ABE GOLDSTEIN THE AUTHOR OF IT

People Who Come and Go—Brief Excerpts of Interest to All Readers of The Globe.

When Squire Angier asked, of Mr. Summerfield, was he ready for trial, Col. Frank Fuller said he was not guilty.

Then Colonel Abe Goldstein and Colonel Bernstene and Colonel Enoch, were sworn. Squire Angier told them to take off their hats. They said, through Colonel Boone their attorney, that they could swear loud enough with their hats on. It seemed that they wanted to talk through their hats.

Mr. Bernstene told his story—explained that they—the Jews, were at the synagogue. He asked that the minutes be read, and Summerfield said that he was the progeny of a female dog and called upon the wrath of God to damn him.

This happened but once—because the elaborate mischief maker, Colonel Abe Goldstein, and a Mr. Max caught a chair that Colonel Summerfield held and with which he proposed to swipe the material frame of the said Bernstene.

Mr. Bernstene said that he would give five dollars to see Summerfield buried. Mr. Bernstene had joined the business, but knew nothing of the rules.

Then Balkin, Schwartz and Summerfield were sworn.

Mr. Schwartz took the stand.

Schwartz said that they had a special meeting and the minutes were approved. Bernstene then came in and wanted the minutes read—and Summerfield told Bernstene to sit down.

Balkin came on and told his story. He had notified all to attend the special meeting.

Then came some other witnesses. Abe Goldstein amused the crowd.

Then Lawyers Fuller and Boone, in profound and terrible words, told it all. Then the squire bound Summerfield over. Afterwards it was decided that the case was a family affair—and upon payment of the costs by Summerfield, the case was dismissed. This was the way the case should have ended before having been brought—yet it never should have been introduced in court.

Bernstene did not sit down and as above related a chair was pulled on him—and he got out.

OTIS RONEY BURIED.

At Haw River This Morning a Very Deserving Young Man Was Laid to Rest.

This morning quite a number of Durham people went to see their friend and fellow-companion Mr. Otis Roney buried at Haw River.

The pall-bearers were: E. L. Thompson, C. A. Jordan, T. J. Walker, T. W. Harris, W. M. Yearby, P. J. O'Brien.

Those who went as spectators were: Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Duke, Mr. G. W. Watts, Miss Annie Roney, Rev. R. C. Beaman, W. H. Wortham, C. M. Hutchings, Charles McGary. The mother and other relatives were also present.

Good evening! Have you used—Ah! there is no need of my saying anything further, I am sure you will hereafter use nothing but the Famous Blush of Roses for your complexion. Yours with best wishes,
FLORA A. JONES,
South Bend, Ind.

P. S.—Call this eve please at W. M. Yearby's and learn the particulars.

THE BELLS AGAIN!

Colonel Cupid Does Big Business This Afternoon.

Two Brave Boys and Two True Girls United.

THE WINTER MONTHS ARE NEAR

Two Beautiful Weddings and Flowers and Good Wishes Are Many This Day.

And the bells again—wedding bells—joyous sound.

To-day in Durham has been, or will be, some happiness cemeted for an age—for eternity.

There are two weddings to occur now in just about an hour, and as both occur at the same time, we cannot, we a single man to day, cannot go to both of them at once.

However:

At the Presbyterian church Miss Maggie Watkins, daughter of Dr. Watkins, of this city, will be united in marriage to Mr. B. Lewis, of Milton. Mr. Lewis may think that he is a lucky man, but we know that he is. Miss Watkins is one of Durham's most charming daughters; she is a lady of appreciation, of intelligence and of culture.

Mr. Lewis is a business man of Milton—a young man from whom we will hear later on—and in this happy union THE GLOBE knows that no mistake has been made. We throw our shoes—the old shoes you know, after them, and wish for them on life's journey the most pleasantly.
