DAMAGE BY SUNDAY STORM

Rain Descends in Torrents and Lightning Does a Busy Turn.

RAILROAD TRAFFIC DELAYED

Burlington, Rock Island and Northwestern Lines to Lincoln Washed Out and Union Pacific Under Water.

A severe thunderstorm accompanied by heavy winds began at 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning and lasted until midnight. It was a most terrifying one in evidence most of Sunday and at 5:30 the heavens again began to weep copiously with a goodly supply of lightning and thunder thrown in, lasting until 9:30. No harm was done by the wind in Lincoln, but the rain and lightning brought some damage in the evening. Street car traffic was demoralized more or less on all lines by rain, mud and lightning. The armatures of many of the cars were put out of business by lightning, delaying traffic until other cars could be sent out from the barns to replace the disabled ones. Some thought to pressure seekers were caught up at the various resorts and parks. About half of the 6,000 people who attended the ball game left when the storm began to threaten and look serious, while the other half of the rosters, like the boy on the Sunday deck, refused to budge, as a result being somewhat dampened, not in enthusiasm, but in clothes.

Nor rain nor wind sufficed to stop the splendid concert at Hanson park by George Green and his band Sunday afternoon. The park was crowded to hear the concert and when the rain came along and the people could not get home the scene of operation was transferred to the pavilion where the concert was continued to the great delight of those caught out in the July shower. The Teddy Bears and Dolly Patrol had to be repeated in response to repeated calls. A popular ragtime concert was played at Hanson park next Saturday by George Green and his band.

Mud Blocks Roadway
The street commissioner early Monday morning started a force of men at work on Twentieth street under the Union Pacific bridge, where mud accumulated so that traffic by wagon was practically impossible. The old stone was around the government corral at that point last during the night and stones covered the street.

Lightning is Busy.
For a time while the electrical display was at its worst, sparks on all lines were stopped, as the current was turned off. Lightning struck the top of the First Presbyterian steeple at Seventeenth and Dodge streets, ripping the shingles off for about twenty feet. Fortunately the bolt did not ignite the woodwork. A house at 21 North Ninth street was struck by lightning and took fire. No one was hurt and the fire was put out before the department arrived. A house at Eighteenth and Charles streets was struck, but no serious damage done. A large tree in Riverview park was riddled by lightning and the lower limbs full of people, but fortunately no one was near enough at the time to receive injury. A barn at 2012 Oak street was struck by lightning and destroyed. Many telephones were put out of service by the lightning. The men in the police station during the storm. After each display of lightning and crash of thunder the telephones, fire alarms and burglar alarms would go simultaneously, and twice the confusion was added to by the lightning striking so close that sparks of electricity would snap around the room. The lower courts of the Union Pacific yards were flooded so as to stop shipping and other traffic for a while. The rain produced a bad cave-in of the sewer at Sixth and Jones streets and another on Ninth street between Farnam and Harney, the latter being about twelve feet deep.

Record of Rainfall.
The total amount of rainfall in the vicinity of Omaha during the forty-eight hours ending at 7 o'clock Monday, was 2.53 inches. The heaviest rains reported to the weather bureau for the state were at Fairbury, where a precipitation of 5.68 inches fell since Saturday, 3.77 inches during Sunday and Sunday night.

The rain was heaviest in southeastern Nebraska, southern Iowa and northern Missouri. At Lincoln, Mo., the rainfall was 5.78 inches; at Kansas City, 4.38, and at Ashland, 2.16, with but 0.76 of an inch at Valentine. More or less rain fell all through the state and throughout the central Missouri valley, varying from one-fourth of an inch to the maximum of 5.78 inches at Lexington, Mo.

The Missouri Pacific for continued showers Monday night and Tuesday, with cooler in the extreme eastern portion Monday night. No noticeable rise in the Missouri river is reported northward from Omaha, as the heavier rains prevailed southward from Omaha.

The main line of the Union Pacific was out of commission for two and one-half hours last night, the water washing over the track at Papillon and carrying away about 100 yards of embankment. A force of men was put to work as soon as the water subsided and the track was opened in a couple of hours. The exact condition of affairs is impossible to learn. There is one wire between Omaha and Verdon, and a message from the Missouri Pacific section foreman Sunday night to District Superintendent Bevington of the Missouri Pacific road, said there had been a cloudburst of great proportions between Ashburn and Falls City, the most of the track between those places was either washed out or under water. The report said that the Burlington tracks were under eight feet of water from Verdon east, that the lightning was very heavy and the wires were all down on that line.

The Missouri Pacific road suffered a heavy damage at Oregopolis. Superintendent Bevington of that road said last night that he would leave on a special train early Monday morning to inspect the damage. From the best information obtainable early Monday morning by Missouri Pacific officials the cloudburst covered a broad area and was of great volume, and it is believed that great damage was done to crops and property.

The Rock Island had its tracks between Omaha and Lincoln open at 10 o'clock

Monday morning and was able to send the local trains out over its own rails. The regular trains were put through during the day about on schedule. A large number of Omaha people had a bad night on the Burlington Sunday night. Leaving Lincoln at 4:30 Sunday afternoon, the train was put through as far as Gretna, where it was stopped by the rain and washouts. It was then backed to Ashland, and finally landed in Omaha Monday morning at 8 o'clock via Plattsmouth.

Des Moines River on Rampage.
DES MOINES, Ia., July 14.—As the result of the recent rains the Des Moines river is rising rapidly and the storm tonight has driven many people from their homes south of the city. No great damage has been done as yet, but at 10 o'clock there was no abatement from the steady downpour that started in early in the evening. The river continued to climb.

From above come reports of heavy rains and the fear is that before morning the stream will be out of its banks, causing damage to property both in the city and lowlands to the south.

REACTIONARIES DENOUNCE JEW
Register a Vow to Exclude Them from Membership in Third Duma.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 13.—The arrival of the Russian revolutionaries, brought from Palestine by the patriarch of Jerusalem for presentation to the emperor, was made the occasion today for a remarkable anti-revolutionary demonstration. The ikon was borne along Nevsky Prospect in procession by a dozen bishops. A long train of monks in violent language denounced several thousand people in the cortege. The ikon was guarded by squadrons of Cossacks and was deposited in Kazan cathedral, the metropolitan of St. Petersburg officiating.

There were no disorders, but the moving shrine was besieged in its passage through the crowd of devotees, who sought for a chance to kiss the ikon. Many persons fainted.

Subsequently, a great mass meeting was held and was addressed by reactionary leaders, including Dr. Dubovyn, president of the League of Russian People, and Prince Volkonsky, who in violent language denounced the Third Duma and called upon his hearers to register a vow that not a single Jew be allowed to enter the portals of the Third Duma. The vow was taken amid the greatest enthusiasm.

KIEV, Russia, July 14.—The court-martial of 100 soldiers in a regiment in a reactionary meeting on June 17, after the dissolution of the Duma, has been concluded. Six of the men were sentenced to death and the others to long terms of imprisonment or to disciplinary arrest.

MURDERER OF BOY TO BE TRIED
Authorities Hope to Break Up Organization of Italian Criminals.

HAHNVILLE, La., July 13.—The small village of Hahnville, consisting of a jail, a courthouse, one store, a river landing and a few houses, will tomorrow be the scene of Louisiana's most important criminal trial in a decade.

Although the indictments, which charge with murder, call only for ferreting out the man who kidnaped and strangled Walter Larnard, an eight-year-old New Orleans boy a month ago, the real aim is the suppression of Italian violence in this state. It is hoped, not only to make a severe example, but to learn how extensive an organization was behind the plot, which included ten persons, two of them women, to participate in an attempt to get $50,000 ransom. Owing to the state of public feeling, Governor Blanchard has secured a special session of the court and put the state militia at the disposal of the sheriff of this parish, although it now appears unlikely that any militia will be needed.

Four Italians, including one of the women, will go on trial for their lives tomorrow, two more will stand trial a week later. Ten are still at large. The leader of those to be tried tomorrow is Ignazio Campiciano. A posse of officers took him from his home near here at night and in sound of the voice of his crying child, with a noose tight around his neck, and the rope over a tree limb, they forced Campiciano to break his word to his countrymen and was taken to the jail. The fact that he led this posse two miles through a swamp in the dark to the boy's body, has fastened suspicion on him, although he claims that the four men who have not yet been captured, committed the crime.

RAILROAD PROBLEM IN MEXICO
Minister of Finance Discusses Plan Adopted to Control the Companies.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 13.—Minister of Finance Jose Yves Limantour, in an interview with the correspondent of the Associated Press, discussed today the report recently reached this capital to the effect that President Roosevelt had under consideration a proposal that the railroad question be left to the purchase of a majority of the stock of the principal lines of the country by the federal government.

"The federal power merely exerts a controlling influence over the great trunk lines of the country by the purchase of a majority of the stock of the principal lines of the country by the federal government," said the minister. "It is the absolute divorcing of railway control from politics."

BULLETIN NEBRASKA TELEPHONE COMPANY

Deadly Parallel No. 4.

Omaha and the Nebraska Telephone Company have grown up together, the community helping the company to grow and the company helping the community to grow. Since January 1 of this present year 1,500 telephones have been added to the Omaha exchange. This means that your telephone is more useful to you than it was five months ago. There are more people you can reach and more people who can reach you. There are now over 15,000 telephones actually in operation in Omaha. The demands made upon the company for new equipment and increased facilities have been steadily met, and Omaha has for years set the pace for good service.

The Nebraska Telephone Company employs the highest type of central energy switchboard which is operated under what is called the manual system. Operators are employed to make the connections because they have been found more reliable and satisfactory than any mechanical device yet discovered. Everything except the actual making and breaking of the connections is done automatically, thus reducing the labor of the operator and the subscriber to a minimum.

The automatic switchboard, which does away with operators, has been known for ten or a dozen years, and has made practically no headway in public favor.

The type of Bell switchboard in the Omaha exchange is accepted as the standard the world over. Japan and other countries which have come to the United States for the best and latest telephone equipment have ordered switchboards identical to those used in Omaha. It is and always has been the policy of the Nebraska Telephone Company to reduce rates just as fast as the business would permit. The records show what has been done in this regard. The cost of the measured minute mile of telephone talk has been steadily reduced and rates have been reduced in proportion. With increased use of the telephone and with the wonderful growth of business concerns there has resulted a wide difference in the telephone requirements of different people, and the company is constantly adapting its rates to meet these varying needs.

The Nebraska Telephone Company gives its subscribers full value for their money, and this is because the company has no watered stock or exorbitant profits.

DENIAL COMES FROM JAPAN
No Military Spies in United States Now or at Any Other Time.

TOKYO, July 13.—General Teruchi, the minister of war, in an interview today contradicting the reported arrest of a Japanese spy at San Diego, Cal., said: "There are no Japanese military officers in America except military attachés. The War office," he emphatically declared, "has never instructed any officer or amateur spy to examine American forts."

YAMAMOTO EXTENDS THANKS

NEW YORK, July 13.—Upon the eve of his departure for New England, Admiral Baron Yamamoto, the distinguished Japanese who has for several days been a guest in the city, gave out a formal statement expressing his appreciation of the courtesies received and rejoicing that he had been instrumental in eliciting sentiments of international unity. Through his aide, Captain Kate, Admiral Yamamoto tonight said:

"I wish to thank my many friends in New York City, both Japanese and American, for the multitude of kindnesses shown me. Wherever I turn I find friends and expressions of friendship.

"My deep sense of appreciation for my welcome again to America (for you know I have been here several times) forbids my going the way without saying to my friends: I am proud of your welcome. Especially has the press been very kind to me.

"I am glad if in any way I was instrumental in eliciting from your great president his statement that the feeling between Japan and the United States is understood by both governments and both peoples to be very friendly."

The admiral and his staff will leave at 3 o'clock tomorrow morning for Boston. During their stay in New England the party will visit the yards of the Fore River Shipbuilding company at Quincy, Mass.

The admiral dined at the Holland house tonight with eighteen representative Japanese merchants and manufacturers. At luncheon today he was the guest of General Grant at Governor's Island.

TRADES UNION FOR WOMEN
Delegates to the National League Discuss Their Plans.

CHICAGO, July 13.—Delegates from Milwaukee, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Detroit, St. Paul and Peoria were present today at a meeting of the Women's National Trade Union league, which was called in the interest of women workers.

The discussion was opened by an address by Miss Mary E. McDowell on "How May Women's Unions Be Best Strengthened?" Several of the delegates responded and the general sentiment seemed to be that the women of this country were not as united as they should be.

Resolutions were adopted calling upon all women workers to band together for the benefit of all and it was predicted by the speaker that if a determined effort was made along these lines that it would be but a short time until women would be recognized in many vocations from which she is now practically barred.

Deadly Parallel No. 4.

GROWTH VS. PROMOTION

Telephone promoters have worked out a very clever scheme of bond speculation. They issue what they name as "first mortgage gold bonds" on a property not yet built. These bonds are made to appear as a safe and conservative investment and therefore only five per cent interest is promised. Then they print enough certificates of stock so that they can give them away to the purchasers of the bonds. If four per cent can be paid on this stock it means that the bond purchaser may get nine per cent on his "conservative investment."

But often it is impossible to get purchasers to pay $100 for such bonds with an equal amount of stock thrown in, and so the price of the bonds drops to 90 or 80 or 70 cents on the dollar. This makes the speculation subject to even greater risks, although it promises more extravagant returns. Supposing a purchaser buys such bonds at 70 cents on the dollar and gets an equal amount of stock as a premium. It means that the company only gets $70 in money to build a plant which is mortgaged in advance for $100 and loaded with at least an equal amount of stock which is all water. It then lies between the prospective subscribers of the new company and the bond investors—either the subscribers must pay enough to make up all these deficiencies or the bond investors must ultimately take their losses. How great these losses may be the exposure of the United States Independent Telephone Company is showing. The promoters of this $50,000,000 company really had some actual property to start with, and yet within two years the control of the company was offered at $35 for the bonds, $5 for the common and $1 for the deferred common stock. The deal fell through owing to the interference of the courts, and now a strenuous effort is being made to sell the company and obtain $40 for first mortgage gold bonds which have a face value of $100.

The Nebraska Telephone Company gives its subscribers full value for their money, and this is because the company has no watered stock or exorbitant profits.

ELKS BREAK ALL RECORDS

Largest Crowd in History of Order at Grand Lodge.

TENER LEADS FOR HEAD OFFICE

Elaborate Arrangements for Entertainment Are Being Carried Out—Dallas Wants Next Meeting.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—Opening of the Elks' convention week was greeted with clear, fairly warm weather. From 4:15 a. m. when the first delegation arrived from Mobile, Ala., big hosts of Elks came every hour. Grand Secretary Fred C. Robinson of Dubuque, Ia., said today that the registration of delegates to the grand lodge meeting is the largest in the history of the order. Philadelphia is decorated as never before and every day until Saturday will practically be a holiday. The streets in the central part of the city are jammed with enthusiastic crowds and the familiar, "Hello Elks," is heard everywhere. The convention of the grand lodge will be formally opened at the Grand opera house tonight.

The principal address of welcome on behalf of the local lodge will be made by Congressman Moore of this city. Mayor Rayburn and Governor Stuart are expected to attend the hand of welcome. The response will be by Grand Exalted Ruler Henry A. Melvin of California.

The first official entertainment of the members of the grand lodge took place at 7:30 at a park on the New Jersey side of Delaware river. The members and their wives were conveyed there in chartered coaches, which before landing made a tour of the river, passing the League Island navy yard and the big ship building plants. The festivities at the park began with a clam bake and sea food dinner.

Every candidate for grand lodge office is either here or is represented by energetic agents, who beforehand every delegate that presents himself for registration. John K. Tener of Charlotte, Pa., the grand treasurer, a candidate for grand exalted ruler, seems to lead for that high honor and his election is freely predicted.

Dallas, Tex., appears to have the field to itself at present as the place for the next convention.
