

LAST SCENE OF ALL

Funeral of Hon. J. B. Batchelor Yesterday Morning.

Resolutions Adopted by the Vestry of the Church of the Good Shepherd--Remains Taken to Warrenton.

The Good Shepherd church was filled yesterday morning with relatives and friends of the late Major Joseph Branch Batchelor, thus to give evidence to the love and high esteem in which he was held.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Joseph Blount Cheshire and Dr. I. McK. Pittenger conducted the services. The Christmas decorations of holly and evergreen lent a solemn beauty to the church.

A BEAUTIFUL CANE.

The Governor Gets Valued Present From Members of the Famous Twenty-Sixth.

Mr. John L. Carter, of Chatham county, called on Governor Aycock a day or two ago, accompanied by Senator London, and presented him with a beautiful walking stick cut from a hackberry tree, which the Governor received with many thanks.

Senator London introduced Mr. Carter to the Governor as one of the best soldiers of the immortal Twenty-sixth regiment.

Victims of Arctic Blasts.

(By the Associated Press.)

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Much suffering among the poor is reported on account of cold weather and Mayor Harrison has taken steps to provide a fund for their relief. The coal famine renders the situation difficult. There were three deaths attributed to cold, as follows:

PATRICK McGOVERN, overcome by cold and fell from his wagon, fracturing his skull.

WILLIAM MADICAN, found dead in lodging house, from exposure.

W. H. WAHL, swallowed laudanum because unable to secure fire and fuel for his family.

Fairbanks the Candidate.

Indianapolis, Jan. 12.—Charles W. Fairbanks was selected as the candidate of the Republican members of the General Assembly for re-election to the United States at the joint caucus held tonight.

Another Local Tax

Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Y. Joyner yesterday received the welcome news that Caldwell, a rural school district of Orange county, had voted a local tax.

EAT SLOW

Means Chew Fast, Fine and Hard but Swallow Slow.

"Across the table sat a young man," remarked an old gentleman from New Albany, Ind., recently with a sticky face, who was slowly chewing in a fashion which led me to believe that his teeth were all in such condition that if he should forget himself and bite a little bit harder, off would fly the top of his head. Finally I remarked:

"You have to be very careful of them?" "Yes, indeed," he replied, "I have no stomach. My doctor told me to eat slow. No odds what your hurry may be," said he, cat slow."

"You misunderstood him," said I, "what the doctor meant was to chew fast, fine and hard but to swallow slow. Now you are actually committing suicide, the doctor meant for you to use your teeth. Are your teeth all right?"

"Yes," he replied, "I can bite through sole leather. I wonder if the doctor did mean that I should chew hard instead of slow?"

Then I told him of my experience in the food line. I'm a pretty old man now but, like a good many other people, my stomach went back on me one time and I commenced to study food and the requirements of the body. After experimenting a good deal I came across Grape Nuts and was soon convinced that this food met all the requirements of health and as a daily diet is indispensable.

EARLY RISERS

THE FAMOUS LITTLE PILLS.

For quick relief from Biliousness, Sick Headache, Torpid Liver, Jaundice, Dizziness, and all troubles arising from an inactive or sluggish liver, DeWitt's Little Early Risers are unequalled.

They act promptly and never gripe. They are so dainty that it is a pleasure to take them. One to two act as a mild laxative; two or four act as a pleasant and effective cathartic. They are purely vegetable and absolutely harmless. They tonic the liver.

SOUTHERN GARDENS.

(W. F. Massey in Southern Farm Magazine of Baltimore for January.)

Our Southern gardeners and farmers both will come after awhile to realize the great profit there is in extensive cultivation and heavy fertilization. Get the land rich in organic matter with stable manure and recuperative crops and you make the heavy application of fertilizers pay, while you cannot make it pay on dead poor land with a little dribble of some brand of fertilizer.

Good farming, the growing of forage and the feeding of stock are the means through which the intensive farmer and trucker will get his land to respond to heavy applications of concentrated fertilizers.

The permanent improvement of the soil must go hand in hand with the increased use of commercial fertilizers on that soil. When a man can take an old garden and get as much out of an acre of it as most farmers get from their farms it is not time to look into the matter of intensive culture? You cannot take a dead poor piece of land and get big crops by piling the fertilizers on it, but if you have an old garden spot that has become unproductive, though heavily manured, that is the place where you can apply all the commercial fertilizer you please and make it pay.

And the lesson the old manured garden teaches can well be carried to the farm. Commercial fertilizers will enrich you if you enrich your land, but if you use them merely to squeeze a little more out of the farm to sell they will make you poor and your farm poorer. Get the old garden conditions as near as possible on the farm, and then do not be afraid to pile on the fertilizers with a lavish hand. "There is that scattereth and yet increases, and there is that withholdeth more, than it meet and cometh to overt."

TO AID SOUTHERN FARMING.

(John Hamilton in Southern Farm Magazine of Baltimore for January.)

The agencies that are to be most potent in aiding these landowners are, first, the agricultural college; second, the agricultural experiment station; third, the agricultural institute; and fourth, the agricultural journal. The agricultural people of the South should insist upon liberal appropriations to their colleges of agriculture, to their experiment stations and for dissemination of agricultural information through means of the farmers' institutes. If these educational institutions are liberally supported and intelligently directed, it will not long before the Southern States will be practicing diversified farming, cheapening their methods of production, will be improving the fertility of their lands, and will be adding greatly to the comfort and prosperity of their agricultural people. By these means there will be given all over the South visible demonstration of what the Southern States are capable in the way of agricultural production. The sight of this prosperity will of itself attract the better class of intelligent farmers from elsewhere, and the tide of immigration will be diverted from the great West to the milder climate and greater possibilities of the South.

SHOT DEAD BY WOMAN

Mrs. Effie Carson Rains Bullets In'ro Robert Rigby for an Insult.

(By the Associated Press.)

Macon, Ga., Jan. 12.—Miss Effie L. Carson, wife of a railroad machinist, formerly the wife of Ernest Thompson, a printer, shot and instantly killed Robert A. Rigby, a student of a business college here today.

She was promptly placed in jail, but was subsequently released on a bond of $1,000.

The coroner's jury found a verdict of voluntary manslaughter.

Mrs. Carson was a teacher of telegraphy in another business college. She charged Rigby had circulated stories damaging her character. She had gone to the lawyer with a paper for Rigby to sign, exonerating her. The lawyer took the paper to the college and submitted it to Rigby, who declined to sign, but asked a personal interview.

He went to the lawyer's office and immediately asked the lawyer and his stenographer to step into the hall. The door was at once closed and locked. In a few moments the shots rang out and Mrs. Carson appeared, announcing that she had killed the man.

Rigby was found on the floor dead, with his own revolver near his right hand. What had occurred between them is not known, except an admission by Mrs. Carson that he applied an opprobrious epithet to her.

MARKED SUCCESS.

The Medical Department of Wake Forest College.

Dr. Fred K. Cooke, Dean of the Medical Department of Wake Forest College, passed through town yesterday on his way North in interest of his department.

Dr. Cooke tells us that there are now fifteen men in the Medical Department at Wake Forest. This fine showing is beyond the highest expectations of the trustees and faculty of Wake Forest. The department is only a few months old—having been established in August last. Dr. Cooke is to be congratulated upon the marked success of his department.

There are now over 300 boys at Wake Forest. The students will this year publish their first annual. It will be called "The Howler."

Mr. Camp of Franklin, Virginia, is chief editor, while Mr. William H. Pace, of Raleigh, is one of the associate editors.

YOUTSEY IS TELLING ALL

Making a Full Confession, it is Reported, of the Goebel Murder.

(By the Associated Press.)

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 12.—Henry Yousey today continued his testimony before the grand jury. It is said that he is making a full confession, not only of his part, but also telling what he knows about what others did in the alleged conspiracy, three years ago to assassinate Governor Goebel. It is currently reported that new evidence has not only been secured on those already indicted, but also evidence such as to involve others not hitherto mentioned in the indicted case.

Fire on Fayetteville Street.

Last night a small fire was discovered in the room of Mr. Sturgis—over Mrs. Sturgis' millinery store, on Fayetteville street. The origin of the fire is not known. The fire companies responded quickly and put out the blaze. Very little damage was done.

Quite a sensation was caused by some man who was in a room a story above the fire yelling to the firemen that if they did not hurry up and put up a ladder to his window he would jump out. The poor fellow in his excitement evidently had forgotten that there was an unobstructed stairway in the building.

A Brilliant Success

Mr. Early Hughes, who is starring in the Francis Wilson Opera Company, spent Sunday with his relatives in Raleigh. The company is now playing in Washington, and it was because of this fact that Mr. Hughes was able to run down to Raleigh for a day. Mr. Hughes has only been on the professional stage this season, but in this short time he has forged to the front rank in his chosen profession. His friends here predict for him a brilliant success on the stage. Mr. Hughes will be remembered as the favorite comedian of all amateur plays here of the last few years.

300 Women Strike at Suffolk.

(By the Associated Press.)

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 12.—Three hundred women walked out at the Suffolk Peanut Company's factory today because their demand for an increase of ten cents per day in wages was not granted.

The company is tied up completely by the strike and similar walk-outs throughout the entire peanut section of the State are looked for. The result of a general strike would put at a standstill the peanut industry of the State.

Legislators Should be Eligible to Positions They Create

Senate Judiciary Committee Thinks so and Then Takes a Fall Out of Senator Wellburn's Bill.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, with Chairman John E. Woodard presiding, had a full meeting yesterday and pushed through much work.

The bill introduced by Senator Mann, of Hyde, providing that no member of the present General Assembly should hold, in the next two years, any position created by this General Assembly was unfavorably reported. The vote in favor of it is said to have been only two out of the entire committee.

The bill of Senator Blow for cross indexing the reports of executors, administrators and guardians received a favorable report.

The bill of Senator Vann for limiting the size of explosive fire crackers to two inches in length, 3/4 of an inch in diameter struck a favorable breeze and was considered so good that a sub-committee, consisting of Senators, Vann, Webb and Wellburn was appointed to draw a general act about explosives of the Fourth of July and Christmas variety.

Senator Wellburn's bill, to repeal chapter 297, Laws of 1901, was put on a return train to the Senate when it was found that this was to repeal an act prohibiting the manufacture and sale of liquor in Ashe. When it gets to the Senate today Senator Warren, who will report it, will ask President Turner to give it to the Committee on Propositions and Grievances. It was reported yesterday that the titles of bills should clearly show the purpose of the bill. The following bills were referred to sub-committees for study and full explanation: Blows's, for change in laws relating to cases of boundaries of land in dispute, to Henderson, Spence and Mann. Warren's bill concerning the removal of common fence enclosing crops, to Warren, Justice and Spence. Henderson's bill about bonds to be given on appeal cases in Justices of the Peace courts to Burton, Henderson and Vann.

The following, after being read, were held to be so important as to defer action till a future meeting: Bellamy's proposed change in section 1281 of the Code on the law of descent. Gilliam's bill changing section 1223 of the Code with reference to judge continuing terms of courts on civil as well as criminal cases not finished during the regular term. Henderson's bill giving to Deputy Clerks of the court the same powers as Clerks of the Court, and the Code Commission Bill of Senator Norris.

The Finance Committee looked after a number of bills yesterday. Its most important action was to report unfavorably the House Bill No. 22, introduced by Harrington, of Moore, granting relief to Lelia F. Godfrey, of Jonesboro, from whom two $1,000 State Bonds were reported as being stolen. This was reported through the House without a hitch and without being referred to a committee, but the Senate committee makes an unfavorable report as to issuing two duplicate bonds.
