THOSE ALLEY LOTS NEED ATTENTION

The umbrella trees on the north side and the hedge on the south side of the walk from the station to Hotel Huffy will give the vicinity an attractive appearance, especially if they are able to hide in part the coal ashes, boxes, tins and other rubbish that now add in the right way of the Southern. It will be several years before they can do this, a member of city council said yesterday, and when he was told that council was going to catch thunder from several corners in Hickory if the rear of those buildings is not kept cleaned up, he said he was willing to take his medicine.

The Southern has offered to bring suit against the city and the property-owners because of the trash that is piled in the alley, and the road.

would find some good help in Hickory. A hedge has also been planted along the park facing the tracks and it too will lend a touch of color to the station surroundings that will be appreciated. The Southern's landscape artist, Mrs. Faudie, has had the work done in cooperation with the Community Club of the city. It will be a big job, but those back lots, the Record has been asked to say, should be kept decent.

The day at both Otten and Kenilworth proved very happy. The various Philathea and Baraca classes, The War Mothers of Concord and Charlotte, The Hickory Canteen and The Young Women's Business Club of Salisbury all sent boxes of good things in order that these boys should know that their sacrifices for their country are remembered and appreciated.

From an account of the day at these hospitals, published in the Asheville Citizen this paragraph will be of particular interest to Hickory as the wards mentioned are those under the special care of the Canteen.

"The big table in the sun parlor of ward I-3 fairly gizzed with cakes, nuts and fruits and a barrel of delicious apples. The latter purchased with money sent to Mrs. N. Buckner, who arranged the Thanksgiving treat.

The boys of ward I-4 were invited to this party and the 52 boys from the two wards and the young ladies made up a merry party."

Mrs. Buckner advises that Wards I-7 and I-11 were also served with grapes and apples contributed by the Hickory Canteen.
