

Garren's Blood Purifier and Tonic

IS SOLD UNDER AN ABSOLUTE GUARANTEE

Spring Time is Tonic Time

This preparation is the greatest blood purifier and tonic in the world! We absolutely guarantee beneficial results from the use of this already famous medicine or we return your money.

And we are right here in Hendersonville where you can meet us face to face.

Right from these oldest mountains in the world looking down on you comes the simple herbs, which compounded scientifically and with the utmost painstaking care, will restore YOU TO HEALTH, as it has thousands of others.

Only these--Sarsaparilla, May Apple, Yellow Dock, Yellow Parilla, Pepsisewa, Wild Cherry, Golden Seal, Yellow Root, Lady Slipper.

Price $1.00 Sold Everywhere

REVISED COVENANT OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS NOW BEFORE CONFERENCE

Document Designed to Promote International Co-Operation, and to Achieve International Peace and Security Without Resort to War.

FOR CLEARER UNDERSTANDINGS OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

The High Contracting Parties Agree in This Covenant to Maintain a Scrupulous Respect for All Treaty Obligations in All Their Dealings With One Another.

Washington.—The state department made public the text of the revised covenant of the league of nations, as it was presented to the plenary session of the peace conference at Paris. The text follows, with parenthetical insertions showing changes made in the covenant as originally drafted and made public:
Covenant of the League of Nations.
In order to promote international co-operation and to achieve international peace and security, by the acceptance of obligations not to resort to war, by the prescription of open, just and honorable relations between nations, by the firm establishment of the understandings of international law as to actual rule of conduct among governments, and by the maintenance of justice and a scrupulous respect for all treaty obligations in the dealings of organized peoples with one another, the high contracting parties agree to this covenant of the league of nations.
(In the original preamble the last sentence reads, "adopt this constitution," instead of "agree to this covenant.") number of members of the league to be selected by the assembly for representation on the council.

The council shall meet from time to time as occasion may require and at least once a year, at the seat of the league, or at such other place as may be decided upon.
The council may deal at its meetings with any matter within the sphere of action of the league or affecting the peace of the world.
Any member of the league not represented on the council shall be invited to send a representative to sit as a member at any meeting of the council during the consideration of matters specifically affecting the interests of that member of the league.
At meetings of the council, each member of the league represented on the council shall have one vote, and may have not more than one representative.
(This embodies that part of the original article three designating the original members of the council. The paragraph providing for increase in the membership of the council is new.)

Article One.
The original members of the league of nations shall be those of the signatories which are named in the annex to this covenant and also such of these other states named in the annex as shall accede without reservation to this covenant. Such accession shall be effected by a declaration deposited with the secretariat within two months of the coming into force of the covenant. Notice thereof shall be sent to all other members of the league.

Article Five.
Except where otherwise expressly provided in this covenant, decisions at any meeting of the assembly or of the council shall require the agreement of all the members of the league represented at the meeting.
All matters of procedure at meetings of the assembly or of the council, the appointment of committees to investigate particular matters shall be regulated by the assembly or by the council and may be decided by a majority of the members of the league represented at the meeting.
The first meeting of the assembly and the first meeting at the council shall be summoned by the President of the United States of America.
(The first paragraph requiring unanimous agreement in both assembly and council except where otherwise provided is new. The other two paragraphs originally were included in article four.)

Any fully self-governing state, dominion or colony not named in the annex may become a member of the league of nations if its admission is agreed to by two-thirds of the assembly, provided that it shall give effective guarantees of its sincere intention to observe its international obligations, and shall accept such regulations as may be prescribed by the league in regard to its military and naval forces and armaments.
Any member of the league, may, after two years' notice of its intention so to do, withdraw from the league, provided that all its international obligations and all its obligations under this covenant shall have been fulfilled at the time of its withdrawal.

Article Six.
The permanent secretariat shall be established at the seat of the league. The secretariat shall comprise a secretariat general and such secretaries and staff as may be required.
The first secretary general shall be the person named in the annex; thereafter the secretary general shall be appointed by the council with the approval of the majority of the assembly.
The secretaries and the staff of the secretariat shall be appointed by the secretary general with the approval of the council.
The secretary general shall act in that capacity at all meetings of the assembly and of the council.
The expenses of the secretariat shall be borne by the members of the league in accordance with the apportionment of the expenses of the international bureau of universal postal union.
(This replaces the original article five. In the original the appointment of the first secretary general was left to the council, and approval of the majority of the assembly was not required for subsequent appointments.)

Article Seven.
The seat of the league is established at Geneva.
The council may at any time decide that the seat of the league shall be established elsewhere.
All positions under or in connection with the league, including the secretariat, shall be open equally to men and women.
Representatives of the members of the league and officials of the league when engaged on the business of the league shall enjoy diplomatic privileges and immunities.
The building and other property occupied by the league or its officials or by representatives attending its meetings shall be inviolable.
(Embodying parts of the old articles five and six, this article names Geneva instead of leaving the seat of the league to be chosen later, and adds the provision for changing the seat in the future. The paragraph opening position to women equally with men is new.)

Article Eight.
The members of the league recognize that the maintenance of a peace requires the reduction of national armament to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement by common action of international obligation.
The council, taking account of the geographical situation and circumstances of each state, shall formulate plans for such reduction for the consideration and action of the several governments.
Such plans shall be subject to re-consideration and revision at least every 10 years.

Article Two.
The action of the league under this covenant shall be effected through the instrumentality of an assembly and of a council, with a permanent secretariat.
(Originally this was a part of article one. It gives the name assembly to the gathering of representatives of the members of the league, formerly referred to merely as "the body of delegates.")

Article Three.
The assembly shall consist of representatives of the members of the league.
The assembly shall meet at stated intervals and from time to time as occasion may require, at the seat of the league, or at such other place as may be decided upon.
The assembly may deal at its meetings with any matter within the sphere of action of the league or affecting the peace of the world.
At meetings of the assembly, each member of the league shall have one vote, and may have not more than three representatives.
(This embodies parts of the original article one, two and three with only minor changes. It refers to "members of the league" where the term "high contracting parties" originally was used, and this change is followed throughout the revised draft.)

Article Four.
The council shall consist of representatives of the United States of America, of the British empire, of France, of Italy and of Japan, together with representatives of four other members of the league. These four members of the league shall be selected by the assembly from time to time in its discretion. Until the appointment of the representatives of the four members of the league first selected, by the assembly, representatives of (blank) shall be members of the council.
With approval of the majority of the assembly, the council may name additional members of the league whose representatives shall always be members of the council; the council with its approval may increase the Article Six.

The permanent secretariat shall be established at the seat of the league. The secretariat shall comprise a secretariat general and such secretaries and staff as may be required.
The first secretary general shall be the person named in the annex; thereafter the secretary general shall be appointed by the council with the approval of the majority of the assembly.
The secretaries and the staff of the secretariat shall be appointed by the secretary general with the approval of the council.
The secretary general shall act in that capacity at all meetings of the assembly and of the council.
The expenses of the secretariat shall be borne by the members of the league in accordance with the apportionment of the expenses of the international bureau of universal postal union.
(This replaces the original article five. In the original the appointment of the first secretary general was left to the council, and approval of the majority of the assembly was not required for subsequent appointments.)

The City of GOODRICH Akron, Ohio

Now... The True Test of Patriotism

Under the stress and terror of war it didn't take a great deal of patriotism to buy bonds.

But your bonds helped crush German militarism, rough Victory and again we are at peace.

Now, when the enemy no longer threatens, you are put to the true test of patriotism.

Be the first to subscribe-- show the peoples of the world that America can finish the job in the glorious manner in which her army and navy overcame every obstacle before them.

INVEST IN VICTORY BONDS

The best investment in the world. Your money back in four years High rate of interest—4 3/4 per cent. Easy terms—the best way to save money.

GOODRICH TIRES

"BEST IN THE LONG RUN"

*Chy to Um Ranker
60 2/2*