The Biggest Thing in Our Business is Service

When we say we're here to serve you we mean more than just looking at your battery, putting in a little water and saying goodbye.

Service, the way we say it, means doing everything we possibly can to see that you get every last mile and fraction of a mile out of that battery. That's our business!

Never mind if your battery isn't a Willard. We'll look after it just as faithfully as if it were. We want you to know what service at Battery Headquarters is like!

BEAUTIFYING CEMETERY

During the past week or more there have been many responses to the appeal of the cemetery committee to beautify the last resting place of being planted on a number of the plots. This response on the part of the plot owners is very gratifying to the committee who have undertaken to beautify the last resting place of our loved ones, and who have spared no effort to this end.

Trees have been reset, shrubbery planted and grass sown in a number of instances. The potting field has been cleaned up and the cemetery is beginning to take on a uniform appearance which is the aim and desire of the committee having the cemetery under their supervision. The walk ways are to be sown in grass and the remainder of the plots which have not yet been attended to by their owners will doubtless be planted with grass and hedges in line with the other plots, giving the cemetery a peaceful well kept and uniform appearance.

The Catawba Seed store is cooperating with the cemetery committee and individual owners of plots and have made estimates of the cost of planting grass and are ready to give any instruction or information desired. The seed for planting the smaller plots will cost around $3.50 and the cost for the larger plots will come under $5.00 the cost for none of them amounting to more than that.

Mr. Barger the cemetery caretaker, will place the seed in the ground free of cost to the owners and the Catawba Seed store will make one delivery of seed each day to the cemetery. During the next two months the time for sowing grass for a stand this year, will doubtless see every plot and walkway at the cemetery attended to. Persons wishing to have this work done should confer with the cemetery committee of which Mrs. Edgar Yoder is chairman, or see the caretaker.

THE NANTUCKET SKIPPER

Many a long, long year ago,

Nantucket skippers had a plan

Of finding out, though "lying now."

How near New York their schooners ran.

They greased the lead before it fell,

And then by sounding, through the night,

Knowing the soil that struck so well,

They always guessed their reckoning right.

A skipper gray, whose eyes were dim,

Could tell, by tasting, just the spot,

And so below he'd "douse the glim"

After of course, his "something hot."

Snug in his berth, at eight o'clock,

This ancient skipper might be found;

No matter how his craft would rock,

He slept—for skippers' naps are sound.

The watch on deck would now and then

Run down and wake him, with the lead;

He'd up and taste, and tell the men

How many miles they went ahead.

One night 'twas Jotham Marden's watch—

A curious wag—the peddler's son;

And so he mused (the wanton wretch)!

"Tonight I'll have a grain of fun.

"We're all a set of stupid fools,

To think the skipper knows by tasting

What ground he's on: Nantucket schools

Don't teach such stuff, with all their basting!"

And so he took the well-greased lead,

And rubbed it o'er a box of earth

That stood on deck—a parsnip-bed

And then he sought the skipper's berth.

"Where are we now, sir? Please to taste."

The skipper yawned, put out his tongue,

Opened his eyes in wondrous haste,

And then upon the floor he sprung,

The skipper stormed, and tore his hair,

Hauled on his boots, and roared to Marden,

"Nantucket's sunk, and here we are

GRAND RECORDER COMING

The Grand Recorder of the Grand Commandery of North Carolina, Hon. J. B. Griggs, of Elizabeth City, will come to Hickory today on a visit to Hickory Commandery No. 17. The officers and members of the local commandery are anxious that every member be on hand for a reception to the Grand Recorder. Refreshments will be served at the close of the exercises.

FLORENCE REED PASTIME TODAY

Today and tomorrow the Pastime theatre presents Florence Reed in "The Black Panther's Cub" a big special adapted by Philip Bartholomae from the story by Ethel Doucher, suggested by Swinburn's poem, "Faustine," following is a synopsis of the story: A famous courtesan conducts a magnificent gambling house frequented by the elite of Paris. She is named Faustine, more often the Black Panther, on account of her avariciousness and love of pompous display and power.

Finally her star sets, she is closed out by the police and to Clive, Earl of Maudsley, she entrusts her baby daughter, born in wedlock with a country gentleman. The child is reared in luxury in an English estate and grows to womanhood. Sir Marling Grayham, a believer in heredity, loves her but fears to propose. Her adopted father dies and the son and daughter face creditors of a wasted estate. Hampton Grayham proposes a way out of their difficulties.

Mary is coerced into posing as Faustine, and by reopening her mother's old establishment she tries to replenish their empty exchequer.

Count Orloff becomes infatuated with Mary and deceives her into an Apache's den, where he attempts an assault. A bedraggled woman helps him until she recognizes her daughter Mary.

She is shot while leading the rescuers and dies in the hallway of the palatial mansion where once she reigned as queen. Marling and Mary then find their own happiness together. Miss Reed is supported by an all star cast including Norman Trevor, Henry Stephenson, Paul Dooet, Don Merrifield, Henry Carvill, Louis Gristel, Earl Fox, William Rocelle, Paul Shay, Halbert Brown, Charlie Jackson, Ernest Lambert, Frank DeVernon, Tyrone Power, William Van Vraan, Miles Dazie, William Bourcq, Eugene Breen. Added attraction "Made in the Kitchen" a two reel Mack Sennett comedy.

WANDA HAWLEY GRAND TOMORROW

If your wife wants to cut her hair, and you object, take her to see "Bobbed Hair," starring Wanda Hawley, which will be shown at the Grand theatre tomorrow and Wednesday and let her see what happened to Miss Hawley after she bobbed hers. If your sweetheart is timid about cutting her locks, and you think it would improve her, take her to see the picture, and let her observe how fetching are all the acquires—bobbed as to both hair and skirts—of the artist colony.

In other words, this clever Realart picture distributed by Famous Players-Lasky Corporation is an amusing satire of the Greenwich Village set, but interwoven with this certain human problems, of the girl dissatisfied with home surroundings, of the married flirt and his wife and children. Miss Hawley gives an artistic portrayal of Polly Heath, the heroine William Boyd, a new leading man is more than satisfactory as the conventional lover and William P. Carleton is excellent as Paul Lamont, the satirist poet who surrounds himself with young girls, for "inspiration." Adele Farrington, Leigh Wyant, Ethel Wares and several clever children complete the cast.

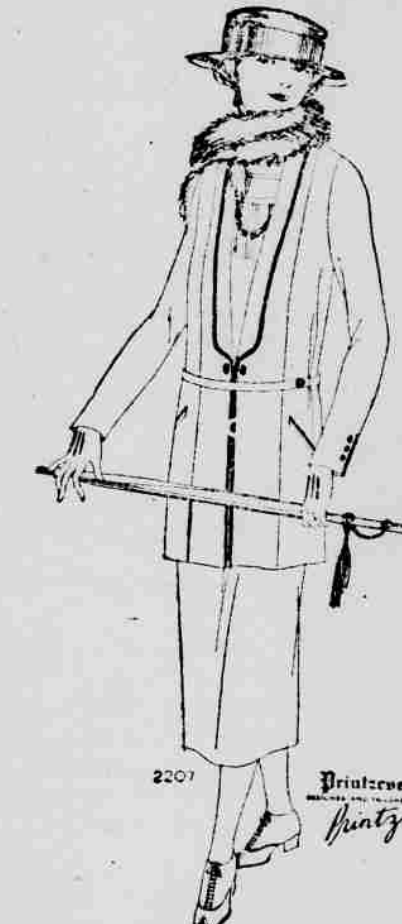

PELLETIERISM

Whether in international affairs Pelletier was declaring private war on England, or in state affairs was threatening state judges with violence, he was the type which it is gratifying to see exposed and punished.

GET READY FOR THE 'FLU'

Keep Your Liver Active, Your System Purified and Free From Colds by Taking Calotabs, the Nauseless Calomel Tablet, that are Delightful, Safe and Sure

How are Prices

We have this question asked every few minutes. Are Coats, Suits, Dresses, etc., any cheaper for spring? We answer "Yes." A great deal cheaper than we expected. To create a bigger business, the manufacturers are working on the closest margin of profit ever before and we are going to do likewise. We are surprised with the real values we were able to secure and you will simply be delighted. The secret of course is to know where and from whom to buy the best things.
