

CAPT. O'HANLAN SHOT

He is Wounded by Conductor W. H. Pemberton.

O'Hanlan a Well Known Traveling Man of Fayetteville---The Wound not Believed to be Serious.

(Special to News and Observer.) Wilmington, N. C., March 4.--While on his way yesterday evening on a Seaboard Air Line train to Elizabethtown, Bladen county, to attend court as a witness for the Atlantic Coast Line, by whom he is employed as a conductor, Capt. W. H. Pemberton, of this city, had a personal encounter in the car one mile from Wilmington with Capt. George O'Hanlan, a well known traveling man of Fayetteville. O'Hanlan was shot, receiving a superficial wound in the abdomen, the ball glancing to the side. He returned to Wilmington and received surgical attention. His physician thinks the wound is not serious. No mention of the occurrence was made today in the local papers on account of the critical illness of an aged member of one of the families concerned.

OVER TWENTY-ONE MILLION. These Figures Tell of Wilson's Sales of Tobacco in Pounds Last Season.

(Special to the News and Observer.) Wilson, N. C., March 4.--From Capt. W. J. Boykin, president of Wilson's Tobacco Board of Trade, your correspondent learns that from August 1st to February 28th, twenty-one million six hundred and fifty thousand five hundred and ninety-eight pounds of leaf tobacco were sold on the floors of our warehouses. These are the figures sworn to by the various warehouse men. Judging from the preparations that are being made for the handling of this year's crop, it is evidently expected that another big crop will be planted. Another big warehouse is now being erected, and the Imperial Tobacco Company will soon commence the erection of a sixty-five thousand dollar house for their business. Owing to a misunderstanding as to the date for the meeting of farmers to organize a protective association for this county only a few were here yesterday. Mr. J. O. W. Gravelly, of Rocky Mount, made a plain, practical, forceful speech to those who were here, in which he strongly urged them to decrease the acreage of tobacco this year. Another meeting will be held here on Saturday, the 14th, when the organization will be perfected, and Col. John S. Cunningham is expected to be present and address the meeting.

Deserves Well of the Country. The suggestion has been made that the position of postmaster at Lincolnton may be given to Mrs. Wm. E. Ship, whose husband gave his life for his country in the Spanish-American War. This appointment would be a singularly happy one and the whole State will rejoice if it is made. Mrs. Ship is a lady of rare accomplishments and business gifts, and would make an ideal and capable public official. Anything that the administration could do for Mrs. Ship would be grateful to the people of North Carolina.

Distinguished Visitors. Judge and Mrs. Henry Page, of Princess Anne, Maryland, but who have been spending sometime in Florida, arrived in the city yesterday. They are the guests at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Hubert A. Royter. Judge Page is a distinguished member of the Supreme Court of Maryland.

To Speak of Y. M. C. A. Work. Miss Helen Barnes, travelling secretary of the Young Woman's Christian Association, will speak on the work of that organization at Mrs. Heck's at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. All ladies interested are invited to be present.

Tuscarora Club. The Tuscarora Club will meet with Mrs. J. A. Scott on South McDowell street this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

St. Louis Circle. St. Luke's Circle of King's Daughters will meet this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. H. Robbins, on New Bern avenue.

Messrs. C. C. Winston, F. A. Cheatham, A. V. Bobbitt and S. H. Allred, of Youngsville, were in the city last evening.

A LAYMAN. Gave Doctor a Hint About Coffee. Speaking of coffee a doctor of Decaturville, Ohio, says: "We used to analyze coffee at the Medical college and in spite of our laboratory tests which showed it to contain caffeine, an active poison, I continued to use the drink, and later on found myself affected with serious stomach trouble, indigestion, headaches, etc. I took the hint, even from a layman, and made the same change myself. The first week I noticed a little difference but not much. The third week the change was almost magical. I have continued with the Postum and now my digestion is perfect, the nervous headaches have entirely disappeared, and I am well. My own analysis of the Postum Food Coffee shows it to be a pure food drink of strong character, which is a marked contrast to the old fashioned coffee." Name given by Postum Food Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

THE OLD RELIABLE

MR. LAMBETH THE WINNER. An Able Young Thomasville Man Wins Honors at Vanderbilt.

Mr. W. A. Lambeth, son of Mr. F. S. Lambeth, of Thomasville, N. C., a student at Vanderbilt University, has been honored by the Dialectic Society to represent Vanderbilt in the Southern Inter-collegiate Oratorical contest to be held at Sewanee on the 18th day of May. Mr. Lambeth won this honor in the contest with the brightest minds at Vanderbilt, in a contest that elicited the deepest interest.

The Nashville American, writing of Mr. Lambeth's speech, says: "The second speaker was W. A. Lambeth, of the Dialectic Society, who spoke on 'The Crisis.' His speech was so built that the judges had no difficulty in grasping the connected line of thought. He has an earnest delivery and his pleasing tone held the ear of his audience from the start. He is from Thomasville, N. C., and a member of the Theological Department. He should stand a splendid chance to win at the final trial in May. "Mr. Lambeth began by declaring that Tolstoid's contention that 'international brotherhood makes sentiment of fatherland superfluous like a lamp in the daytime' was a doctrine that could exist only in theory, never in practice. Each nation had problems that must be solved by that nation. Yet the devotion of one's self to the locality in which one lives does not imply the sacrifice of international fraternity. The best way to touch the world was to touch the locality in which one lived. The ultimate result of such work was world-wide in its influence. "So patriotism," said the speaker, "not provincialism, is the promoter of one great idea today sweeping over the Southern States, consecration of Southern talents to the solving of Southern problems." "These problems, Mr. Lambeth said, were presented by industry, politics and religion. With its immense resources and rapidly increasing capital, the South was destined to become a manufacturing as well as an agricultural center. There was in progress in the South an industrial evolution, which was similar to that experienced by the North thirty years ago, and which demanded skillful direction to prevent a continuation of the war waged between labor and capital in the North.

RACE VS. RACE. "While this conflict was of the future, political conditions had already arrayed one race against another. Through misuse, the negro ballot had lost its sacredness in the eyes of the white man. The spirit which prompted America to fit the Filipino for self-government and not to give him something he could neither appreciate nor manage was the same which prompts the Southern white men to eliminate the incompetent negro vote. Fitness, ability, not aristocracy, not color, was to be the test of citizenship. "These industrial and political movements had led to the question: 'Will the church continue to hold its own in the South.' The preachers of the South, the speaker said, had a great opportunity. The South needed preachers who could keep the business men in the church, preachers who could implant the highest principles of conduct into those who were now giving shape to the industrial and civic life. "Mr. Lambeth closed by paying a tribute to the work of the South in up-building its lost fortunes, and appealing to the generation of the present day to continue the great work of the past."

AN ELOPEMENT IN WILSON. John Green, of Fayetteville, and Miss Sadie Davis, of Wilson. (Wilson Times.) Yesterday afternoon, while Mr. French Davis, a worthy carpenter, residing on Mr. Will Young's farm, near Wilson, was away from home his sixteen-year-old daughter, Miss Sadie, eloped with a man by the name of John Green, of Fayetteville, who has been here only about three weeks, and part of this time staying with Mr. Davis, during which time Miss Sadie became infatuated with Green. Last night we interviewed Mr. Davis, who was greatly disturbed over the elopement of his daughter, and was phoning over the country trying to find the runaway. He told us that he knew Green several years ago as a married man before Davis came to Wilson, and when he found that Green was paying attention to his daughter, he asked him about his wife. Green told him his wife was dead and that his intentions towards his daughter were honorable and he intended marrying her. Preparations were, however, not being made fast enough to suit Mr. Davis, who told the prospective groom to quit his messing and get a move on. Green informed him that his clothes were not such as a doting father-in-law should see adorn the person of the prospective partner of his daughter's joys and sorrows. So, Mr. Davis stood at Young's for the wedding garments and further informed Green that he could put up the money for the license if necessary. But talk of a license and the matrimonial tie made Green shudder, though the clothes were worn just to see how they would look and they certainly did make him appear sweeter in the eyes of his lady love. Last Thursday night Mr. Davis decided to bring things to a focus, when Green referred him to an undertaker at Maxton to prove that his wife was dead. However, before the night was over there was a general disagreement, and in the words of Mr. Davis, "He hasn't seen the scoundrel since." A letter from the undertaker says he knows nothing about either Green or his dead wife. Register of Deeds Wells says no license has been issued the couple here. In the meantime Mr. Davis is keeping the wires hot and swears he will kill Green on sight, and also the man who helped him steal his daughter.

NEW BUILDINGS PLANNED. Mrs. Florence Tucker and C. M. Bernard to Build Stores on Hargett Street. East Hargett street is to be greatly improved as a business centre, arrangements being in progress for a number of good stores to be built immediately by several parties. Ground was broken yesterday for the erection of a commodious building on Wilmington street, next to Royal & Borden's, to be occupied by Mr. Jesse G. Ball, who will have to vacate his present store on account of the Masonic Temple construction. The new building is to have forty feet front and very fine light. It is built by Mrs. Florence Tucker, who will also erect a second store just north of the one for Mr. Ball. Claude M. Bernard has plans for business buildings to be built immediately on the property he owns on East Hargett, between Wilmington and Blount streets, and it is said that Mr. W. B. Upchurch will possibly make changes in the buildings just back of Sherwood Higgs & Co.'s establishment. When the Masonic Temple construction begins Mr. Ball will move to Wilmington street. Mr. W. B. Mann will move into the store now occupied by S. W. Terrell & Sons, who will have excellent new quarters. There are no vacant stores in this city at this time and it is likely that additional buildings will be added to the list of improvements for the early future.
