SMART LUNCHEON FOR MISS MARTIN
A lovely compliment to one of the season's popular brides-elect, Miss Rose Martin, who became the bride of Mr. Leith Holloway at 7 o'clock last evening, was the beautiful luncheon given at 1 o'clock yesterday day at the home of Judge and Mrs. E. B. Cline on Thirteenth avenue with Mrs. Cline, Mrs. Worth Elliott and Mrs. J. O. Hull entertaining. This was one of the smartest social functions of the many given for Miss Martin and brought to a close a round of gaieties of which Miss Martin has been the center since her engagement to Mr. Holloway was announced several weeks ago.

Mrs. Cline extended cordial greetings on the piazza and standing within the reception hall was an informal receiving line composed of Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. J. A. Martin, Miss Martin and Mr. Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. Rowell Holt, Judge Cline and Mrs. Hull.

The lower floor was opened ensuite and charmingly decorated throughout a color scheme of white, green and pink being emphasized. Stately hydrangeas with green foliage decorated the living room, hall and library while in the dining room a color tone of pink predominated sweet peas in profusion being used. Throughout the rooms small unobtrusive tables were charmingly arranged and decorated in bridal motif, while the large dining room table, where Mrs. J. A. Martin, the bride's mother sat, was arranged with pink sweet peas. The table was laid with a handsome Madeira cloth and had as its centerpiece a crystal container filled with sweet peas, resting on a reflector. The bride's table in the living room was marked with a vase of lovely Dussese roses. A beautifully appointed luncheon in two courses followed by mints and salted nuts, was served, each course carrying out to a marked degree the decorating colors of white, green and pink. The favors were very appropriate, a pink Duchesse rose fashioned from candy resting amid a cluster of green leaves, being placed on each plate in the last course.

Rev. E. deF. Heald asked divine grace and following this the strains of Lohengrin's famous wedding march were sounded on the Victrola followed by other music suggestive of the bridal day.

Miss Martin was beautifully attired in an orchid taffeta frock with hat to match while the hostesses were attired in morning frocks of white fashionable material. There were about fifty guests present including a number of the young men of the town and friends of the groom.

HOLLOWAY-MARTIN WEDDING

Characterized by beauty and deep solemnity, the marriage of Miss Rose Martin and Mr. John Leith Holloway was solemnized at 7 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. A. Martin, on Thirteenth avenue. Rev. W. R. Bradshaw pastor of the First Baptist church and the bride's pastor, officiated, the impressive ring ceremony of the Baptist church being used.

The marriage vows were spoken before an embankment of field flowers and ferns in the living room, the same decorations being used with beautiful effect throughout the home. The marriage was very quiet and was witnessed by only the immediate families of the young couple.

Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Mrs. H. C. Goode and the first of the bridal party to enter was Master Rowell Holt, attractive young nephew of the bride in an immaculate suit of white silk. He carried the ring in a silver platter. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Rowell Holt Sr., and the groom was attended by Mr. H. C. Lutz.

The bride was handsomely attired in a smart suit of midnight blue with henna hat, and accessories that corresponded. Her corsage was of brides roses and lilies of the valley.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Holloway left on an evening train for Washington where they will make their future home.

The bride of last night is a daughter of the late James A. Martin and Mrs. Martin and is a member of one of Hickory's most prominent families. Possessing rare charm and vivacity of manner, she has endeared herself to hosts of friends. She is a member of the younger social set of Hickory and is quite popular here. For the past few weeks she has been much feted, being the guest of honor at a number of social functions. She possesses much culture and refinement and was educated in the Hickory school and at Meredith College, a Raleigh having graduated from that institution about two years ago and the past year was a substitute teacher in the Hickory graded schools.

Mr. Holloway is a native of Morganton and a member of a well known family there. He spent several years in Hickory, later going to Washington where he holds a responsible government position. He is a young man of excellent qualities and is held in high esteem in business and social circles.

Guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Rowell Holt of Charlotte, brother and sister of the bride and the groom's sister, the Misses Holloway and Mrs. Garrou of Morganton.

The following announcements have been sent out:
Mrs. James A. Martin announces the marriage of her daughter Rose to Mr. John Leith Holloway on Thursday, June twenty-second Nineteen hundred and twenty-two At Home 1810 Belmont Road North West Washington, D. C.

TOAST TO FRIENDS

When a class of school girls of Clarendon College days met recently at the Buttercup Tea room for a celebration and a reunion of old friends Miss Gertrude Hall of Lenoir cleverly toasted the days of yore. Adjourning to the home of Mrs. C. H. Geitner (Susie Shuford) on Fifteenth street Mrs. S. M. Lowry of Luxora, Ark., (Erroll Hay) toasted her girlhood friends and her girlhood home as follows:

Once upon a time long years ago I made some charming friends Whom, was a charm to know. Friends who did the things that were always exactly right, Whose every little deed just pleased me out of sight. And as time goes on, I continued to love those friends so true And am happy to be here today, For those friends are you. So here's to the ones of my girlhood days, Friends so loyal and great- Here's to my former home (Hickory) in the "Old North State."
