TO CONSOLIDATE

Industrial Parliament and Southern Conference.

Governor Glenn yesterday announced that the Southern Industrial Parliament, of which he is president, will be merged into the Southern Conference on Quarantine and Immigration, of which Governor James I. Cox, of Tennessee, is president.

There will be no meeting of the Executive Committee or directors of the Parliament, as Governor Glenn says he has the authority to act, and will do so in conjunction with Governor Cox.

The objects of the two organizations are practically the same, the Conference having a wide scope, and dealing with more opportune and momentous questions.

The Conference is a permanent institution, and is recognized by the leading thinkers and papers of the South, the only opposition it receives being from the Manufacturers' Record, which claims the distinction of having "exposed" the Southern Industrial Parliament, which, it says, "might have been detrimental to the South."

The Record also vigorously opposed the Conference at Chattanooga, fearing that "the Conference in its enthusiasm for Southern progress might be misled.

STOP THIEF! AND A RACE.

Hitherarao! and Away! Rosy O'Grady Smitten His Opponent Chased Into a Fish Stall.

A negro sprinter in full course up Fayetteville street yesterday created diversion for a hundred or so of the populace who shouted and ran after with the instinctive spirit of the chase.

While, with the whites of his eyes distended, the negro broke all existing records for the distance over a pavement course, the crowd surged and cheered aimlessly and hopelessly in the rear. During the progress of the handicap, there were the usual cries on the part of the hysterically inclined of "murder", "Kill him," and, above all the old-time hue and cry of "stop thief!" Answering that cry and regardless of whether anything had been stolen or not, the pursuers joined in with a will, each man secretly wondering what he should do if, unfortunately, he should happen to catch up with the quarry.

The chase was a spectacular one, both for interest and the course on which it was marked out. It started on the corner of Wilmington and Exchange streets, swept past the dispensary at a rate far swifter than anyone passes that locality, turned up Fayetteville street with the multitude at its heels, switched at King's corner with a whirl which carried all the young ladies off their feet and ended in a fish stall. Thither the quarry, scared by the riot of noise in his rear had turned in refuge as a rabbit ducks into a hole, and thence he was pulled by the heavy footed police, the starters of the chase and, necessarily by reason of their impediment, the last to arrive of all the pursuers. A policeman taking exercise at a rate faster than the grand march being much put to it to preserve the dignity of his clothes.

All this started because the nigger had smitten one Rosy O'Grady, an ex-Confederate and ex-bridegroom and ex-pensioner. Rosy has a habit of being "ex." In his old age he sells matches that strike without making any fuss and whistles that blow with strange notes. Also pins needles and pencils which write for an inch and then peter out. Incidentally, it was alleged that, after smiting the countenance of O'Grady, the negro had attempted to rape him of his wares. The truth of this will be the subject of a learned decision in the police court, but the chase was the thing. It jarred a sleepy day into activity and made more than one appetite the keener for the ensuing meal.

When the police fished the fugitive from behind the rock muddle, he was hanging limp on the line and ready for the gaff. He was gobbled in the style with which pot hunters shoot birds on the ground. When one winds the police, he removes sentiment entirely.

AS TO MACADAMIZING.

President of Raleigh Electric Company Explains.

With respect to the criticism of the Raleigh Electric Company, that it had failed to macadamize the portions of the streets torn up by it in making repairs, President Andrews stated yesterday that the delay in replacing the streets in the condition in which the force found them was due primarily to the city of Raleigh, and in the second place, to delays in the shipment of stone which had been ordered by the company for the purpose of making such repairs as are necessary by reason of the repairing operations of the company.

When the repairs were started, said Mr. Andrews, the street car company made a proposition to the city to the effect that it would operate the city quarry, mine the necessary stone and transport it to the city and place it on the tracks in such places as it had been necessary to disturb the macadam. This proposition the city did not accept, asking that the company pay for the stone and pay also for the use of the machinery necessary to mine it. Afterwards the street car company made a contract with Mr. Linehan for the necessary stone and it is being shipped as rapidly as possible. Such as has arrived is being used to re-macadamize the new Hargett street line and as soon as the other comes in it will be devoted to replacing the city macadam torn up in other points where the car company has been making repairs.

SHIFT.

If Your Food Fails to Sustain You Change.

One sort of diet may make a person despondent, depressed and blue and a change to the kind of food the body demands will change the whole taing.

A young woman from Phil. says:

"For several years I kept in a run-down miserable sort of condition, was depressed and apprehensive of trouble. I lost flesh in a distressing way and seemed in a perpetual sort of dreamy night mare. No one serious disease showed, but the 'all-over' sickness was enough.

"Finally between the doctor and Father I was put on Grape-Nuts and cream as it was decided I must have nourishing food that the body could make use of.

"The wonderful change that came over me was not, like Jonah's gourd, the growth of a single night, and yet it came with a rapidity that astonished me. During the first week I gained several pounds in weight, my spirits improved, and the world began to look brighter and more worth while. And this has continued steadily, till now, after the use of Grape-Nuts for only a few weeks, I am perfectly well, feel splendidly, take a lively interest in everything, and am a changed person in every way." IN A NEW LINE.

Mr. Whitaker With Mecklenburg Company.

Mr. W. P. Whitaker, formerly manager of the Morning Post, has taken a position as advertising manager of the Mecklenburg Mineral Springs Company and the Mecklenburg Hotel Company, and will enter upon the performance of his duties at an early date.

Mr. Whitaker is a gentleman of wide experience in the work in which he is engaged and has a circle of acquaintances and friends extending throughout this and other States. In his relations with the public he has proven himself hail fellow well met and at the same time exhibited the rare quality of combining good-fellowship with strict attention to business. In the performance of his new duties, involving the wider advertisement of a meritorious and growing Southern enterprise, the hundreds of his friends feel that he will be more than capable.

Of a loyal nature, mellowed by a universal habit of friendship, Mr. Whitaker in his new work should accomplish the mutual result of good to the interests he represents and success to himself.

ON TO THE GAME.

The Football Event of the Year on Thanksgiving Day in Norfolk.

The Seaboard Air Line will run special trains to Norfolk to the big Thanksgiving football game between the Universities of North Carolina and Virginia. A big crowd is going.

Special trains will leave Raleigh at 7:00 and Durham at 6:50 on Thanksgiving morning, which is the 30th of November, and these will reach Norfolk about 11 o'clock. The fare from Raleigh and Durham is $3.00 for the round trip, and it is cheaper at points beyond these places.

At the Seaboard offices until November 20, tickets to the game can be bought by any one. After the 20th they will be sent to Norfolk. Buy your ticket early so as to avoid the rush in Norfolk.

A SPLENDID PERFORMANCE.

"When We Were Twenty-One" Is a First-Class Attraction.

Splendidly presented by a strong company was "When We Were Twenty-One" at the Academy of Music last night, and the audience was delighted at the beauty of the play and at the cleverness with which it was given.

The company is a strong one throughout, and each member adds to the play, and is a needed part of it. It is such a performance as to delight and instruct, and it leaves a good taste in the mouth after it is seen.

The company deserves the largest and best kind of patronage, for it gives a performance that merits this in every particular. It delighted the audience here and it carries with it the highest expressions of praise and approval.

VIRGINIA-CAROLINA.

Druggists of the Two States Form a Combine.

The druggists of North Carolina and Virginia have formed an organization which they call the South Atlantic Pharmacal Company, with headquarters in Richmond, Va.

The officers and directors represent some of the largest and best known druggists in the South, and they control more than 150 modern drug stores. It is the object of the concern to draw large trade from this State and Virginia, and the adjacent Southern States, and a manufacturing plant will be established in Richmond.

The president is F. A. Miller, of Richmond, and George K. Grantham, of Durham, is vice-president. C. D. Bradham, of New Bern, and P. E. Thompson, of Winston, are members of the executive committee.

PASS MESSAGES FREE.

Postal Co-operates With Movement in Behalf of the Russian Jews.

Manager W. J. Crews, of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company's office in Raleigh, yesterday received the following telegram from Superintendent G. W. Ribble:

"We will transmit free any telegrams relating to the subscription fund for the benefit of the Jews in Russia .If we are asked to transfer money this should be arranged by the persons interested through the banks and we will pass the message."

Little Dorothy Teachey Dead.

After a brief illness of three weeks of pneumonia little Dorothy Teachey, the two and a half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Teachey, died at her home here yesterday morning.

The little girl was sweet and attractive, and there were many who loved her. The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at half past four o'clock, being conducted by Rev. W. C. Tyree at the residence, 10 North Bloodworth street and the interment was in Oakwood cemetery. There is much sympathy felt for the bereaved family.

Progress Will Be Slow

Chief W. D. Hunter, of the National Department of Agriculture, head of the Bureau of Entomology, says that the progress of the boll weevil will be slow. This year it has gained only about ten or fifteen miles northward, but this gain gives it access to the Red River valley.

Chief Hunter believes the excessive rainfall last witner killed vast numbers of the insect, and this probably accounts for its slow progress this year.

Likes Carolina Methods.

That Norfolk officials like the North Carolina chain-gang system is shown by the resolution of the Norfolk County Board of Supervisors which passed a resolution favoring the installation of the system, after the visit here of Messrs. Lindsay, Sylvester and Widgeon, who came to Raleigh to study that system of road working.

IS UNPRECEDENTED

Number of Swine Raised in North Carolina.

Reports made to the National Department of Agriculture indicate that North Carolina is raising an unprecedented number of hogs, and the last figures prepared by the department show that this State is making rapid progress in this industry, which is prosperous and growing generally throughout the entire South, and affords a splendid insight into the real progress of the South in recent years.

There are now on the farms of North Carolina 1,058,146 hogs, and the number in other Southern States is as follows: Virginia, 767,163; South Carolina, 663,907; Georgia, 1,396,992; Alabama, 1,034,092; Mississippi, 1,087,780, and Kentucky, 1,011,516.

There are now on the farms in the United States 47,320,511 hogs, and of this number the South has 8,000,000. The total gain over 1904 for the United States is 321,144, and the States of North Carolina, Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Kentucky and Tennessee, which embrace not more than 12 per cent of the area of the United States get about 80 per cent of increase over 1904.

The increase in North Carolina means necessarily that more corn has been planted on which to feed the hogs, and get them ready for the markets, and they may indicate that the area of corn planting is shifting to the Southeast.

The most excellent region for stock raising from Virginia to Georgia, unsurpassed in America, is found lying to the eastward in this State, from Danville, Va., to Salisbury and Charlotte. In all the plateau region of North Carolina the land lies well for profitable stock raising on an extensive scale.

A LEADING PART.

Taken by Carolinians at Educational Meeting.

The Southern Educational Association and Association of Colleges will be held in Nashville, Tenn., November 22 to 24, and North Carolinians are more prominent on the programme than representatives from any other State.

Dr. Charles D. McIver, of the State Normal at Greensboro, is president of the Southern Educational Association, and Superintendent R. J. Tighe, of the city schools of Asheville, is secretary. Miss Edith Royster, of this city, is a member of the board of directors.

On November 22 Dr. McIver will deliver the annual address, and Mr. Tighe will render his report.

State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner will report on the educational progress North Carolina has made during the past year.

Dr. Henry Louis Smith, president of Davidson College, will deliver an address on: "A Plea for Some Old Ideals," and Dr. Edwin Mims, professor at Trinity College, will speak on: "What Should Be Done in Colleges and Universities for the Religious Training of Students?"

A new department of the association is that of Normal Instruction, and a large number of teachers will be present from North Carolina. Great interest has been shown in this department.

This will be the sixteenth annual meeting of the Southern Educational Association.

AT THE ACADEMY.

Pauline Hall in "Dorcas" Tonight, and Mabel Paige Tomorrow Night.

Tonight at the Academy of Music tonight the splendid performance of "Dorcas" tuneful and catchy is to be seen.

"Dorcas," the new opera by Harry and Edward Paulton, authors of "Erminie," is said to afford Pauline Hall the greatest opportunity of her career, both for the exploitation of her marvellous voice and the display of her unusual powers as an actress. Miss Hall's company is said to be one of the biggest and strongest musical organizations that has visited this section of the country in recent years. In the list of principals in her support known artists.

"Dorcas" has been mounted in the most sumptuous manner, gorgeously costumed and the performance in every way will be a notable one. The production will be here tonight at the Academy of Music.

Mabel Paige in "Cozy Corners."

Dear, dainty, delicious Mabel Paige is to be here on Saturday night and she is to be seen in that sweetest of all plays, "At Cozy Corners."

Miss Paige is among the most popular young artistes who visit Raleigh, and she has with her a company that is unusually strong. The play is a charming one, and appeals to all by its beauty and winsomeness. Miss Paige has many admirers in Raleigh and there is promise of a big house on Saturday night to greet that charming little lady.

State Board of Education.

The State Board of Education met yesterday afternoon to receive the report of the surveyors of the State's property in certain counties in Western Carolina. The Angola tract has 44,000 acres, the other tracts being considerably smaller.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

By GOVERNOR ROBERT BRODNAX GLENN.

It oft behooves a State, as well as an individual, to look at the past, that it may realize the mercies for which it has to be thankful, and to give expression to its gratitude by words and acts of praise.

If our State will take this backward glance, it will find that during the last year the measure of our mercies has been full to overflowing, and that our meed of praise should be given without stint.

In agricultural pursuits we have been blessed with fair crops, and prices for farm products have been above the average, until the farmer is enjoying a prosperity seldom before possessed. He is also gradually learning the lesson of diversifying his crops, making his own supplies, thus being able to hold his products for increased prices.

In industrial enterprises the growth of the State has been phenomenal, over one hundred more new plants being incorporated this year than last, and many of them capitalized for very large amounts.

Good dividends have likewise been declared on these investments, labor has been paid fair wages and given reasonable working hours, and prosperity abounds.

The settlement of our outstanding debt upon a just and honorable basis is indeed a great reason for thankfulness, as no unpaid obligations, that are honest, now remain.

There has been no strife between capital and labor, but peace and good-will exist between employers and employees. With only one exception, good order has been maintained throughout the State, and the majesty of the law has been upheld by the people and the courts.

No scourge of disease or pestilence has to any great extend visited our State, but, blessed with unusual health, we have been happy and prosperous.

Our colleges and schools were never in a more flourishing condition, and the educational awakening that now exists is but an earnest of greater power and wealth yet to be enjoyed.

Temperance and sobriety in all things are being practiced by our citizens, thus insuring industry, and the high morale of the State is a blessing beyond estimation. No graft, either in public or private business, has cursed our State.

These extended mercies, shown in every department of business, have made our growth a marvel and wonder to all, for our percentage of increase industrially, agriculturally, educationally and morally has equaled if not exceeded, the increase of any other State in the Union.

For the mercies so lavishly bestowed by a bountiful Creator, it is our duty to return heart-felt and grateful thanks, and to praise and magnify the name of the Author of our good.

To the end, therefore, that all shall have an opportunity of showing their love and gratitude, I, R. B. GLENN, Governor of North Carolina, do join with the President of the United States in setting apart and fixing as a day of general thanksgiving, prayer and rejoicing, during which day praise for the past mercies received, and guidance for our future, may be given as asked.

On this day I therefore earnestly request that all business of every kind be suspended and a general holiday granted, and that throughout the entire State the people gather in their accustomed places of worship and render thanks unto the Most High God for His manifold blessings during this year, and to consecrate ourselves anew to a life of industry and honor, and to His service.

I further specially recommend that on this day that all our people, as God hath prospered them, shall of their substance give to charitable and beneficent institutions, and especially to the widows and orphans.

I also beseech every one on this Thanksgiving Day, after they have given thanks, and while enjoying this holiday, that they do nothing unworthy of the reputation of the State, or that will dishonor God, but that they deport themselves as becometh good citizens and Christian people.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of North Carolina to be affixed.

Done in our City of Raleigh, this the 14th day of November, 1905, and in the one hundred and Thirtieth year of our American Independence.

R. B. GLENN,
Governor.

LAST GAME OF BALL

A. & M. Plays Tomorrow With Washington and Lee.

The A. and M. College and the strong team from Washington and Lee University will meet on the gridiron at the Fair Grounds Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This is the last game in Raleigh this season and the last chance local cranks will have to see a good football game for more than a year. The Washington and Lee team are strong this year and will be worthy opponents of the aggressive A. and M. boys.

Wilson and Steel for the A. and M. are in good condition and will give the spectators the pleasure of seeing more skilful football of the variety witnessed last Saturday. Tom Sykes, Beebee Shaw, and T. W. Gregory, Hardie Sykes and Perkins are all in splendid trim and waiting for the scrimmage.

Washington and Lee's men are big, heavy experienced fellows and have won many victories this year, W. P. I. only beating them 15 to 0. The game will be quick, aggressive, and snappy to the finish. A large crowd will be out as this is the last game in Raleigh this year.

The A. and M. band will be with the rooters to cheer the farmer boys towards victory.
