THE CRY IS STILL THEY COME.—Another Edgecombe bachelor has bowed at the shrine of Hymen. Mr. F. R. Pippen of Whitakers led to the altar Miss Etta Pipkin of Wilson on Thursday. The ceremony was solemnized by Elder P. D. Gold of Wilson in the Primitive Baptist church.

The following attendants assisted in launching the happy couple on the matrimonial sea. Miss Telitha E. Cobb and Mr. J. Pipkin, Miss Anna Biggs and Mr. J. L. Cobb, Miss Lula Fields and Mr. L. Jordon, Miss Ella Moye and Mr. H. J. Wheless, Miss Maggie Jordan, and Mr. J. Y. Paris, Miss Fannie Rountree and Mr. Lot Williams, Miss M. E. Clarke and Mr. A. L. Taylor, Miss Minerva King and Mr. E. Oliham. It was the handsomest party assembled in Wilson in a long while. The Cupid-joined couple left, after the usual style, for the Centennial.

Register! Register! Register!!

The registration books are now open and every man should see that his name is upon the revised list; don't be satisfied with thinking that it is, but go and see for yourselves that your name is there, very often in revising, the registrar omits, accidentally, some name that ought to be there, so see for yourself that your name is on the book.

NEW ADVS.—We call attention to the advertisement in another column of M. Weddell & Co., who is now offering their stock of goods at a great sacrifice. You should not fail to call and see him.

Also to the notice of J. M. Spragins, who is prepared to furnish Oysters by the plate or measure on reasonable terms.

THE STATE FAIR.—We have received a complimentary ticket to the Sixteenth Annual Fair of the North Carolina Agricultural Society, which commences in the city of Raleigh on Tuesday, Oct. 17th, and closes on Saturday the 21st, five days.—From every indication it will surpass any Fair held there since the war. We would recommend our farmers to go and carry something to further this great object in exhibiting the products of our State.

INTERESTING RACE ON FRIDAY.—The lovers of sport were treated to one of the most interesting races on Friday that we have had in the county for a long time; it was the race between Henry Winborne's colt, Mollie, and Col. Cromwell's colt, Vashti, for half-mile dash. With a fair start Vashti led off for the first quarter but she wasn't able to keep it as Mollie had been put there to take the lead and she did it coming in several lengths ahead. The only objection that could be had to the race, was that ONE was beaten, and they were both such beauties that the disinterested lookers on were very anxious that both should beat.

A RELATIVE OF BEN BUTLER IN TOWN.—On Friday morning a young man walked into Spier's Restaurant and called for a twenty-five cent breakfast, and going upon the principle of the most material for the least money, he wanted two cups coffee because he didn't "take sugar in his'n" and while the boy was out after the coffee, he, neither having the fear of the Devil or Judge Moore in his heart, imitated the example of the illustrious "Beast" and appropriated the only silver spoon on the table and concealed it in his boot.

As soon as the spoon was missed Gen'l Cotten was notified and interviewed the aforesaid Butlerite the result was the production of the spoon, with the remark that he was a gentleman but took that spoon because he didn't get enough breakfast for his money. 'Tis a pity that Ben. Butler the first, don't come down here and teach to steal a spoon. Gen'l Cotten would soon show him that spoon-stealing was a more difficult business here than it was in the days of old—and I think the Beast would find himself in a bad way, when Cotten came up to him.

TARBORO TILDEN AND VANCE CAMPAIGN CLUB.—The regular weekly meeting of this Club was held at Teel Hall on Wednesday evening at the usual hour. After the usual routine of business, the President introduction Mr. Frank Nash, the orator of the evening. Mr. Nash addressed the Club for about a half hour upon the questions involved in the Presidential canvass. This was Mr. Nash's first appearance as a public speaker, and his first effort certainly contains much promise of future power as a speaker. His view of the present situation and of the results likely to follow from Democratic or Republican success in the pending contest, was presented in clear and accurate English (a praise not to be accorded to every political speaker) and showed that the speaker had formed his opinions from other reading than what is found in the daily papers. The readiness with which a practiced speaker takes the stand and reherses the regular party catchwords and statistics prepared by executive committees and literary bureaus, comes of habit; but the power to go behind the phenomena of present appearances, and to find in the history of the past the hidden causes of present distress and disorder, shows a mind that will not be satisfied with the name, but will persevere to the reality of an orator.

Mr. John W. Cotten, on behalf of the Committee of Arrangements, announced that Thos. J. Jarvis, the Democratic candidate for Lieut. Governor, would address the Club at its next meeting.

The President appointed as a Committee of Arrangements to select a speaker and report to next meeting, Messrs. David Pender, R. B. Alsop and James E. Simmons.

There being no further business, the meeting then adjourned.

Tilden and Vance Club of Deep Creek Township.

The fortnight meeting of this Club was held at Kill Quick on Saturday last with an attendance of about 75 and 100, one-third of them blacks.

Capt. Philips addressed the Club at length upon the current political topics.—The principal aim of his remarks was to show that the condition of the South—of our people right here at home—was to be attributed to the misunangement of our affairs by the men entrusted with the reins of Government. He showed briefly the condition of the Southern States at the close of the war, none of them having a debt of any troublesome proportions. He then showed that in every case where the Republican party had obtained the power they had plundered the community and loaded the State with debts, the proceeds of which went to the pockets of the party in power without doing the State any benefit at all proportioned to the magnitude of the obligations incurred. He then showed that in every case where the Democrats had succeeded in ousting their opponents either in State or county governments, there had been an almost magical revival of public credit, a lessening of public burdens and a general return to something like prosperity and advancement. Capt. Philips spoke with earnestness and vigor, and was heard with close attention by both white and colored.

The colored people of this Township show a commendable interest in the political questions of the day, and a good number of them are always on hand to hear what the Democratic speakers have to say. Very likely no great impression will be made on the negro vote in the county during this canvass, but if they would all come to Democratic meetings and hear the truth they could not long remain solidly opposed to good government.

Annual Statement.

The Reason why the Board did not Publish the County Statement, Startling Shortcomings.

EDITOR SOUTHERNER:—We return again to our matter. The County Commissioners have failed to publish in a newspaper their annual statement of receipts and disbursements. They were called for some weeks ago, by the SOUTHERNER, but they have been as deaf as a gate post up to a few days ago, when they were posted in the hand writing of the Treasurer.

We were in hopes to have seen a decided improvement compared to the expenses of the fiscal year, ending 1st Sept., '75. We can now understand why the commissioners have not published their annual statement in a newspaper where he who runs may read. Fellow tax-payers look at the result in this down trodden radical county. Only $9,688.31 collected for the poor fund from 1st Sept. '75 to 1st Sept. '76, just one short twelve months and only $17,504.57 for the general fund for the same time or an aggregate of $27,252.88 to run the County of Edgecombe for twelve months. Mind you tax-payers this is for the County purposes alone, our State tax not being included in the above sum. Whither are we drifting financially? Bankruptcy, utter bankruptcy, stares us in the face, with a continuation of this management for a few years more. Is it any wonder that every class—the agricultural laboring class particularly, feels the severity of the times? Is it any wonder that field labor has come down and must go lower than at present? With such taxation can any branch of industry in our county prosper? Tremendous prices must be paid by our Board of Commissioners for every thing they purchase for county use.

We respectfully call their attention to this matter and ask that some of the bills may be published in detail and let the tax-payers see how their money goes. It is a very reasonable request, and we trust it will be at once complied with. Show your hands, Messrs. Commissioners. If the prices paid have been reasonable, we wish you to get the credit of it. If not, you are justly blameable as the custodians of the county. TOWN CRIER.

FROM BATTLEBORO.

Brogden at Battleboro—He refuses to Use his Influence with the Lawless Mob of Negroes for the Maintenance of the Law.

BATTLEBORO, N. C., Oct. 10th, 1876.

ED. SOUTHERNER:—Gov. Brogden spoke here, by appointment, last Saturday. He was met at the train by the colored member of the Legislature from Edgecombe, and escorted to the hotel by another colored brother. He spoke for three hours, at the usual gathering place of the negroes, to a crowd of perhaps two hundred blacks. Occasionally a white man would draw near for a moment to see how the Governor of a great State would demean himself under such trying circumstances.

During the evening a turbulent negro, named Dick Hunter, was arrested for disorderly conduct. He resisted the constable and was then carried bodily by four white men toward the lock-up. As they approached the place where the Governor was entertaining his colored hearers, some fifty of them with yells and oaths, rushed on the white men and rescued the prisoner. They carried him near the speaker's stand, whether because they thought the presence of the Governor would be a protection, or because the crowd of negroes was largest there, I can not say. After the chief magistrate had finished speaking, the Mayor of the town, stated to him what had occurred, and asked him to interpose his supreme authority and have the negro re-arrested. He replied that he (the Mayor) had the authority to make the arrest. The Mayor rejoined that owing to the number of negroes and scarcity of whites, he found himself unable to exercise his authority without danger of a riot. The Governor concluded he "didn't know anything about it." Some of the darkies said "come on Governor," and so he wended his way to the hotel.

I state these facts without comment.—The people can draw their own conclusions. Respectfully, X.

FROM GEORGIA.

A Former Resident of Tarboro Writes From the Great State of Georgia—Words of Warning and of Cheer to his old Mother North Carolina.

DUPONT, GA., Oct. 9th, 1876.

ED. SOUTHERNER:—Dear Sir:—I am at this place, a small railroad town, situated at the junction of the Atlantic and Gulf and Jacksonville, Pensacola and Mobile railroads, equi distant from Savannah and Jacksonville, being 130 miles from each City. These roads pass through a fine piney wood region of country, interspersed with good hammock lands. Prices range from 50 cents to $5.00 per acre, according to location, quality and improvements, the soil is thin, but produces finely. The farmers never compost, and but few manure their lands, they depend upon resting every other year. Did they possess the energy our Edgecombe planters have, they could make money even at the low price of cotton. These farmers get 25 cents per pound for the long staple cotton, and it is seldom they make two acres yield one bag, the reason is they do not compost their lands, but depend too much on the climate. This is a fine stock country, and cost little or nothing to raise cattle and hogs. It is also perfectly healthy, there is no grave yard here, and not but one person has died in this place in five years, the natives are well to do, they own their lands, make their supplies, and owe but little, a mortgage is hardly known in this (Clinch) and surrounding counties, in fact, Georgia is a great old State, and is in the high road to prosperity. Why is it that other Southern States, possessing the same natural advantages, languish, while she is so flourishing? The reason is evident, she is ruled by intelligence and virtue, while her less fortunate sister are ruled by ignorance and corruption.

In passing through South Carolina one cannot but be struck with the delapidated appearance of things which is presented to the traveller—old homesteads, barn yards, out houses, fences and the crops seems to partake of the blight which prevades the State. Everything tends to prove that whatever Radicalism touches, results in destruction and ruin. You are convinced at once the people are disheartened, crushed and groan under terrible oppression.—We who have lived in radical Edgecombe know nothing compared to the workings of radicalism of South Carolina and Florida, the lines are strictly drawn, and the man who is a native, and goes over to the enemy, is looked upon with scorn and contempt, the fight is bitter, and well may it be, for the salvation of the people named above, depend upon victory being achieved by themselves over tyranny and corruption.

The election took place in this State today—doubtless Colquitt is elected by an immense majority. At this precinct 175 votes were polled. 50 colored men voted. There were but 11 radical votes in 175. I never saw so many colored democrats before, thousands vote with the whites, all is peace and harmony, thousands own property and prospering. I wish the eyes of all colored people could be opened, then prosperity would bless both races. In my next I will give you the news from Florida. A bad state of affairs at present exists there, but we have great hopes of carrying the State from 2,500 to 3,000 majority.

I received the SOUTHERNER every week, it reminds me of old familiar friends.

It does me good to see the old North State so fully aroused, and shaking herself like a young Lion. I believe the oldest inhabitant has never seen her so terribly in earnest, from the mountain to the hill top, from the valley to the sea shore, the battle cry is Tilden and Hendricks, Vance, victory and reform.

May this great Centennial year about which so much has been written and said, prove indeed to be a great year of jubilee to us. As the children of Israel were delivered from Egyptian bondage by the hands of Moses and Aaron so may we by the hands of Tilden and Hendricks, under providence be delivered from our political bondage, safely through the wilderness of corruption and dishonesty, to the promised land of liberty.

May our old mother State give Vance, Tilden and Hendricks from 15,000 to 25,000 majority.

Yours, Very Truly,
C. M.

A PROPOSITION—is hereby made to our subscribtion debters to receive any article or Food (fruit and vegetables excepted) in payment for Southerner.

PERSONAL.—Gen. J. M. Leach passed through this place, on Wednesday from Greenville where he spoke to a large crowd. His speeches in Martin County, we understand, effected great good, causing a great many colored men to join the Democratic party.

THE LATEST AND THE BEST.

The Solid 'South Dodge Wont go Down.'

Just as we go to Press, the editor returns bringing the very latest from the front. Tilden's election, if we will only strive for the prize, is rendered sure. The following is the telegram:

NEW YORK, Oct. 12, 1876.

Gov. Hendricks telegraphs this morning entire ticket elected by 5,000 to 8,000.

West Va., gives 6,000 to 8,000. Ohio very close.

A. B. DICKINSON,
Sec'y Nat. Dem. Com.

From a special dispatch received here at 2:30 o'clock P. M. yesterday, we gather the following election news:

West Virginia, Democratic by 10,000 majority.

Ohio, republican from 5,000 to 8,000 majority.

Republicans concede Indiana to Williams, Democrat, by 2,000; Democrats claims it by from 5,000 to 8,000.

This is glory enough for one day. Hurrah for Tilden, Vance and Reform.

ELECTION RETURNS

OHIO.

CINCINNATI, October 10.—The election is progressing quietly; a few repeaters in the fourth ward were arrested. A large vote is polling. Both parties claim the advantage. Indications are that Mathews, republican, will beat Banning, democrat, in the second district and Saylor, democrat, in the first district.

Banning, democrat, in the second congressional district, is evidently losing his vote of 1874. It is claimed that the nineteenth ward up to the present time shows a loss to Banning of 200 votes, and the majority against him in his own ward is estimated at 700.

A despatch from Defiance, O., says 558 votes were cast at 11 o'clock out of a total of 943.

An Athens despatch signed by General Grosvenor says that Barnes will run 50 ahead of his ticket in that township.

Returns commencing to be received. The democratic committee claim the whole of the democratic ticket elected. Saylor in the first district and Banning in the second district are probably elected. The republicans claim the rest of the ticket.

The Enquirer claims Hamilton county by 2,000 majority. The Commercial concedes the county to the democrats but claims a republican majority in the state. The Gazette shows a net republican gain of 1,000 from 500 voting precincts. The democrats are claiming Hamilton county by 3,000 majority, though in the first district the late returns show Force, republican for Congress, rapidly gaining on Saylor.

COLUMBUS, October 10.—Returns so far received are scattering and too meagre to cause any calculation on the gains. The scattering township returns show a democratic gain of 828 and a republican gain of 919, being a net republican gain of 91 over the vote of last year. A private despatch received at the democratic head quarters from Cincinnati says that the indications are that the vote has fallen short of their calculation there.

Additional returns received up to this hour show a slight falling off in the gains for Barnes republican.

There have been heavy democrat gains in the fourth ward and Bell's majority over Barnes, republican, is 420, a gain of 155. In other parts of the state reports indicate republican gains.

Returns from 133 townships, wards, and precincts show the following changes on the secretary of state. Republican gains, 2,002, democratic 1,187, a net republican gain of 815. On the vote for judge of the supreme court the net republican gain is 429. There are about seventeen hundred precincts in the state.

The returns received from 357 townships and wards show that Barnes, republican, gains to be 4,445; Bell, democrat, gain 2,943; being a net republican gain of 1,502. This does not include the cities of Cincinnati, Cleaveland and Toledo.

A despatch from Cincinnati says twelve precincts show a net republican gain of 292. There are reports of considerable democratic gains in Cleveland, but there are no definite figures as yet.

1 A. M.—There seems to be no doubt but that Foster, of Sandusky district, has been re-elected. His friends claim a larger majority for him than two years ago. Later returns from Dayton show democratic gains which further reduce the republican majority.

The returns received up to 12 o'clock from 624 townships and wards show gains for Barnes, republican candidate for secretary of state, over the vote for governor last year of 7,040, for Bell, democrat candidate, 6,896, a net republican gain of 1,014. This includes two wards of the city of Cleveland and three precincts of Hamilton county. If the rest of the state shows the same relative gain the republican majority in the state will reach near 10,000. If, however, Cuyahoga county should give a total democratic gain of 2,000, as claimed, and Hamilton county should give also further democratic gains, this majority will be cut down to about what it was last year.

TIFFIN, October 10.—Bell 522, a democratic gain of 65. Nothing has been received through the regular channels.

STEUBENVILLE, October 10.—Indications are that Danford, republican candidate for Congress in the sixteenth district will be re-elected by an increased majority of nearly 10,000.

CINCINNATI, October 11.—The Enquirer, democratic, claims that Hamilton county has gone democratic by 2,000, but that the result in the state can only be decided by the official count. The Commercial and Gazette, republican, claim the state by from 3,000 to 5,000. Saylor is elected.

2:20 A. M.—The state committee claims that later returns indicate the election of Bell and the entire democratic ticket.

INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 10—Noon.—The election is quiet, with indications of the heaviest vote ever cast. The bulletins tonight will be as compared with the vote of both 1873 and '74. The detailed report by counties will be compared with 1874 only.

The democratic committee have despatches from the southern part of the state which show small democratic gains, but are based on unofficial reports. The democratic committee claim an over-whelming victory for their ticket in the state.

The town of Elkhart gives 100 republican gain. Indianapolis city gives 1,200 republican majority, being a republican gain.

10 P. M.—We have returns from five townships and wards in five counties which give a net republican majority of 174. The same places in 1874 gave a net democratic majority of 185. The same places in 1872 gave a net majority of 122.

Returns from ten townships and wards in 7 counties give a net republican majority of 189. The same places in 1874 gave a net democratic majority of 181. The same place in 1872 gave a net democratic majority of 25.

The republicans claim the state by 9,000 for Harrison, the republican governor, but expect the rest of the state ticket is defeated. The democrats claim the state by 10,000.

EVANSVILLE, October 10.—The election is progressing very quietly, both parties preserving excellent order and displaying great activity. A full vote will be polled, larger perhaps than ever before.

JEFFERSONVILLE, October 10.—The election passed off without any serious trouble. At several of the polls there was minor disturbances but the large posse of deputy sheriffs quickly arrested all turbulent spirits. No official returns will be likely to be sent from this city to-night. The vote very large.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 10.—Indications are that the democrats have carried the state by a large majority. Williams feels assured of his election and has gone home.

WEST VIRGINIA

WHEELING, October 10—Specials to the Register of this city come in from every part of the state, indicating a democratic majority of 6,000 to 8,000 and legislature will be democratic from two thirds to three fourths.

WASHINGTON, October 10.—An irregular Toledo, Ohio, dispatch says the greenbackers of both parties voted the democratic ticket.

An irregular report says that the democrats claim Ohio by 2,500 and Banning certainly elected.

A despatch to the Chronicle says Indianapolis has gone republican by 3,000 majority. This is a loss of 1,000 from the spring municipal election.

An irregular despatch says that one ward in Cincinnati gives a democratic gain of 50, and four wards in Columbus, O., give democratic gains of over 500.

A private despatch received at the republican headquarters from Clealand says indications are that Cuyahaga county will give 5,000 majority for the republican ticket. Incomplete returns from the seventh ward of Columbus show over 100 democratic gains

NEW YORK, October 10.—The excitement about the republican headquarters at the Fifth Avenue Hotel is intense. The lobbies and corridors are crowded. Bets are freely made of $60 to $100 that the democrats will carry Indiana by 10,000 majority. The republicans are confident and await full returns.

The following was received at headquarters: "Indianapolis strong for Harrison. Hamilton county, 1,000 majority for Harrison."

The following was received at the republican headquarters: Indianapolis, Ind., Oct., 10. The republicans claim the state by 9,000 majority. Special despatches received at the democratic headquarters claim that the democrats have carried Indiana by at least 7,000 majority, and returns from Ohio claim immense Democratic gains in nearly every part of the state. The figures received show a democratic victory in both states. The special despatches to the New York World from Indiana up to 12:30 A. M. indicate a decided majority in the state for the democrats. Those received from Ohio are not sufficiently complete to make the basis for safe estimates, but show a preponderance of gains in favor of the democratic party.
