent in a letter saying they understood larger playgrounds are wanted at the Pacific school. They proposed to sell a lot 132 feet square on the southeast corner of Twelfth and Mason streets, just north of the school, for $2,000. The matter was referred to a committee.

Bids on Printing.

Most of the Omaha printing firms submitted bids for printing 1,000 copies of the annual report, but the Magic City Printing company of South Omaha named the lowest bid, $14,000. The award was left to a committee. Other prices ranged as high as $27,500. The board authorized the signing of a petition for paving on Fifteenth street from William to Center. On the recommendation of the judiciary committee and the attorney, the board declined to pay any damages to Joseph Carnaby, who had his arm broken while acting as engineer at the high school early in the year. The committee said there was no money that could be paid out legally for such injuries and clerks of election, as appointed, were approved as officers of the school district election.

ANAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 6.—Middie James R. Branch, son of James R. Branch of the Hanover National bank of New York, is in a dangerous condition from injuries believed to have been received in a fist fight with another Middie. The young man received an injury to the right side of the head, which affected the head and paralyzed the left side of his body. The greatest anxiety was felt over his condition by the medical officer, and an operation was performed tonight by Drs. M. Finney of the Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, and Dr. Kerr of Washington, assisted by the naval academy staff. The skull was opened and a blood clot removed, and there is hope of the young man's recovery. In unofficial circles it is said that Middie Branch's injuries were received in a pre-arranged fight over a personal matter.

FARMER COMMITS SUICIDE

Body of Missouri Man Who Was Swindled Out of $5,000 Found in a Pond.

LAMAR, Mo., Nov. 6.—The dead body of Albert Neidenmighauser, who recently was robbed of more than $5,000 by two land swindlers, was found in a pond on his farm near "Jesse's Bluff" here. The body was backed by a dull knife several times, but none of the cuts were deep, and it is believed he met his death from drowning. Neidenmighauser, who was a wealthy farmer, came here from Illinois a year ago. He went to Oklahoma two weeks ago and returned Sunday, bringing two strange men with him. Shortly after their arrival the two men secured the money from Neidenmighauser and left a few minutes later, presumably for Oklahoma. Neidenmighauser, greatly agitated, left his home Sunday and he was not seen alive again. He was weeping when he went away. It is not known whether suicide or murder caused his death.

Jerome Discusses Plot.

District Attorney Jerome, at the final meeting of his supporters in Cooper union tonight made a sensation when reaching the platform he exhibited a plate from which he said he had just discovered circulars were about to be printed purporting to be issued by the nominators and containing directions for voting for himself, which, if followed, would have invalidated practically all the ballots cast for him. The city, he said, was to have been flooded tonight with these circulars, but that the plot was revealed to him by a man employed in a printing office in time to stop their sale. The circulars bore facsimiles of the republican and Jerome ballots and directed
