

INCANDESCENTS FOR ARCS

Substitution in Street Lights Considered by City Council.

CAN THUS COVER MORE SPACE

Johnson Believes Small Bulbs Would Give People in Residence Districts Better Satisfaction Than the Big Lights.

Incandescent instead of arc lamps may be used to light the residence districts of Omaha after the current year. Members of the new city council are considering making the change in the interest, largely, of people living in the newly settled additions and in outlying districts.

The present five-year contract with the Omaha Electric Light and Power company expires at the close of the current year and before a contract is entered into between the city and the company, the proposed change will be thoroughly discussed.

Are lamps naturally give more light than incandescents, but Councilman Johnson believes the people would be better satisfied with incandescents.

"I have not looked into the matter very closely," said Mr. Johnson, "but if we could get a contract for either arcs or incandescents, we could put it up to the residents of a certain locality and tell them they could either have ten arc lamps, for instance, or thirty-five incandescents. They could do just as they pleased about it, but I think most localities would choose the incandescents on account of the greater number and the larger territory that would be covered."

Man Who Leaves Home is Found Dead at Gibson

Jacob Havel is Discovered in Weed Patch Near the Burlington Railroad Station.

Jacob Havel, 25 years of age, who lived with his widowed mother, Mrs. Jennie Havel, at First and Spring streets, Gibson, and who disappeared in an angry mood last Sunday morning and could not be located, was found dead Friday noon lying in a large patch of weeds near the Burlington station at Gibson or at least that is the report received by Frank Radil, South Omaha sanitary officer. Radil is a cousin.

Dependancy and suicide, robbery and murder, or sudden death from sickness, are theories offered to account for Havel being found dead.

He attended a party Saturday night and is said to have returned home intoxicated the next morning about 7:30 o'clock. His mother remarked about his condition and his being out so late.

Havel went to bed, but got up again about 10 o'clock in the morning and left home without saying a word as to his intentions. Since that time, until his body was discovered, nobody is known to have seen him.

The police were furnished with descriptions of the missing man as early as Tuesday and Sergeant Tony Vanous was appealed to personally Thursday evening at his home by the anxious mother. He made a thorough investigation of the case Friday morning at Gibson, but reported to the police station that the man had not been found.

Havel's hat was found at Gibson a day or two ago by a railway employe—Gus Miller—and it is said that a postal card was received at Gibson, signed by Havel and dated at Kansas City. In it he said he was "O. K." and asked how the Gibson people were.

Havel was working in Livesey & Co.'s brick yard when he disappeared. He is a brother-in-law of Frank Radil, the South Omaha sanitary officer, who received the only news of the finding of the body and immediately went with a buggy to investigate the report.

He was about six feet in height, weighed 150 pounds and had a smooth face and light brown hair, cut short in the back.

IOWA DEMOCRAT PRAISES DOLLIVER AND CUMMINS

Says that the Hawkeye State Has Two of the Best United States Senators.

Iowa has at least one democrat who is willing to admit the republicans in congress are not all bad men. This particular Hawkeye, who in addition to being a member of the democratic party is also a devoted follower of W. J. Bryan, is G. M. Gretsinger, a big land owner of Coon Rapids, Ia., and he just now is a guest at the Millard.

"We have two of the best United States senators of any state in the union over here in Iowa," he said. "I am a democrat, mind you, but that does not blind me to the good things men of the other party do. I want to say that Dolliver and Cummins stand for the best interests of our state. Their fight for a lower tariff shows what kind of fellows they are. We people of Iowa, whether we be democrats or republicans, are pretty strong for both Dolliver and Cummins. I believe the state will keep them in congress until they get ready to retire to private life."

GOOD LOOKS COUNT AT THE HOTELS IN AUSTRALIA

If You Are Not Found in Appearance You Must Pay in Advance.

Frank T. Wallace, a New York traveling man, is a guest at the Paxton on his return for a year's trip in Australia. "While there is a good deal of the American spirit prevailing in Sidney and Melbourne, they do things there in a peculiar way," said he. "It is hard to get used to them. They have excellent restaurants there, but they run on a peculiar plan. A man goes in and sits down at a table, and a
